County Hospital Plan Cost Breakdown Refused Board

Frank E. Marsh refused yesterday to tell the Marin County Board of Supervisors the source of his figures on private operation of a hospital for the county.

He sent the supervisors a letter saying he's already spent $15,000 on working up a proposition to furnish 90 beds at $400 a month each, the cost figure subject to annual review and change if necessary. Overall cost of the project has been estimated at $665,000, he added.

"Some figures must be confidential," said Marsh, "so I don't feel that we should provide any additional information."

Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell asked the board for four policy decisions regarding the hospital:

1. Supervisors should determine, said Mitchell, "whether or not the county wishes to go out of the nursing home business."

2. Decision should be made as to whether it's desired to try such a deal as one proposed by F. Lloyd Grandi of Marvelous Marin Realty Co., for construction and lease-back over 20 to 25-year period.

3. Decision should be made as to whether the supervisors want to close present facilities "and farm the patients to private institutions, some within the county wherever beds may be available and some outside the county and throughout the state."

4. If construction of a new facility is planned, decisions are needed on number of beds, type to be built, and choice of an architect.

There are enough funds now available for investigation and planning during the present fiscal year, said Mitchell. Continuance of a 40-cent tax rate hitherto applied to civic center would allow construction to start next fiscal year with no increase in tax rate.

With only three members present, the board was unwilling to make any decisions, awaiting return today of Supervisor William Gnoss and return from Mexico of Supervisor George Ludy about two weeks hence.

Chairman William D. Fusselman told of accompanying county and state engineers to the hospital yesterday morning for preliminary check on temporary repair work needed to preserve its license past Dec. 31. He said state engineer Robert J. Barnecut will send the board a letter on the state's requirements.

Fusselman said he expected Barnecut to indicate the amount of strengthening required to keep the license temporarily, or to suggest the alternative of "farming out" patients, with a third possibility

Hollis Counts Self Out Of State Race

Plans Campaign For Re-election To County Post

VIRGIL S. HOLLIS
Counts self out

Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County superintendent of schools, will not be a candidate for state superintendent of public instruction next year, he announced today.

Hollis instead will undertake "a vigorous campaign to be re-elected county superintendent," he said.

Long mentioned as a possible candidate to succeed retiring State Supt. Roy A. Simpson, Hollis said "unavoidable personnel and organizational changes taking place in the Marin county schools office" make it imperative that he "work closely with the office staff to obtain the best possible results for the county school program." Thus he would not have time to campaign throughout California.

In recent months all three of Hollis' top assistants have changed. Asst. Supt. Richard D. Hinze resigned to take another position. He has been replaced by Edward R. Credell. Edwin L. Blackmore, has been reassigned as coordinator of rural education and secretary to the County Committee of School District Reorganization. Asst. Supt. Rudolph S. Kupfer has been hospitalized for four weeks and probably will not return to the job for many more weeks.

In announcing he will not

YOU CAN SURVIVE
There Will Be Time To Gather Family

(Seventh in a series)

By Prof. Willard F. Libby

It is night; families are sleeping.

Secretly, rocket missiles are fired and 30 minutes later they strike.

Of what use then, many people ask, is a family fallout shelter? Some give this doubt as a reason for doing nothing.

But the fact is you have one to several hours to assemble your family, to have your children run home from school, unless you are in the immediate blast area. Neither you nor I can predict whether we will be right under a bomb, and so have relatively little or no chance at all.

If children are in school, should they really run home if the locality has not been severely damaged, or is some distance from the blast?

My unequivocal answer is, yes. Provided you have a fallout shelter at your home. The really shocking fact is that practically no schools in the land have provided fallout shelters. Children have no place else to go but home, or to public shelters. Distraught parents would be wondering whether they were safe.

Nixon Calls For U.S. 'Policy Of Victory'

By CHAPIN A. DAY

There is "too much talk of the fear of war and not enough of the hope of peace."

There is "too much talk of the weakness of the United States and the strength of the Communist bloc, and too little of the strength of the United States and the weaknesses of the Communist bloc."

There is "too much talk about compromise, and not enough about victory for the United States and the forces of freedom."

These things Richard M. Nixon, former vice president of the United States, now a candidate for Republican nomination for governor of California, told a crowd of nearly 5,000 last night at San Francisco's Cow Palace.

We need a "policy of victory," Nixon declared, "not just compromise, but victory." This "is not war mongering. It is possible to have a strategy of strength without war. We must conscientiously attempt to find diplomatic and propaganda devices to explain that our aim is not just to defend freedom, but to expand it all over the world."

About half the crowd sat at long tables on the floor of the Cow Palace at a $100-a-plate dinner. The rest went just for the speech and sat in the bleachers behind the diners and opposite the speaker's platform.

Marin County came in for special mention from the general chairman of the Northern California Republican fund raising affair, Lindsey Spright. He praised Marin's finance

LAST LINK TO RUSSIAN RIVER PLACED

A ceremony in Petaluma today was great news for Novatans, threatened with a water shortage. The last section of a pipeline linking the North Marin Water District with Russian River water sources was put in place in downtown Petaluma, conveniently near the Veterans Memorial Building. Sonoma and North Marin officials lined up to watch the historic pipe-laying. Petaluma Mayor Everett Matzen is tall man in center of line-up, flanked by other officials. Marin's section of the line was completed several weeks ago, but delays had been encountered on the Petaluma section. The completion today was still nearly three months ahead of the original target date. (Independent-Journal photo)

Furnace Job 'Could Have Blown Up'

Another complaint against Holland Furnace Co. of San Francisco was reported by Corte Madera Building Inspector William G. McBride today on a job which a San Rafael contractor said "could have blown up."

McBride said Holland Furnace Co. installed a thermostat for a heater in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. White at 17 Palm Avenue, Corte Madera, for a price of $180 on Nov. 6.

'$75 AT MOST'

David Bartholow of Bartholow and Co. of San Rafael, sheet metal and heating contractors, said a high estimate for the thermostate would be "$75 at the most."

Bartholow, at request by McBride, went to the Corte Madera home and inspected the job yesterday. He reported the pressure regulator was not in the right place and the pilot light was improperly installed. He said one pipe connection was leaking so much the escaping gas would sustain a flame. "If enough leaking gas accumulated, it could have caused an explosion," he said.

PG&E REPAIRS

"The work was done by the Holland Furnace people in a hazardous manner. It was direct violations to the town's codes," said McBride.

McBride further reported that the White's next-door neighbor, Mario Granucci of 11 Palm Avenue, purchased a heater from Holland Furnace Co. on the same day, Nov. 6, at $670.44.

San Rafael Finally Gets Fiscal Budget

The City of San Rafael finally had a budget today for a fiscal year that will soon be half over.

The city council last night adopted a revised budget totaling $2,143,315—a cut of $353,000 from the amount that was budgeted (but not all spent) last fiscal year.

The total is up slightly from the $2,129,986 submitted earlier by City Manager Dan E. Andersen. The increase is accounted for by regular step increases in pay of city employees, plus new shortwave radios authorized for the public works department and an additional building inspector for seven months of the year, Andersen said.

ESTIMATE

This would leave little balance for upward revision of salaries, sought by employees but postponed by the council pending a detailed review of the salary structure. Councilmen last night agreed to hold a special meeting on salaries sometimes between now and Jan. 1.

Andersen called the $2,143,315 budget "realistic . . . free of padding." He noted that last year the council approved expenditures of nearly $2,500,000, but spending for the year totaled only $1,925,798.68.

LOWER FIGURE

"The lower figure for 1961-62 does not mean in any way that we have or are contemplating cutting present services or personnel," he said. "What it does mean is that members of the city council have only made allowance for items and projects which we know we can complete during the current year."

The city had a balance on hand on June 30 of $918,750.21, reported Andersen—a "kitty" into which the council may dip to raise salaries, and perhaps to build a new city hall.

Prison Narcotic Ring Is Revealed At San Quentin

A narcotics ring, involving at least three women and six San Quentin inmates, has smuggled quantities of narcotics, including $18,000 to $24,000 worth of heroin, into San Quentin Prison in the last six months, prison officials disclosed today.

Marijuana and peyote are also believed to have been smuggled into prison by women visitors since the operation began last March.

Associate Warden Louis A. Nelson said this is the longest continuous smuggling operation ever discovered at the prison.

About six ounces of heroin trickled into the prison, he said. Heroin sells for $500 on the outside, but prison officials said the going rate inside the prison is between $3,000 and $4,000 per ounce.

CHECK TIE-IN

Investigation also disclosed a bizarre connection between this ring and bad checks that turned up after the recent San Quentin art show. Prison officials originally suspected that outsiders had paid six checks, each for $100, which later bounced. The investigation of the dope ring disclosed that inmate Marion Wayne O'Dell, 26, had probably forged the checks and slipped them into the prison cash register in exchange for $600 in cash, Nelson said. This cash was used to pay for some of the smuggled dope, officials said.

O'Dell entered San Quentin in 1957 for rape in Sacramento County.

PEYOTE FOUND

The only drug found in the prison thus far was a button of peyote concealed in a special pocket inside the shoe heel of inmate Thomas Devers, 24, who is serving time for receiving stolen property in Alameda County.

On Nov. 6, San Quentin officials watched a woman visitor from behind a one-way mirror and saw her giving something to Devers. The prisoner slipped it inside his heel.

State narcotics agents found some heroin in an apartment of a woman in the East Bay which they said was to have been smuggled into the prison.

Since two of the three women are still at large, officials did not release the names of the three women suspects. One is from Los Angeles and the other two from the East Bay.

Seminary Student, Son Die In Crash

A Marin theology student and his 11-year-old-son were killed Sunday night in Solano County in a three-car crash involving a honeymoon couple and a youth en route home from visiting his girl friend.

Delmar A. Walker, 35, of Petaluma, a student at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry, and his son, Darrell, were killed in the crash. Walker's 13-year-old daughter, Priscilla, suffered a leg fracture and facial injuries.

The California Highway Patrol reconstructed the crash this way: Bert Crandall, 26, of Antioch, was headed home on State Route 12 after visiting a girl friend in Petaluma. As he rounded a curve at Sears Point, his car crashed head-on with one driven by Max E. Carpenter, 21, of San Francisco, in which Carpenter and his bride, Tami, were en route home from their honeymoon.

Crandall's car went off the road, careened back on and struck Walker's auto, knocking it off the highway. Walker was thrown into the rear seat. Priscilla was trapped under the instrument board. Darrell was crushed between front and back seats.

Crandall suffered fractures of leg, ankle, hip and pelvis, internal injuries and numerous cuts. Mrs. Carpenter suffered

Improvement Clubs Ask Hospital Probe

Reporting to the group was Dr. Bruce Merrill of Belvedere, former chairman of a Marin Council for Civic Affairs committee which investigated the county hospital situation.

The federation also voted to notify the Marin County Planning Commission that it supports the policy of "open air zoning" approved by the planners. The zoning policy is intended to preserve green belts within the county.

Unanimous disapproval of "sub-standard subdivisions" for Point Reyes was voted by the federation. Gilbert Darroch, federation chairman, said the group would notify the board of supervisors it objects to supervisors' approval of subdivisions which have been rejected by the county planning commission.

Quentin Felon Climbs Fence To Outside

A 26-year-old convict from San Diego on an attempted robbery conviction climbed a five-foot chain link cattle fence beside the San Quentin Prison quarry and escaped this morning.

Richard G. Heriford had been working at the quarry on the hill beside the prison and his absence was noted at 10:30 check. He had been an inmate since June 8 of last year.

Described as five feet eight inches and 145 pounds in weight, he has hazel eyes, ruddy complexion, brown hair and was wearing prison blue denims and shirt.

Lumumba Executed, U.N. Group Says

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A U.N. investigating commission expressed belief today Patrice Lumumba, former Congo premier, was executed last January in the presence of high Katanga officials, including Premier Moise Tshombe.

The commission described as "staged" the account by Katanga officials that Lumumba and two other associates were killed by tribesmen Feb. 12.

On the contrary, the commission said, it accepts as substantially true evidence indicating Lumumba and his associates were killed Jan. 17 after their arrival in a villa not far from Elisabethville, the Katanga capital.

It was not until Feb. 13 that the Katanga radio first announced death of the fiery Congolese leader.

Considerable doubt was voiced at the time over the veracity of the announcement and the commission's findings substantiated claims that Lumumba had been put to death long before his death was announced.

The U.N. General Assembly established the commission last April upon recommendation by the security council. Its members were Justice Aung Khine of Burma, Ato Tashoma Heilemariam of Ethiopia, Dr. Salvador Martinez de Alva of Mexico and Maitre Ayite de'Almeida of Togo.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Charles Is 13

LONDON (UPI) — Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, celebrated his 13th birthday today and looked forward to long pants and late shows on television.

When a British youth turns 13, he usually earns the right to look at television after 9:25 p.m.—the moment when British stations begin broadcasting the juicier dramas and bloodier westerns which do not bear the roy seal of approval for child audiences.

His first teen-age year also may see Charles leaving Cheam School and entering Eton or another of Britain's elite public schools.

2 Safe In Crash

CINCINNATI (UPI)—A DC-4 airplane crashed and burned early today while attempting to land at the greater Cincinnati airport but the pilot and co-pilot—the only persons aboard —walked away from it.

The four-engine cargo plane was owned by Zantop Lines. Airport authorities said the plane was en route from Detroit, carrying freight for General Motors Corp.

Authorities said the plane fell short of the runway and caught fire in a heavily wooded area in Boone County, Ky.

Desegregation

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Another 36 school districts have been desegregated this fall in Southern and border states. So far there has been none of the racial violence which has flared every other year since the Supreme Court's segregation ruling in 1954.

Of the 6,599 public school districts in the 17-state area, 829 are now desegregated, Southern Schools News reported in the November issue. Integration also has increased at the university, college and teacher levels, the publication said.

Most recent school districts to begin desegregation are in Florida, Kentucky and Delaware.

Brown Still Ill

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has canceled all appointments for the remainder of this week because of recurring ill effects from an attack of flu.

The governor was advised yesterday by his personal physician to take the week off.

Brown, 56, telephoned his doctor from here, saying that he still felt ill from the flu attack that struck him first Nov. 4 and forced him to bed for a day.

The governor said that he would spend the remainder of the week at his rented home here.

Lucy To Marry

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedienne Lucille Ball has revealed what many of he rfriends have suspected for some time—that she'll wed comic Gary Morton, a man she met on a blind date.

The bouncy actress, whose 20-year marriage to Desi Arnaz ended in divorce in May 1960, said last night that a quiet ceremony will be held here Sunday with the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale officiating.

Her mother and two children and a dozen or so friends will attend, she said.

Mamie Is 65

The former president and his wife are spending a 10-day to three-week vacation at "Mamie's Cottage," a plush house on the edge of the Augusta National Golf Club course.

Biddle Services

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr. will be buried Thursday with military honors in Arlington National Cemetery.

Biddle, 64, U.S. envoy to Spain, died yesterday in Walter Reed Army Hospital of a heart attack. He had been under treatment for lung cancer since his return from Madrid a month ago.

Rayburn Condition

BONHAM, Tex. (AP) — Sam Rayburn is fighting a valiant battle against cancer and the hours or days his doctors gave him to live are stretching on.

Last Saturday, Dr. Joe A. Risser said it would be only a matter of hours or days for the 79-year-old speaker of the house. Then Rayburn was a bit better Sunday.

Yesterday he was a little worse.

Motherwell Case

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An appeals court decision reducing the conviction of Larry Lord Motherwell from first to second degree murder has been upheld by the State Supreme Court.

The court last Wednesday in a 6-1 decision denied the state attorney general's request for a hearing.

The state had contended that the appellate court ruling went against precedent and would cause confusion.

Flood Victims

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Flood waters today hampered rescue work along a 120-mile stretch of Pacific Coast where at least 80 persons reportedly died in a fierce weekend tropical storm.

The death toll was reported from the village of Nuxco, north of Acapulco.

Fasters Moved

PARIS (AP)—Mohammed Ben Bella, vice premier of the Algerian rebel regime, and two associates were placed in a Paris hospital under heavy guard today after the government forcibly removed them from a prison where they launched a protest fast 12 days ago.

A doctor reported that the three were in poor health as a result of their hunger strike. French authorities said there was no cause for alarm over their condition.

Bus Wreck Hurts 23

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—A Greyhound bus veered from a rain-slick highway three miles north of here today and smashed into a tree. Twenty-three persons were injured, one seriously.

Russia Doesn't Want War, Nehru Declares

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India, 72 years old today, says he is convicted Russia does not want war.

He thinks "war is unlikely in the foreseeable future."

He will not have fallout shelters built in India.

He made these comments before flying to Mexico City today after a nine-day visit to the United States, and talks with President John F. Kennedy.

Nehru told about 1,700 persons at a Los Angeles World Affairs Council dinner last night that he was certain Russia and its leaders did not want a war for these reasons:

"They are doing well. Their people are tired of privation. They want the good things of life."

Earlier, he told a news conference that Russia and Red China differed in that the Soviet Union "is by and large a satisfied country—almost, one might say, a conservative country."

He admitted, however, he "found it difficult to explain" Russia's satellite expansion.

Nehru drew applause with the remark:

"A strong country does not lose its strength in gentle approaches. The strength remains."

He reiterated his "shock" at the Soviet resumption of nuclear tests and said that although India tries to be friendly with all nations, "this does not mean we are governed by fear of Russia or China.

"On the whole, I think I can say we don't suffer from any fear complex."

Nehru said the way to a solution of the Berlin crisis "is gradually opening out."

But he criticized the Russian policy of keeping news of its resumption of nuclear tests from the Soviet people.

"I dislike this kind of functioning of government — not letting people know," he said, adding this kind of policy "apparently holds true in many things" in Russia.

U.N. Censures South Africa For Apartheid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — South Africa today had weathered twin moves to expel her from the United Nations and place her under a worldwide political-economic boycott. But her white supremacy policies were condemned by a resounding 72-2 vote.

The 103-nation special political committee voted 47-32 yesterday for the demand by 30 Asian-African nations to get the Security Council to consider ousting South Africa from the United Nations. The vote fell short of the two-thirds majority required for approval by the General Assembly.

The same fate befell the boycott call by the 31 sponsors. It was approved by the slim margin of 48-30.

The censure resolution by India and seven other nations denounced South Africa's apartheid policy of strict race segregation and asked member nations to take whatever action they deemed fit, individually or collectively. Only Portugal and South Africa voted against it, but there were 27 abstainers, including the United States, Britain and France.

The denunciation of apartheid was similar to a resolution approved by the assembly last year after a boycott proposal failed to get a two-thirds majority.

This time the committee tacked on three amendments which, since they did not get two-thirds majorities, probably will not clear the assembly. The Western powers had announced they would abstain in the vote on the resolution if the amendments were approved.

One, by Ethiopia, asked the Security Council to consider what steps should be taken against South Africa. Another, by the Soviet Union, calls for an embargo on arms to South Africa, and a Pakistani amendment calls for an oil embargo.

The vote came after three weeks of stormy debate during which South African Foreign Minister Eric Louw contended that expulsion of his country would be "the beginning of the end" of the United Nations.

The United States and Britain voted against both the boycott and expulsion resolutions.

U.S. delegate Francis T. P. Plimpton said the United States strongly opposes South Africa's policies but could not support such drastic measures.

East German Reds Rub Stalin Out

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany staged a blitz de-Stalinization during the night, renaming East Berlin's showplace boulevard and removing its statue of Stalin and countless other memorials to the late Soviet dictator.

This morning only workmen and debris remained as bulldozers cleared the square where East Berlin's bronze statute had stood since shortly after World War II.

Stalinallee, the broad, three-mile avenue that is East Berlin's main street, had fresh name signs—Karl Marx Allee —for half its length and Frankfurter Allee was the street's name before the Russians occupied East Berlin.

Stalinstadt, a major East German iron and steel town on the Oder River, was renamed Eisenhuettenstadt, or iron foundry town, according to a small front-page announcement in Neues Deutschland, organ of the East German Communist party.

The dictator's name-changing was the first concrete sign of deStalinization in East Germany since condemnations of the dictator were made public from the Soviet Communist party congress last month and his body was removed from Lenin's tomb in Moscow's Red Square.

East Germany's regime is dominated by Communists of the Stalinist variety, led by Chief of State Walter Ulbricht. But Neues Deutschland on Sunday, in an article denouncing Stalin, asserted at great length that Ulbricht had never developed a personality cult or committed other Stalinist crimes.

Socialists Walk Out As Adenauer Sworn In

BONN (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his new cabinet were sworn into office in parliament today in ceremonies marred by the walkout of angry opposition Socialists.

Bundestag (lower house) Speaker Eugen Gerstenmaier opened the session by announcing he would first swear Adenauer into office.

A Socialist deputy demanded the order of business be changed.

The Socialists returned to their seats after the oaths of office were taken.

The Socialists demanded that the government's inaugural policy declaration be delivered immediately after the swearing-in ceremony. Adenauer has postponed the declaration until he returns from his talks in Washington with President John F. Kennedy.

Slayer Of 6-Year-Old Girl Goes To His Death

SAN QUENTIN (AP)—Richard Lindsey, a roustabout who craved women, liquor and cars, died calmly today in the state gas chamber for raping and killing a 6-year-old girl with the help of his pregnant sixth wife.

Blonde, blue-eyed Rose Marie Riddle, who fainted at the least excitement because of a congenital heart ailment, was lured to her death last Jan. 12 from a labor camp at Shafter, Kern County.

Lindsey, a 31-year-old ex-convict entered the green walled chamber at 10:02 a.m. The deadly pellets were released at 10:03 into a pan under the chair to which he was strapped. He was pronounced dead at 10:12 a.m.

Lindsey's common-law wife, Dixie Elaine, 23, who gave birth to a son two months after the crime, is serving two life terms for laying open Rose Marie's skull with a tire iron after Lindsey raped and choked the little girl.

Both Lindsey and his wife pleaded guilty.

Mississippi-born Lindsey had behind him mental hospital and prison records in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas when he came with his 208-pound pregnant wife into the labor camp where little Rose Marie lived with her parents in a trailer.

The camp was at Shafter, 20 miles northwest of Bakersfield in south-central California. Rose Marie's father, Everett, has brought his wife and two daughters there from Arizona so he could work as a farm migrant.

Lindsey told his wife he needed sex. They drove around in their car until they spotted little Rose Marie. She got into the car when offered a dollar to do some washing for Mrs. Lindsey.

Then they drove to a remote field, and Lindsey raped the little girl in the car while his wife sat in the back seat.

Then the wife grabbed a two-foot-long tire iron and struck the girl 19 times.

Three days after the crime, the Lindseys were captured in Alameda County, and the next day Lindsey led officers to the body, 55 miles northwest of Bakersfield.

March 22, Mrs. Lindsey was removed from the Kern County jail to a hospital where she gave birth to a 6 pound 3 ounce boy, later given in custody to her mother, Mrs. James Cheshire, of Clarksville, Tex.

On May 15, with her husband on hand from San Quentin's Death Row to testify, Mrs. Lindsey abruptly pleaded guilty and was given two life sentences. She is at Corona prison for women.

'Realistic' Foreign Policy Is Asked By Busterud

A "more realistic" foreign policy is the most important requirement for the United States government today, Assemblyman John R. Busterud of Santa Rosa yesterday told the Awareness Group, a Mill Valley organization of women interested in national and world affairs.

"Unless we can preserve freedom we won't have anything to argue about, and I believe the Republicans have a far stronger position on national defense," said Busterud, who is an incumbent San Francisco assemblyman reportedly planning to seek the Republican nomination for Congress from the First District.

Busterud discussed the principles of the Republican party, which, he said, "while far from a perfect vehicle, is the closest to the perfect vehicle for achieving a responsible program with stability and emphasis on individual rights."

Ex-San Anselman Gets Jail Term

Gerald Everett Martin, also known as Allister Sutherland, 39, formerly of 1520 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, was sentenced to state prison yesterday by Marin Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. for car theft.

Martin last July took a car belonging to his wife and sold it without the pink slip. He was captured in Omaha. Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said Martin had been deported several times to his native Canada.

Judge Sims ordered him "paroled for deportation as soon as advisable."

Private Air Strip Gets Approval

The strip, operated on leased land by 10 individuals who operate eight aircraft, is not a public airport and as such does not fall under the commission's control, the commission ruled at a meeting in San Rafael.

The 10 operators must not allow others to use the field, must conduct no business enterprise of any type and must see the landing strip is suitably X-ed out so a passing flier will know he is not permitted to land, the commission said.

Commissioners were told by W. J. Barnard, their field representative, that one complaint had been lodged against noise from the field.

After inspecting it in the afternoon, the commissioners told the operators, including Jack and Nathan Blumenfeld, who were present, they would have to increase the size of the yellow Xs on the runways and "keep their noses clean" to continue operating as a private strip.

A bird's eyesight is generally sharper and capable of reaching farther than that of any animal.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Public bus transportation came to a stop in this Midwest city of 750,000 persons today when bus drivers went on strike in a wage dispute with Kansas City Transit Inc.

Corte Madera Rejects Sign Size Request

A request by Western Oil and Gas Assn. to amend the Corte Madera town ordinance regulating sign sizes for service stations was turned down by the town planning commission last night after public hearing.

Present ordinance calls for sign size to be determined by the size of the building. The request asked the size be determined by the size of the lot.

After another public hearing, the commission approved changing the town ordinance concerning hearings and appeals to conform to recent changes made by the state legislature.

The commission set over a public hearing on changing the ordinance for temporary real estate signs to the Dec. 11 meeting. A committee report from commissioners Harold S. Wagstaff and C. W. Thomas on off-street parking was put over to the Jan. 5 meeting.

The commission set a public hearing for Nov. 29 on an appeal from the board of adjustments by J. Guilder and Co. of San Rafael, who seek to construct two small houses on a 6,013-square foot lot at 117 Redwood Avenue. The request was turned down by the board of adjustments because of setback violations.

The commissioners, after receiving a report from Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow on subdivision fees and town expenses, decided to keep the fees at the same rate. Brandow said the fees cover the expenses of office work.

The commission set an adjourned meeting for Nov. 29 to discuss the plan of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District which was sent to councilmen and planning commissioners.

Adult Classes Slated For Marin City

Marin City's adult education program is set tentatively to begin Jan. 3 in Manzanita School, Sausalito School District trustees were told last night.

Classes, under Tamalpais High School direction, would be given in subjects such as arithmetic, English and history. Supt. Marcus F. Davis said, "A great deal of interest has been evidenced in Marin City and it is anticipated that enrollment will be satisfactory."

Trustees also:

1. Granted maternity leave to begin in January to Mrs. Bernadette Baraty of 112 West Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, who teaches second grade at Manzanita School.

2. Appointed a committee to meet with the Marin County Redevelopment Agency to discuss possibility of additional elementary school buildings on the Marin City school site.

3. Appointed trustee Minnie Sievers as delegate to the California School Boards Assn. meeting in San Francisco Dec. 6-8.

4. Announced the board's next regular meeting will be Nov. 27 in the district office.

Chinatown Figure Gets Life Term

Fook shot and killed George Quan, 56, president of the Four Families Assn. at a meeting in which the pair quarreled over rentals charged for buildings owned by the association.

He was also given an indeterminate sentence for assault in the shooting of Peter Kwan, 52, another officals, the same evening.

Czech Archbishop Matocha, 73, Dies

VIENNA (UPI) — Czechoslovakia's Archbishop Josef Karel Matocha of Olomouc, the country's highest-ranking Roman Catholic prelate, has died, the Czech newspaper Lidova Demokracie announced today.

Archbishop Matocha, who refused to take an oath of allegiance to the Czech Communist regime and was put under house arrest in late 1949, was 73. The newspaper gave no details of his death.

Mrs. Langford Is Hospitalized

Mrs. C. W. Langford of Bayside Acres, wife of the former assistant tax collector-treasurer for the county, entered San Rafael General Hospital last night with a leg infection.

Langford, who retired from his county job a year ago last September, said his wife may need an operation. He said the infection probably developed from an injury suffered in a fall several days ago.

School Annex Move Urge Of Novatans

Novato School District Trustees Earl Marshall and William Kirk last night urged the Committee Against Unification and for Annexation to start getting petitions signed for annexation of San Jose School District to the Novato district.

Kirk said that if they get enough petitions, in case the unification election fails, they could force the Marin County supervisors to decree annexation. He said normally it would take an election but if sufficient number signed the annexation petition, the county committee for school district organization could recommend it to the supervisors.

A public hearing would be held, and if there were no opposition, the supervisors could decree the annexation.

He asked Mitchell, "What did you ask that Marsh couldn't supply us with?" Mitchell said he'd requested a breakdown on cost estimates.

"He gave absolutely no information," added Mitchell, "and apparently feels that it's confidential in nature."

There was considerable debate about Marsh's stipulation of review of charges annually. Fusselman said "we might be stuck." But Supervisor J. Walter Blair declared, "You can't get a flat charge from anybody over 20 years."

"I urge my supporters to start a draft for Dr. Rafferty," Hollis declared. Rafferty has not announced himself a candidate for the state superintendency.

Hollis promised a vigorous campaign for re-election, but he indicated that for the same reasons he could not take time out of his Marin work to run for state office, that he would not launch his re-election bid until well after the first of the year.

U.S. Comtroller Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy named James J. Saxon of Wilmette, Ill., today to be comptroller of the currency succeeding Ray M. Gidney who has been at odds with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy over bank mergers.

Mobile Home Rezoning Approved In Novato

Against neighborhood opposition and planning staff recommendations, the Novato Planning Commission last night approved mobile home rezoning for John C. Brown on 10.29 acres east of Railroad Avenue between Cherry and Peach streets.

About 15 residents of the area opposed the rezoning. They also had opposed a similar request by previous owners Gus Ravetz and Donald Plowman last year.

The county planning staff, which does planning work for Novato, recommended against rezoning, noting that the existing master plan shows the area for single and multiple family development.

The commission's approval will go to the city council on Nov. 28.

The request by A. H. Tresch for rezoning from residential to commercial of 5.5 acres on the west side of South Novato Boulevard opposite Joan Avenue was also granted.

The commission asked the planning staff to prepare an ordinance that would establish a zone for commercial use only, not allowing any residential building in it, as the present law does. This is to be ready by Dec. 11.

The Seventh-Day Adventist Church may build a church, related facilities and an elementary school on the south side of Novato Boulevard west of Grant Avenue, the commission decided.

Ralph J. and Gladys A. Weseman were granted permission to construct an addition to an existing medical-dental building without furnishing the minimum required parking spaces. This is on the northeast corner of Grant Avenue and Fourth Street.

The tentative map of Kirstin Hills Subdivision was approved. This is a 2½ acre subdivision north of Novato Creek and east of Simmons Lane.

No Crab—Boats Still Argue Price

The season's first crabs, due today, failed to arrive.

More than 100 boats lay idle in San Francisco Bay while packers and fishermen argued over the price of the delicacies as the fishing season went into its second day.

Al Spadero, president of the Crab Boat Owners Assn. in San Francisco said the fishermen could not break even at 18 cents. Fishermen and packers were in session today with no indication of a break in the stalemate.

Frank Alioto, wholesaler and spokesman for the packers, said, however, that the dispute would probably be settled at 20 cents.

"It looks rough," said S. J. Sturiale, head of the Sturiale Fish Co. in Sausalito, at whose dock six Sausalito boats were tied up. Sturiale, largest Marin County buyer of crabs, said that last year the price started at 16 cents and worked up to 30 cents at the end of the season. "Supply and demand will eventually set the price," he said.

Blind Teacher Ordered To Pay Support Of Son

Fletcher Hicks, a blind teacher at San Rafael High School, went into Marin Superior Court yesterday with his guide dog and was ordered to make regular monthly payments to support his 8-year-old son.

Mrs. Lilly G. Hicks, who got a final decree of divorce from him last January, complained that he had not kept up his support payments.

Judge Richard M. Sims found Hicks in contempt of court and continued the case until next March 5 on these conditions: Hicks must pay $60 monthly support until next March and pay $150 in fees for her attorney. From next March, he must continue paying $50 per month for back payments.

Hicks remarried last June. He and his present wife are both working.

Tiburon Chamber Elects Officers

Also elected were:

The chamber voted to limit voting membership to those engaged in commercial activities.

Guilty Plea In Whisky Case

Isadore Biess, 37, auto salesman of 760 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, pleaded guilty in federal court in San Francisco today to possession of 35 cases of stolen whisky, and Judge Alfonse Zirpoli set Dec. 7 for sentence.

Biess, free in $250 bail, is accused of receiving the whiskey from Henry J. Pickette, 22, of San Francisco.

Pickette has been sentenced to four years in prison on a mail theft charge and three years on the liquor theft to run concurrently. Pickette was charged with stealing the whisky after breaking into box cars.

Woman Dies Of Burns At Stinson Home

A retired school teacher died of burns and suffocation in a fire in her home on the Embarcadero in Stinson Beach today.

Mrs. Myrtle Davidson was found dead in the cottage when Stinson Beach firemen arrived in response to an alarm at 11:30 a.m. A resuscitator was rushed to the home but she was found to be beyond help.

Fire Commissioner E. C. Hubbard said bedding caught fire, apparently from a cigarette, on a cot on which Mrs. Davidson lay in the living room.

The blaze gutted the living room before it was extinguished by a dozen volunteers who responded to the alarm.

Mrs. Davidson reportedly taught school in Sacramento before she retired and moved to the Stinson Beach cottage.

Tomales Bay Report Due

Marin County Soil Conservation District directors were told yesterday that a preliminary report on sedimentation of Tomales Bay would be completed in March.

The survey, being conducted by the civil engineering firm of George S. Nolte of San Rafael, would determine to what extent the bay is filling in, soil conservationist Clair Leavitt said. A final report is due sometime in May. The $1,000 survey is being financed jointly by the county and state.

Leavitt said a seeder, recently purchased by the district, is available for use by ranchers. The district office is located in the Grandi Co. Building at Point Reyes Station.

YOUR VOICE TRAVELS 30 MILES WHEN YOU CALL FROM MILLBRAE TO RICHMOND

It's a long distance, but this phone call costs 15% less than Long Distance rates

HERE'S WHY: Although your call from Millbrae to Richmond travels as far as many Long Distance calls, you pay less than Long Distance rates. This call, like most calls to other communities in the Bay Area, is measured in message units. The number of message units depends on how far you call and how long you talk. The message units are combined on your bill instead of each call being itemized. This costs less for bookkeeping, so you pay less for these calls.

If you need an occasional call itemized, place it through the operator as a station-to-station call. The charge will appear separately on your bill at regular long distance rates without the 15% saving. Or you can have all these calls itemized for a small extra charge. AT WHITE HOUSE — Pablo Casals (right), 84-year-old cellist stands with Alexander Schneider, violinist of the Budapest String Quartet, in the diplomatic reception room of the White House where Casals last night gave a concert. (AP Wirephoto)

AFTER 57 YEARS

Casals Plays Again For U.S. President

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the second time-in a span of 57 years-the charm of Pablo Casals' cello echoed in the White House.

Leaders of the music world, invited to hear him, viewed the performance as a triumph, too, for President John F. Kennedy who had made the rare performance possible.

The emphasis was on music and a salute to the arts as Casals performed in the glittering East Ballroom after a formal state dinner honoring Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico.

"I thought it was marvelous. I was deeply moved by the entire occasion—not simply by the music of Casals but by the company in which it was played," said composer-conductor Leonard Bernstein.

Bernstein, conductors Leopold Stokowski and Eugene Ormandy and composers Gian Carlo Menotti and Aaron Copland were among the many representatives of the music world included among the 153 guests the Kennedys invited to the dinner.

Introducing Casals, President Kennedy cited the Spanish-born cellist as a man who demonstrated in his own life that "an artist must be a free man."

Casals, in a moral protest against the dictatorship of Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain, has refused to play in public in any country which recognizes the Franco government. He has made himself an exile from the land of his birth.

Although the United States recognizes Franco, Casals accepted Kennedy's invitation to play a return engagement at the White House where he last performed in 1904, during Theodore Roosevelt's administration.

Roosevelt's daughter, Alice Longworth, who was present at the 1904 concert, attended last night.

Positive Approach Is Asked To Teaching About Reds

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Dr. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, yesterday told a newly appointed 13-member advisory committee he wants a positive approach to the teaching about communism and democracy in public schools.

"This is our opportunity," Simpson said, "to focus the eyes of our youth on the ideals of our country." He said he wanted any such program to stress the values of American Democracy.

The committee met yesterday to explore the problems involved in the state's current push to teach high school students about communism and democracy.

Dr. Richard Clowes, chief of the state division of instruction, said public mail has been heavily in favor of the department's proposal.

He said he hopes the course will not be mandatory, as it is in Louisiana and some other states.

Committee member Louis Rubin, consultant to Ventura County schools, pointed out that even if a sane program is prepared, it will run into trouble if it isn't accepted by some of the country's major pressure groups. He cited the American Legion as an example.

Mill Valley Police Mileage Doubles

Mileage for the Mill Valley Police Department since it has reorganized the special police reserve officers last spring has practically doubled, City Manager A. E. Almcrants said today.

There were 23,822 miles travelled between May and October of 1960 as compared with 45,755 between May and October of this year.

Almcrants said "patrolled miles" are very important to a community since they indicate the extent of police coverage.

Ordination Of Women As Rabbis Is Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Reform Jews were urged today to approve ordination of women as rabbis.

The proposals was made by Jane Evans, executive director of the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, the major women's organization in Reform Judaism.

The National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods is holding its biennial assembly here, in conjunction with the Assembly of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. About 5,000 Jewish leaders from 630 reform temples in the United States and Canada are participating in the dual meetings, which will continue through Thursday.

"The time has now come," Miss Evans said, "for the Sisterhoods to take a definite stand" on asking Reform seminaries "to ordain women as rabbis, when they are properly qualified and upon completion of the identical course of study with men."

All three branches of Judaism — Reform, Conservative and Orthodox — now have a strictly male rabbinate. Miss Evans said she realized that ordination of women would be "unacceptable" to Conservative and Orthodox groups, but she hoped that the Reform branch would express its "liberal spirt" by granting full equality to women.

She asked the Sisterhoods to "study the matter" during the next two years, with a view to ward adopting a definite resolution on ordination of women and at their next assembly in 1963.

International Deficit Is Climbing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. deficit in international payments which has climbed to an annual rate of three billion dollars may grow worse next spring before it gets better, government sources indicated today.

Administration officials do not expect anything like last year's speculative assault on the dollar, however, because measures already undertaken in its defense should by then be showing some results.

One major cause of the looming payments trouble, in fact, may be the rising prosperity of the United States, resulting in larger dollar outlays for imported goods and materials. This comes at a time when a business slowdown in Germany, England and Japan may cause their purchasers here to decline.

The new balance of payments figures were issued yesterday by the Commerce Department. They showed that U.S. payments abroad were nearly 800 million dollars greater than its receipts from foreign countries in the third quarter of the year.

2 Sentenced For Disturbing Peace

Theresa Bernadette Bernard, 23, and Joyce Frances Meyers, 22, of 2575 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, were sentenced in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to three days in the county jail for disturbing the peace, being intoxicated and resisting arrest.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Thomas T. Storer said Fairfax police went to the pair's apartment early yesterday after a call that there was a fight there. Police charged Miss Bernard kicked one officer while Miss Meyers threw a beer can at another.

In court the young women, both clad in black leotards and black sweaters, pleaded guilty but contended the row had been between them and two young men who at first refused to leave.

Firm Claims Big Losses If Santa Fe Wins

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The president of a firm which furnishes refrigerator cars to Western Pacific Railroad through a company owned jointly by Union Pacific and Southern Pacific said yesterday his firm would lose $200,000 worth of business annually if Santa Fe gains control of Western Pacific.

Robertson said the Bangor railway now furnishes refrigerator cars to Pacific Fruit Express—owned by U.P. and S.P. —for use by Western Pacific.

Santa Fe has contended that it could save two million dollars a year by furnishing its own refrigerator cars to W.P.

This contention was hit earlier yesterday by A. E. Chiasson, general manager for Pacific Fruit Express. Chiasson said there would be no savings but only a transfer to Santa Fe of payments Western Pacific now makes to his firm.

$40 Is Lost From Auto

Steven Robert Bennett Jr. of San Pablo, owner of the Bowler's Shop at 840 B. Street in San Rafael, told police last night he had lost $40 out of his car between his store and his home.

The money was packed in boxes in the back seat of his car, along with invoices and other items, he told police. When he arrived home the money was missing.

Retracing his route, he said he found the boxes beside the road at the Francisco Boulevard underpass. The money was missing.

Bread May Rise

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American consumer may have to pay a penny more a loaf soon for bread, according to some industry officals. This price would come despite the record 1.4 billion bushels of wheat stockpiled in federal warehouses. Bakery officials say very little of this wheat is suitable for bakery use.

HELSINKI REPORTS

Neutral Finn Foreign Policy Asked By Russ

HELSINKI (UPI) — The Soviet Union has asked Finland for assurances that it will maintain a neutral foreign policy, the Finnish government announced today.

The disclosure was made in a short government summary of Moscow talks between Finnish Foreign Minister Ahti Karjalainen and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The two foreign ministers conferred on the Soviet note of Oct. 30 which called for joint defense consultations under terms of a 1948 mutual assistance and friendship agreement between Russia and Finland.

Informed parliamentary sources said earlier that Gromyko made no military demands in his weekend talks with the Finnish foreign minister.

Kennedy Will Pledge Aid In Principle To S. Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Chung Hee Park, leader of the military junta that seized power in South Korea, was to open his talks with President John F. Kennedy today with a request for strong U.S. economic support and additional military aid.

U.S. officials said Kennedy will pledge American aid in principle and approve a plan to modernize South Korea's 600,000-man armed forces.

The groundwork for Park's meeting with Kennedy will be laid when Park confers with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Fowler Hamilton, U.S. aid administrator.

The general then meets Kennedy for the first time. Afterward, the two will talk alone through an interpreter in the president's office.

Park came to prominence last May when he and a group of fellow officers overthrew the elected government.

At first, the United States was cool to the revolutionary junta but gradually gave it increasing support as the junta attacked graft and corruption in government and undertook a series of social reforms.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson welcomed Park.

Park said: "This visit affords us an unparalleled opportunity to discuss our mutual problems. We shall repay the United States and other free world allies for their support and assistance by reconstructing our nation."

California, Nevada Park Units Meeting

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California and Nevada park commissions will meet in Reno Saturday to consider possible joint development of additional Lake Tahoe recreation facilities.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in a statement yesterday announcing the meeting, said that if the Tahoe area is to be saved for public use then "Nevada, California and the federal government should start now to develop plans."

When should you buy Life Insurance?

The best time is when you are young because then annual premiums are low. But many young married men face a dilemma. They decide to postpone the purchase of life insurance till their family situation creates a greater need. However, they find later that premiums are higher and in the meantime, they run the risk of being uninsurable. Here's a sound formula for meeting the problem. It's Manufacturers Life's "Security Graph plus G.I.B." – Security Graph helps avoid costly postponements by setting up a plan for buying insurance according to future needs and ability to pay. G.I.B. is a new policy rider that enables the buyer of a new policy to purchase more insurance at regular rates at specific dates in the future — regardless of changes of health or occupation.

Talk to the Man from Manufacturers Life about this new security formula today.

YOUNGSTERS RESCUED — Policemen and a newspaper reporter carried two children to safety as flames from a new brush fire in the hills northwest of Los Angeles suddenly advanced toward the group last night. The scene was in Kagel Canyon, about 20 miles from the city. (AP Wirephoto)

Newest Los Angeles Blaze Contained; 10 Homes Lost

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fire fighters today contained a 2,300-acre brush blaze that destroyed 10 Kagel Canyon homes 20 miles north of downtown Los Angeles.

Roads were reopened to residents, and the more than 300 evacuated yesterday from Kagel and Little Tujunga canyons returned to their houses. Some had spent the night in an evacuation center set up in a Pacoima junior high school. Lowering winds had enabled officials to reduce the fire fighting force from 825 men to 600. Ten bulldozers continued widening an earth line scraped around the blaze.

Fifty-six pumper trucks continued spraying water, and 12 borate bombers were ready to go back into action if needed. The air was nearly calm and smokeless. Officials hoped for full control by tonight.

The homes destroyed were mostly in the $10,000-$15,000 price range.

Just a week ago two other fires—the costliest in Southern California history—destroyed 465 homes and denuded 14,000 acres in the Bel-Air and Topanga Canyon sections roughly 10 miles west of Los Angeles.

The fire started in Little Tujunga Canyon about 2 p.m. yesterday. It climbed a ridge and spread over to Kagel Canyon, so quickly that 100 residents were forced to run for their lives.

Three children of Mrs. R. Velasco were carried to safety by two policemen and a reporter. But not before a gust of wind carried a sheet of fire directly at them and then over them. They escaped injury.

The Kagel Canyon blaze burned through the neighborhood so fast that the residents had no time to think of their pets. Two dogs and 13 parakeets were reported burned to death.

Five minor injuries were reported. Three firemen suffered burns when their truck was struck by a gust of flames. As with the gust that terrorized the Velasco children, it quickly passed over with the wind.

Oldtime Prisoner Refuses Parole

Antonio Di Tardo, who at 86 is the oldest inmate of the penal institution, made his 28th annual appearance before the California Adult Authority. As he has done since 1931, he rejected parole, saying again that he preferred to remain in prison.

The convict, who was given a life sentence in 1920 for the fatal shooting of his wife in San Jose, told fellow inmates during his birthday celebration last January that he intends to "turn down every offer of parole."

Fire Losses Mounting In Los Angeles

A week after the disastrous blaze in the Santa Monica Mountains, trucks hauled debris from the area, utility and public service personnel worked overtime to restore service, classes from a burned-out private school convened in a church.

Families still searched through the ruins of some homes, looking for valuables that might have survived the wind-fed flames.

So far one million dollars in insurance claims have been paid. But claims are expected to reach 24 million dollars.

Blair Says He's Not Afraid To Debate

The public meetings of the Marin County Board of Supervisors provide the forum for debate on county policies, Supervisor J. Walter Blair suggested today to his recall election opponent, Peter H. Behr.

Blair issued a public statement on his refusal to engage in platform debates with Behr prior to the Dec. 5 election.

"It has been stated that I am afraid to debate Mr. Behr," he said. "This is not the truth."

"I sit with the board of supervisors and discuss with other members of that body matters of current concern. These are public meetings at which any of my actions may be challenged by any member of the public. Mr. Behr has never appeared to challenge any current action or statement. I realize that commuting daily to San Francisco almost precludes this possibility for Mr. Behr. The opportunity, however, is there."

Blair noted that he has appeared twice in public debates with Behr—once on television station KQED and once before the American Assn. of University Women in Mill Valley.

"I have noted that no new questions had been developed by Mr. Behr's followers since the 'debate' on KQED," he said. ". . . If the continuous repetition of the same questions is intended to dissuade me from the course of progressive economy I am pursuing, the effort is wasted."

School Land For Shelters Held Legal

Public school property may legally be used for construction of community fallout shelters, subject to certain restrictions, the county counsel's office held today.

Asst. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, in answer to a query from County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, held "it is reasonable to assume that while children are in attendance at public school, the district has inherent power" under the education code "to provide for unspecified hazards such as in the present case."

Maloney added: "The extent of this implied power may be subject to interpretation insafar as expenditure of funds or direct use of school property is concerned."

There may be a question, he said, as to whether school district funds can legally be used to build the shelters. However, he concluded, "if an appropriate political entity proposes to undertake proceedings for construction of facilities of this type, the school district involved could (in accordance with law) lease or grant any portion of the school grounds not needed for classroom purposes to such political entity."

Stolen Car Found In Parking Lot

A car, parked in a private San Rafael parking lot since Friday, was identified yesterday as one reported stolen in San Francisco on Saturday.

Employees at Coldwell Banker and Co. reported to police yesterday the car was in their lot at 1242 Fifth Avenue. A check revealed the car, a 1949 Chevrolet, had been reported stolen by Versia Oliver Cummings of San Francisco.

Larkspur Planners Meeting Tonight

Larkspur Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on rezoning a strip of land next to Magnolia Avenue from commercial to multiple family residential today at 8 p.m. during its meeting in the city hall.

Among other items on the agenda are review of improvement plans for Larkspur Plaza; consideration of a zoning ordinance revision, and architectural supervision for a house at Magnolia and Madrone avenues.

Dufficy Asks For New Aide —Gets One

A new position of "chief clinic social worker" was requested of Marin County supervisors yesterday by Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, county medical director. Approval in principle was given by unanimous vote of the three present, one short of the minimum number to provide money for the worker's salary.

Dufficy said the new man, in salary range of $506 to $609 monthly, will primarily work with the out-patient clinic and psychiatric service of the county medical department. He should in effect pay his own salary by helping "in-between cases" keep off the welfare rolls, said Dufficy.

He also said that one of his consultants, specialized on obstetrics and gynocology, has resigned and asked deletion of this position with $375 a month salary and substitution of two consultants at $300. Dufficy said he's been hiring extra help on a fee basis. Supervisors postponed action on this request until this afternoon when Supervisor William Gnoss was expected to return.

The board also:

1. Was admonished to resign from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District and "stop further waste of taxpayers' funds" in a letter from P. J. Rowland, president of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn.

2. Approved six appointments: Ruth Brosnan as intermediate account clerk in office of tax collector-treasurer at $335 monthly; Florence D. Smith as junior typist clerk in the health department at $293; Betty Jane Kelly as registered nurse at county hospital at $366; Miriam Bostwick as social worker at $420 and Elnora Yeargin as intermediate account clerk at $335, both in welfare department, and Ernest Zunino as public works maintenance man at $366.

3. Allowed one-year maternity leave without pay for Mrs. Mayday Card, in county clerk's office.

4. Passed a resolution approving proposal by R. J. Rice of National Cash Register Co., that his company conduct a "case history study" of municipal court data processing in order to publicize its efficiency.

5. Appointed Dr. William Burgett Smith to serve as member at large on a physical review board to consider a county employee's special case.

Belvedere Taxpayer's Complaint Answered

County Assessor Bert W. Brommel used a taxpayer's complaint yesterday as a combined baseball bat and springboard.

He administered the bat to the complainant, Eben Rodgers Jr. of 10 Edgewater Road, Belvedere, who had said his tax bill was "exhorbitant."

Rodgers' tax bill for 1957-58 was too low, said Broemmel in effect, because it was "based on a completely unrealistic appraisal of $22,500 for the property" which "passed to the present owner in October, 1958, at a figure well in excess of $40,000."

Broemmel said this situation "was corrected with adoption of the appraisal commission's findings on the 1958-59 roll" giving a more realistic base figure of $34,000. Even today the appraised value is only $39,700, with an assessed value of $9,130, said Broemmel.

Not content with this retort to Rodgers's personal complaint, Broemmel furnished figures to show that "in the Belvedere area the net cost of government, taxes, are increasing at a greater rate than assessed values." Between 1958 and 1961, said Broemmel, the assessment went up 12 per cent but taxes rose 32 per cent.

But what pleased the supervisors was when Broemmel really took off from his springboard to note that "in the case of county government proper, for which your board has responsibility, the tax levy has increased 18.7 per cent over the past three years while the assessed valuation has increased 32.5 per cent." This has resulted in decline in the county tax rate from $2.30 in 1958-59 to $2.05 in 1961-62.

Broemmel then put the finger on "other major jurisdictions" in which "the rate of increase in tax levy has far exceeded the rate of increase in assessed valuation"—referring to school districts especially.

One of his attached tables showed that in 1958-59, schools accounted for 52 per cent of the whole tax rate aggregating $9.06 per $100 assessed value, in Belvedere, while in 1961-62 they took 57 per cent of the total amounting to $10.48.

County, county library, mosquito abatement district and hospital bonds showed decreases, while increases were shown for elementary and high schools and junior college as well as the City of Belvedere and rapid transit.

"We must conclude," found Broemmel, "that Mr. Rodgers's letter should have been directed to the governing boards of taxing jurisdictions other than your board. Perhaps he will wish to do so."

"It's a good answer," said Supervisor Walter R. Castro. His colleagues joined in agreement.

Two Summer Homes Broken Into In Novato

Two summer homes in Marin Golf and Country Club Estates were entered over the weekend, but little loot was taken, Novato police reported today.

The homes of Melvin Weiss, owner of Mel's Drive-Ins, at 155 Country Club Way, and Harold Dobbs, San Francisco county supervisor, at 175 Country Club Way, were entered by prying open sliding glass doors, police reported.

In the Weiss home, the burglars rummaged through the liquor cabinet and playroom, but apparently took nothing. There was no destruction.

Both homes were entered in a similar fashion about eight months ago, according to police.

Elberta peaches were introduced into the Clarksville and Ozarks of Crawford County, Arkansas, about the turn of the century.

chairman Walter Kieckhefer Jr. of Ross, for selling 100 tickets with a quota of only 80. But Kiekhefer wasn't there to hear him; he was home sick in bed.

Two Marinites sat at the upper of the two honor tables: State Sen. John F. McCarthy, a candidate for lieutenant governor, and Assemblyman William T. Bagley. Next to Bagley was Assemblyman John A. Busterud, who recently moved to Santa Rosa from San Francisco and is considered a potential congressional candidate from this district.

Nixon said the speech had been scheduled before he became a candidate for governor, so he was not going to delve into state politics. But he could not resist a jab now and then at Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

He said President John F. Kennedy is "not pressing too hard for spending" in Washington, but Brown "is out of tune" with national policies, even though "unemployment is higher in California and the nation now than it was a year ago."

"Increased spending just doesn't work," Nixon declared. "The basic issue is the need to increase the opportunity for the individual." It is the "True Frontier" not the New Frontier, that is needed in the West, where "we are working not for the handout state, but for a working state," he assented.

Nixon chided Kennedy regarding the missile gap. A year ago, he noted, Kennedy said the United States was second to Russia; now he maintains Russia's first strike power is not so great as our power for a second strike.

"It was the same a year ago," Nixon declared.

Nixon called "defeat without war our greatest danger." He said Premier Nikita Khrushchev's strategy is to "demand something to which he is not entitled, threaten war if he doesn't get it, and demand we negotiate to prevent war. The price of peace is one-half of what he wasn't entitled to in the first place."

We must counter such demands with demands of our own," demands to which we are entitled" and "we must do it all over the world," he declared.

Khrushchev "is no Hitler who might cause war by accident," the former vice president believes. He "uses his temper, he doesn't lose it."

He concluded with a highly partisan plea for return of "more power and responsibility to the individual" and centering less of it in government. And he promised Republicans "are going to put on the fight of our lives in California and the nation."

Belvedere Council Votes An Apology

The action was rescinded because Mrs. Doyle had not been present at the Sept. 11 meeting and therefore was undemocratically denied the right to face her accusers to refute the charges against her, said Mayor Robert P. Watkins.

"Our dilemma now is," can our employees be persuaded this is no intention on the part of the council to show lack of appreciation for our city employees who are necessary for our protection and support."

Mrs. Doyle had been censured by the council for allegedly using abusive language to city employees while they were attempting to repair sewer backup.

She was present last night to receive the apology.

Prior to the action on the censure, City Atty. William H. MacKay requested a half-hour recess to privately advise the council in the matter. "It is imprudent to give legal advice in front of a court reporter and a newspaper reporter. Advice of an attorney to a client is universally recognized as confidential," he said.

Spectator Neville J. Rich demanded to know under what right a city council can adjourn to a private hearing. He criticized the fact that such a recess was not listed on the agenda and stated that the council was inconsiderate. Rich contended that more people would attend if the council stuck to its agenda. He claimed that working people could not attend so long a council meeting.

Weed replied: "Don't you think we're all in the same boat? we have to work tomorrow also."

Consideration of remedial measures to correct sewage backup into several homes on Edgewater Road was discussed.

Engineer John T. Norgaard was instructed to proceed with plans to include in the current sewer project installation of a pump at a cost of $10,400.

An $8,100 installation without standby power was rejected.

Councilman Ida M. Scott reported the Twelfth Night Christmas tree burning would be held in west shore Subdivision No. 1.

Williams reported the Tiburon sanitary district would not contribute a portion of the cost of maintaining Belvedere's line on Paradise Drive.

Councilman John H. Flint was absent.

Shotgun Disappears At Sleepy Hollow Home

Jack Kenneth Sanders, 22, a machinist, said he had left his home unlocked. When he got home late last night, both guns were gone from the wall of his home. He said the weapons were worth $55.

Kentfield Schools Let 2 Jobs

Kentfield School District trustees last night awarded contracts for construction of a lunch area for Wolfe Grade School at the north end of the original wing.

A. J. Shooter of San Rafael was awarded the contract for grading the 16-by-70-foot area and constructing a fence around it. His bid of $727 was low of two. Cagwin and Dorward of San Anselmo bid $750.

Contract for black topping was awarded to James Thornton of Fairfax, low of four bidders at $200. High bidder was E. A. Forde Co. of Corte Madera at $378.

Supt. Howard C. Harmon said no district funds are budgeted for construction of a pedestrian overpass at the foot of Wolfe Grade for access to the Wolfe Grade School. He said the project would cost about $18,000, which would probably be split with the district paying half and county paying the other half. The trustees said they would discuss the matter again at either the Nov. 27 or Dec. 11 meeting.

In other business, the trustees:

1. Heard a report by Harry Dalton of Dalton, Graupner and Barber, San Rafael public accountants, that said the district's $29,000 reserve fund is too low.
2. Were informed construction of the addition to Wolfe Grade School was about 30 days behind schedule. Contractor H. D. Grae Co of San Francisco promised to put on a larger crew to make up the lost time.
3. Authorized Supt. Harmon to have a topographical survey made by Roemer and Estes of Mill Valley on the entrance of A. E. Kent School.
4. Employed James L. Hart as recreation director at Kent School at $2 per hour; Robert Cater as community service custodian at Greenbrae School at $1.85 per hour and Vincent Murphy as substitute custodian at Kent School at $1.85 per hour.

Two Drunken Drivers Get Fine, Probation

A San Rafael hodcarrier and a San Francisco State College student were each fined $166 and put on six months probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

Alexander John Deans, 46, of 33 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, pleaded guilty to drunken driving Nov. 3 near his home and was given an alternative of one day in jail for each $10 of the fine. Donald R. Tuche, 22, of San Francisco pleaded guilty to drunken driving on Highway 101 near Corte Madera.

little more than schools about shelters for their patients.

School fallout shelters are urgently needed. School basements, or shelters beneath playgrounds, would offer a haven. Such facilities might be used normally for play, for clubs, for school activites, or community activities.

Husbands whose jobs are near enough to their homes could get home also in a majority of circumstances. In big cities, where mass movements would jam up commuting, most men should seek shelter in their factories or offices, or in public shelters. Delays in trying to get home might find them caught in the open. But everyone has to judge for himself.

The odds are very strong most of us shall have warning of an impending attack. Memorize the Civil Defense siren signals, which could wake you at night, or give added time by day for reaching or final checking of your shelter preparations.

A steady siren tone lasting three to five minutes means an attack is believed imminent, and you should be ready for the blast and heat—early direct radiation effects. Three minutes of warbling sound, or short series of blasts of the siren, means attack is due any moment, and you should take cover.

Remember, if you are some distance from the center, you have a fair amount of time to think and act intelligently before intensive and dangerous fallout can ever arrive.

You have a greater chance of being on the fringes, with the possibilities of completing preparations, than of being directly under the center of the explosion.

Many or even most of us tend to think—and some with real justification — we are living in prime target areas.

It is an enemy who will be choosing those targets. His errors in aiming, or defensive actions, can put the center of an explosion somewhere else than over your head, no matter how prime a target you consider your city or neighborhood.

Reserve Unit Is Inactivated

San Rafael's 94th Quartermaster Platoon, removed from the Army Reserve list and sent to Fort Lee, Va., three weeks ago and placed on active status, has been inactivated and reassigned to a new quartermaster battalion.

The San Rafael platoon was one of eight units arriving at Fort Lee last month. They were among more than 25 reserve and National Guard units called to federal service at Fort Lee.

Personnel from the eight units will not necessarily remain with the groups they trained with in hometowns. None of the activated reservists are expected to be assigned outside of the three new units, however.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Whether 'Tropic Of Cancer' Is Obscene Is Up To Court

A major debate is raging in Marin County and elsewhere about charges that Henry Miller's book "Tropic of Cancer" is obsecene and should not be sold on our bookstands.

We publish a newspaper and are vitally interested in censorship or thought control of any type. We fight with every weapon at hand to protect the public's right to know about everything.

At the same time, we must acknowledge that there are such things as pornography, obscenity and smut. We also acknowledge that a community has the right to protect itself from such filth.

For that reason, we and other newspapers throughout California successfully fought for realistic amendments to state law governing pornography at this year's session of the state legislature. The basic consideration is that book publishers and dealers, like newspaper publishers, must be free of censorship, but responsible for what they print.

Now, as to "Tropic of Cancer." We haven't read it and don't feel qualified in any event to make a judicial determination of whether it is or is not obscene. But we do have faith in that newly amended state law. District Attorney Roger Garety has conducted himself particularly well in his attitude and actions in following that law. He has not taken upon himself to declare the book obscene. He has insisted that it appears likely to him that it is and therefore he has cited a seller of that book, who must be responsible for his actions, to appear before a judge for a determination of whether or not the book is obscene.

Garety has not ordered the book off any newstand. Unfortunately, in one of the numerous news stories we have carried about the case, the Independent-Journal incorrectly said he had ordered the books removed. He did not. We are sorry about this inaccuracy.

One of the criteria on which the judge in this case will decide, is the morals of the locality in which the book is being adjudged. A book, which in the gutters of Paris might not be called obscene, might well be obscene in a community like Marin, where moral codes may differ.

We are content to allow a Marin judge, after studying all the evidence, to make a determination as to whether the book is or is not obscene. If it is obscene, it comes under state law controlling such publications. Anyone selling it must face the consequences. If it is not obscene, it should be allowed to be sold if sellers desire.

This is a satisfactory method, it appears to us, providing enforcement agencies don't abuse their power. The district attorney certainly does not appear to have done so in this case.

Three Kinds Of Rabbits

We Marinites have three kinds of rabbits on our farms and in our gardens. They are the Cottontail, the Brush and the Jack, though technically the Jack is not a rabbit, but a hare.

The Jack Rabbit is the speedster of the family and likes open country where it can escape its enemies by running in great bounding leaps. They are especially common in the Point Reyes area and in Northern Marin.

Cottontail and Brush Rabbits are more shy and retiring and do not stray far from cover of brush, bushes, hedges and tall grasses. They thrive well in inhabited neighborhoods and we had several Cottontail acquaintances until we got our Beagle.

The best time to meet or observe the Cottontail or the Brush is generally in the grey hours of early dawn. However, most people don't arise early enough to be good rabbit watchers and must content themselves with observing them at dusk.

Jack Rabbits are a serious pest because they multiply so rapidly and eat the same food as cattle and sheep. Cottontails and Brush Rabbits are mostly garden nuisances, with little economically threatening about them.

Office Romeos Make The Rounds —And Every Girl Knows Type

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Recently Hal Boyle wrote on the office romance problems of bachelors and bachelor grils. Many wrote in to demand, "How about exposing the office married Romeos?")

He sometimes keeps them on the run, too.

Office Romeos can be divided into four general types: Pinchers and patters, creepers and leapers. But each one is a character in his own way.

Winded Wilbur — He asks his secretary to stay late. Then he closes the door and pursues her around the office.

Cry Baby Bobby — "We're all lonely prisoners in a lonely world. Life is but a jail," he whines, wheedling each girl in turn for a comforting kiss.

Oily Oliver—"Be nice to me, kid," he says, "and I'll see you go places in this firm." This gives the girls a big laugh, as Oliver has been with the firm 25 years and hasn't been able to get any place himself.

Treat and Trick Ted — He believes one good turn deserves another. He doesn't mind splurging on a box of chocolates for his secretary at Christmas, so long as she allows him one free pinch for each piece of candy.

Ambushing Arnold — He hides in the supply room and pounces at any unwary stenographer who comes tripping in.

Light-fingered Larry—The fatherly type. As his arm gently steals around a girl's waist—pat, pat, pat—he tells her, "Here are some new snapshots of my grandson. Isn't he a fine-looking lad?"

Lunar Lew—The full moon does something to him. Then every girl in the place looks like Marilyn Monroe. The rest of the time he is as harmless as bunny rabbit.

Pleading Paul — "My wife simply doesn't understand me," he weeps, using the oldest line in the book. His real trouble is that every girl in the office does understand him.

LEO THE LEECH — His wife gives him only $2 a day. Leo's idea of romance is to sweet-talk any available secretary into taking him out for two martinis and a big lunch.

Bug-eyed Ben — Instead of watching the clock he watches the girls. He doesn't say anything to them—just leers and leers and leers.

ANNIVERSARY ABNER — The senior vice president feels one of the privileges of seniority is to kiss every girl in the office on his birthday. That's why, on his birthday, there is no one around to take dictation.

There they are—the clawless married wolves every secretary knows. She also knows another thing: If, just to tease them, she pretended to respond to their antediluvian overtures they'd run for shelter like the frightened mice they are.

Morrison Knows Blair's Reason

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to take this opportunity to correct another gross distortion of the truth by one of Supervisor J. Walter Blair's supporters, Joseph W. Morrison.

In a letter Tuesday (Oct. 16) Morrison stated that Blair moved to have the matter of the county administrator put to the vote of the people and that he was returning government to the people. The fact of the matter is that Blair had no choice. Some 11,000 voters objected to Blair's attempt earlier to abolish the office of the county administrator and they signed the referendum petition which forced the supervisors to put the matter on the ballot. Since this time, Blair has consistently harassed the county administrator.

Mr. Morrison should know better than anyone else the reasons for Mr. Blair's opposition to the county administrator. During the election campaign Mr. Blair stated that he was not opposed to the county administrator. However after he assumed office and attempted to appoint Mr. Morrison to certain high offices, the county administrator expressed doubts as to Morrison's qualifications. It was shortly after this episode that Mr. Blair moved to abolish the office of the county administrator.

Mr. Morrison objected to being called an "Arizona friend" of Blair's, and perhaps for good reason. May I suggest that he be termed Blair's backroom crony?

Need Cause To Unite Behind

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Citizens who write, talk, march or advertise in the interest of world peace and disarmament are to be aplauded. But without a clearly defined program for attaining these goals, such efforts seem to resemble a stand against sin.

We're all against sin. We want to put an end to the arms race. We long for world peace. But how?

What is missing is a plan, an inspiring cause, call it a standard, if you will, behind which all thinking, worried Americans can unite. We need an ideology, there being only one sure way to defeat an idea and that is with a better one.

Khrushchev's idea is to see the Red flag flying over every country on earth during his lifetime. He is 67. Anyone who reads "The Soviet Design for a World States" by Elliott Goodman can readily see to what extent the Communists, too, are dedicating themselves to the cause of world peace — Communist style.

An alternative ideology to inspire free peoples everywhere is desperately needed today. Why should not the following three point program serve as the standard we raise:

1. Establishment of world peace through world law enforced by a United Nations strong enough to act.

2. Development of a realistic plan for the transfer of our economy from a quasi-war time footing to one of peace.

3. Disarmament under the protective umbrella of enforceable world law and with the assurance that to do so will not throw our economy into chaos. Any other disarmament program is utterly fallacious.

Every thoughtful American, regardless of political party; regardless of his organizational affiliation—Moral Rearmament, United World Federalist, American Association for the United Nations or other independent citizens groups; regardless of race, color or creed, must surely recognize the need for a fresh approach to world peace.

Those of us who honestly and sincerely desire world peace should call upon our heads of government in Washington urging them to address themselves publicly to the three point program outlined above.

World peace through world law enforced by a strong United Nations should be a cornerstone of United States foreign policy. Our foreign policy is, after all, our first line of defense. It is, furthermore, the sum total of the will of the American people.

If we the people fail to express our will to our representatives in Congress urging them to act now on a program for peace as outlined above, then today's bomb shelters may indeed become tomorrow's tombs.

Garety Deserves Community Aid

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety deserves the support of the entire community in his action against T. B. Pershina for knowingly selling smut and obscenity in the form of Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer." He deserves this support because he represents the community defending itself against a real threat to its moral and intellectual life.

It was most interesting, if not altogether surprising, that Pershina's indictment was immediately challenged by suit in a higher court on the basis that his conviction would restrict individual freedom to purchase the book.

As parents, as neighbors, as citizens of Marin County have we not the right to see that our children, our neighbor's children, our friends and fellow citizens be unmolested by salacious reading material? What kind of individual right is it if it endangers the moral life of the whole community? We think it is license, not freedom.

This country owes a debt to Mr. Garety for his courage in forcing what will undoubtedly be a bitter contest at law. His success will be the county's gain; his faiure, a loss for each citizen.

Not An Appeaser, A Rational Human

EDITOR,

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

George De Witt tells about an agent who kept an animal trainer and his talking dog in a waiting room for hours, then graciously permitted him to enter his royal sanctum. The door accidentally slammed on the pooch's tail, whereupon the pooch delivered a long string of nasty words.

The agent blanched. "I never heard of a dog like that," he quavered.

"Pay no attention to him," apologized the trainer. "He picked that stuff up from clients leaving your office."

"The human brain," opines William Nichols, "is a wonderful thing. It starts clicking the instant you are born and never stops until you are called upon to speak unexpectedly at a public gathering."

An Awful Lot Of Worry About A 27-Year-Old Book

One would think from all the "tooo dooo" about it, that Marin County had been moved south somewhere in the vicinity of the Tropic of Cancer.

Whenever one of these moralistic battles gets loose in society, I am reminded of Will Rogers' discourse that he made on prohibition during the time when that battle was being waged across the nation.

The general theme of it was that the Good Lord ought to take all the "do-gooders" up to heaven with Him and send all the other extremists to that other place. That would leave the world to the rest of us.

IN PASSING THOUGH, I'd like to throw in a thought or two on censorship. Whenever censorship gets turned lose in society, there is no end to where it can go.

Don't misunderstand me, I'm not advocating publishing all the filth in the world any more than I advocate paving the streets with dried manure. But it is like walking a tightrope to attempt to censor anyone else's reading.

Whenever any person, any board, or any government sets itself up as the judge of what anyone else can and cannot read, it is dangerous. In this country, the tendency has always been to read the banned book just to see what was banned.

However, in other parts of the world, over a period of years, it has developed into statae control of thought.

Then just who is great enough to be a judge? How much better or worse than "Tropic of Cancer" is "Lady Chatterly's Lover," "Peyton Place," the "Decameron," "Leaves of Grass" and the Bible?

It seems to me that in this time when youthful gangs make it unsafe to walk down the streets of the cities of the Bay Area, there ought to be something more important for the law enforcement officers to do than to worry about a 27-year-old book.

IN ALL THIS jungle of juvenile delinquency, leinency in the law, probation and repeating crime for youth, I take my hat off to a judge down in Pensacola, Fla.

A man down that way was charged with assault and battery involving his 14-year-old daughter. He pleaded guilty. He told the judge that he beat his daughter because she did not return home when he told her to.

The judge sided with the man.

"Here's a man who's trying to settle the juvenile delinquency problem in his own way and gets jailed for it," the judge observed.

"I don't think I should impose any penalty, even if he busted her lip—or her bottom."

Our has are off to a judge for that decision.

AMONG THE NOVATO dignitaries taken to Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida, for the William Tell weapons meet were Mayor Wayne Womack, Harley McAskill, planning commission chairman; Lee Wise, P. G. & E. manager; and Irving Links, haberdasher.

These men were on a C-47 transport coming back to Hamilton Air Force Base. The plane landed in the dull, flat, uninteresting lands of the Texas panhandle at Amarillo to refuel. Soon it was on its way again.

The next stop it had to make to refuel was exciting, glamorous, wicked Las Vegas, Nev. The men left the plane while it was being refueled. When they got on it again to leave, the starter was broken on the motor and the plane could not take off.

So the Air Force had to send to the wilds of outer Timbuctu or some other such remote place for one. At least the men were delayed in that horrible spot for another 24 hours while a little simple starter on an airplane was repaired.

We're not accusing anyone of this stature of sabotage . . . but it sure looks danged suspicious . . .

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

It's Obvious That All Not Well Behind That Iron Curtain

WASHINGTON—The evidence is mounting that all is not well behind the Iron Curtain.

The recent 22nd Party Congress was not a happy, carefree affair. It disclosed a divisive, double controversy—the continuing rivalry between the Stalinists and the anti-Stalinists within the Soviet Union and between Moscow and Peking for the leadership of the Communist world.

Khrushchev gives us plenty of news about the power and glory of the Soviet Union. He says that Russia can lick everybody, scare everybody, and out-produce everybody. He says it so often that he is beginning to give the impression that he is not so sure of it after all.

THERE IS NO doubt that the Soviets are militarily strong and economically formidable. There is little tendency to underestimate their power.

But there is a tendency to overlook the divisions and difficulties which are becoming increasingly apparent on the Communist side.

1—Premier Khrushchev is so uncertain about how the Soviet people would react that he has not dared disclose to his own nation his massive nuclear tests in the atmosphere and the consequent radioactive fallout.

At the party congress he boasted about the tests and joked about the 50-plus-megaton bomb, but when his speeches were printed in the official press, references to the tests were deleted.

2—THE KREMLIN is showing itslf increasingly anxious about the state of opinion among the subject peoples of the Eastern European satellites. This anxiety has grown more acute since the "Khrushchev Wall" went up in East Berlin on Aug. 13.

Radio Liberty, a private Western organization which broadcasts to the Soviet Union and to Soviet troops in Eastern Europe, has learned that the Soviets have recently put an additional ring of 541 jamming devices along the borders of the satellites to try to blot out still further the news which comes from the West.

This is revealing — but not surprising. This is not an action of confidence, it is an act of fear.

3—AND NOW THE Communist bloc is split over Albania's determination to remain Stalinist. This deepens the rivalry between the Soviets and Chinese Communists who have gone to the defense of Albania as evidence of their own determination to challenge Moscow for leadership of the Communist parties.

In any event, all is not well behind the Iron Curtain—far from it.

Accreditation Team Is Due At College

A Western College Assn. accreditation team will be on the College of Marin campus on Dec. 5, 6 and 7 to inspect the college's programs and facilities, Dr. Stephen E. Epler, president, announced today.

The association is the official accrediting body for colleges and universities in the western states. Its membership includes most of the junior and senior colleges in the west.

After the inspection, the team may give College of Marin an accredited rating based on academic and instructional standards. This is particularly important for out-of-state colleges in accepting or rejecting transfer students, said Dr. Epler.

The visiting group consists of Dr. H. Lynn Sheller, president of Fullerton Junior College; Kenneth Tinkler, dean of instruction at Shasta College; Dr. Hubert H. Semans, dead of instruction at Foothill College; Lyle E. Gibson of San Francisco State College; Sister M. Rose Emmanuella of the Los Gatos campus of the College of Holy Names; and Richard S. Nelson, supervisor of technical education for the state bureau of industrial education.

The six members will be honored with a dinner on Dec. 5 at the Woodlands Restaurant in Kentfield.

San Rafael Boy's Leg Broken; Run Over By Auto

The right leg of an 11-year-old San Rafael boy was broken yesterday when he was run over by a car driven by a 16-year-old San Rafael High School student.

Charles Drago of 90 Hoag Street, San Rafael, a sixth-grader at E Street School, was struck as he was playing ball in the street in the 200 block of Belle Avenue. Driving the car was Stephen James Hasse of 123 Belle Avenue.

Police said Hasse stopped and was told by Drago's companions that the boy was not hurt. Examination later at Marin General Hospital revealed the break.

The accident was reported to police by Mrs. Margaret Francis Drago, the youth's mother who is employed at Marin General Hospital.

Bel Aire Group Will Discuss Blair Recall

Bel Aire Property Owners Assn. will meet at 7:45 p.m. today in Bel Aire School on the Tiburon Peninsula to discuss the recall move against Supervisor J. Walter Blair.

According to association chairman Alan Kircher, Blair has not indicated he would appear but candidate for supervisor Peter H. Behr will attend.

Novato Council To Consider Moratorium

A six-month moratorium on all building in the area bounded by First and Sixth streets and Grant and Olive streets will be considered by the Novato City Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the city hall.

Three members of the council who were present at last week's meeting placed a temporary ban on building at the request of the planning commission. They did not grant the six-month request, pending the meeting tomorrow of the full five-member council.

The council will also hold a hearing on requests for street lights. The city has approximately $6,000 to spend on new street lights. It has asked for petitions asking for new lights.

Golf Club Looted Of Liquor, Cigars

A burglar with a taste for good liquor and cigars broke into the Indian Valley Golf Club in Novato last night and took loot valued at $200.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Faustine of 25 Boulevard Terrace, who clean and maintain the clubhouse on Novato Boulevard, discovered the break-in shortly before midnight and called the owner-manager, Albert Lewis Leach of 69 Cambridge Heights.

Leach said two cases of bourbon, five boxes of cigars, and about $30 in change were stolen.

Liquor Stolen

Five bottles of liquor were taken from the Mill Valley Tennis Club between 6 p.m., Saturday and 9 a.m. Sunday, manager Gene Marker reported to Mill Valley police. Entry was made by breaking a french door loose from its hinges.

$400 Will Be Spent For Fairfax Park

Conversion of Bothin Circle into a park at a cost to the city not to exceed $400 was authorized by the Fairfax City Council last night at the request of a number of Bothin Road residents who attended the meeting.

Plans drawn by Frank Salvisberg of 90 Bothin Road were introduced to show how brickwork and planting of juniper and birch trees would be utilized to create what would be known as Bothin Park. Frank Lawrence, chairman of the park and recreation commission, was given the assignment of seeing the job completed.

Spokesmen for the approximately 20 citizens in the audience said the circle has been used as a parking lot.

In other actions last night, the Fairfax City Council:

1. Passed a resolution to contract with Michie Publications Co. of Los Angeles to codify the city's ordinances at cost of $2,500.

2. Passed an ordinance to regulate the establishment, construction, operation and maintenance of gas service stations.

3. Approved appointment of Alan Perry as policeman at $485 a month for a six-month probationary period effective last Oct. 16.

4. Approved purchase of two new police cars from Ames Ford cost of $4,817 minus $2,425 allowed for two old cars.

5. Denied, without taking a vote, a Salvation Army request to put a drop box on city property.

6. Referred to Lawrence a proposal to revamp upstairs rooms and construct stairways at Fairfax Pavilion, with cost estimated at $2,500.

7. Heard City Clerk Alice Leonesio report the Marin County Board of Supervisors and Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., county physician, had made no reply to her letter of Oct. 11 asking the county to give physical examinations to Fairfax employees. Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar said, "Won't even answer our letters? Nice!" Mrs. Leonesio said after the meeting the county previously orally agreed to give the exams at $7.50 apiece.

8. Directed City Atty. Wallace S. Myers to prepare an ordinance to create an active police reserve, with no pay for reserve members.

9. Heard Mrs. Leonesio report she had accepted a $10,000 check from L. B. Fleischman as guarantee he would complete an acceptable road for his apartment subdivision to adjoin Oak Manor School.

10. Delayed until Nov. 27 action on condemning shacks on property on Bothin Road found to be fire and health hazards Oct. 11 by building inspector J. C. Uhte. Myers said Uhte, not present last night, must swear to his findings before action can be taken.

11. Delayed until Nov. 27 approval of two-lot subdivision planned by Barry Rogers.

12. Heard request by county sanitation director William L. Desmond that Fairfax adopt the county ordinance governing food handlers as requested by Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn., but took no action.

13. Introduced an ordinance prepared by the League of California Cities amending the local sales and use tax ordinance.

14. Directed Myers to prepare a resolution for a stop sign on the south side of Tamalpais Avenue at Sequoia Avenue.

15. Approved $500 repairs on a 1951 Fire Department dump truck and building of fence around the corporation yard to keep out small boys.

16. Approved warrants totaling $16,871.85.

$250 In Coins Taken From Service Station

A petty thief has been pilfering rolled coins from a service station in Santa Venetia, and the total loss has mounted to about $250, the station operator reported to the sheriff last night.

Dominic Tappero, 45, of 8 Garden Court, who runs the Shell Station at 296 North San Pedro Road, said the thefts started about Sept. 3.

Suggestions Made For Shop Center

Strawberry Property Owners Assn. directors last night made two recommendations to the county planning commission regarding Samuel R. Neider's proposed shopping center to be built on the Strawberry frontage road near Highway 101.

It suggested that Belvedere Drive and Reed Boulevard, bordering the center, be minimum four-lane roads with protected left turns in and out of the center. It also recommended adequate traffic channelization at the intersection of the two roads.

No recommendation was made regarding the 80-foot height of the Neider "geodesic dome" market, director Mrs. James W. Gowen said, "because we are more concerned with the circulation."

The board made no objectio to drawings, presented by Neider's representative Frank Gallo, showing the moving of the Marin Land Co. office building at Ricardo Road in order that the road might be straightened.

Jan. 4 was set as a tentative date for a candidates night for those nominated as directors of the Strawberry Recreation District.

FAIRFAX TAKES NEUTRAL STAND ON RAIL LINE

The Fairfax City Council last night took a neutral stand on the fight by the Marin County Board of Supervisors and city councils of San Rafael, Mill Valley and Corte Madera to get Northwestern Pacific rail service through San Rafael restored.

On suggestion of Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar the council delayed action on a request by the City of San Rafael to oppose the railroad's application before the Interstate Commerce Commission to abandon the section.

Edgar said a railroad representative wanted to give a five-minute talk to the council.

Council Takes Notes Of Two Letters

Two letters from A. P. Traber of 172 Ridgeway Avenue complaining of lack of sufficient improvements in the city were acknowledged by the Fairfax City Council last night.

The first letter, dated Oct. 6, was referred to in a letter dated Nov. 8. This second letter began: "My letter to the Fairfax City Council, dated Oct. 6, 1961, for one reason or another, missed the expected publication of same at the council meeting on Oct. 9, 1961."

City Clerk Alice Leonesio exhibited the envelope in which the first letter arrived by special delivery. It bore a postmark of Oct. 10, one day after the council meeting.

The council last night filed both letters.

Cost Of Television

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American public is now spending close to 500 million dollars a year for electricity just to keep their television set going, according to the Edison Electric Institute.

The mayfly usually lives only one day after it becomes an adult.

Council Is Asked To Abate Changes To A Residence

The angry demand of real estate man Max Kimball that the City of Fairfax abate what he charged were numerous illegal changes to a residence next to his home was rejected by an equally angry Fairfax City Council last night.

Kimball appeared to back up a letter he had sent demanding further action against a house at 181-183 Pine Drive, next to his own residence at No. 185.

Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar replied that if the council complied it would have to abate "everything on Pine Drive," Councilman Rolfe M. Ockenden agreed.

There ensued several minutes of wrangling between Kimball and the two councilmen.

Ockenden repeatedly asserted that Kimball's original demand had been to keep owner A. B. Whittemore from converting a duplex into a triplex and the council had heeded Kimball's protests.

"We thought you'd be happy," Ockenden said.

Kimball insisted Whittemore planned a third bedroom and when the home was sold someone would use it and "they'll have a radio or hi-fi and blast me out of my home. It's right on property line."

Ockenden retorted, "Your house is in violation of the 10-foot setback, isn't it?"

After some fuming, Kimball replied: "Well, sure. But there isn't one patio on Pine Drive that is not in the right of way."

Ockenden said there are violations of setback lines "all along Pine Drive."

Finally, Kimball demanded that if the council would not comply with his new complaint, "reject me!"

"I so move," snapped Mayor Edgar. Councilman Waldemar E. Radke quickly seconded the motion and the two other councilmen present made the vote unanimous.

School Presented With Telescope

C. B. Gearhart of Point Reyes Station presented the West Marin Union School District with a four-inch refractory telescope at a board meeting in West Marin School last night.

Supt. George R. Stratton said the telescope would be used at the school.

The board decided to begin salary discussions with faculty representatives of the district in January, and signed a notice of completion of additions to West Marin School. These consist of two new classrooms, a teachers' work room, a book storage room, and rest rooms.

They make it easier to manage money!

"Times certainly change. Today most husbands expect their wives to manage the household money with some intelligence, and I like mine to be proud of the way I do it. My bank manager at Wells Fargo American Trust has made it easier for me to be businesslike. Believe me, it helps to have an expert right in the neighborhood!

"The manager suggested a checking account to keep track of what I spend. My Automatic Savings helps me put money aside for extras. I've opened savings accounts for the children, too. It's sensible to do all our banking in one place.

"And I like the fact that my bank believes in women managing money — and always has. The manager said this was the first bank in the West where a woman could have an account in her own name. It's certainly the bank for me."

NOVATO, SAN JOSE

Unified Schools Ballot On Tap For Third Time

(This is the first fo a series of four articles on various aspects of the proposed unification of Novato Unified and San Jose Elementary School districts, on which voters in the two districts will ballot next Tuesday.)

By THERON A. NEWELL

Voters of the Novato Unified School District and San Jose Elementary School District will go to the polls next Tuesday to decide whether these two districts should be unified.

This same issue has come up before the voters twice before. Each time it was defeated—in January and October, 1959.

In the second election, there were 639 yes and 331 no votes. The issue passed in Novato by 493 yes to 175 votes. It failed, however, in the San Jose District by 146 yes to 156 no votes. Approval requires a majority favorable vote in both districts.

If the voters favor the unification this time, they must also select a five-member board of trustees to govern the new district.

All members of the Novato and San Jose school district boards, plus one candidate who failed in the last Novato School Board election, have filed for the board.

Novato trustees seeking election tothe new board are Joseph Sereda, Marett B. Boissevain Jr., Mrs. Leonora M. Dougherty, Willam Kirk and Earl G. Marshall. The San Jose trustees seeking election are Mrs. Jean Ashley, Robert Allen, Dan H. Barber, Alan M. Swabacker and William Vandegriff. David S. Patterson of 1150 East Court, Novato, is also running. He ran third in a four-candidate field for two positions on the Novato Board last May.

If the election is successful, the voters will have in effect killed the present two school districts and created a new one.

California law states that if the election is held prior to Feb. 1 of any year, the unification will take place at the end of the fiscal year, which is June 30.

Between election day and June 30, if unification passes, the new board of trustees may organize itself, elect a chairman, vice chairman and secretary. It can also set meeting dates, plan the methods of merging the two districts, and prepare the budget for the following year. It can select its superintendent and administrators and extend contracts to teachers.

It can also call an election for voting new bonds. It can also level the bonded indebtedness of the two districts.

The board may make tentative plans for school expansion at all levels. It may make plans on consolidating the elementary school children or changing some boundaries for those attending each of the district's schools.

How the 400 high school students now attending San Rafael high schools from the San Jose District will be assimilated into Novato High School would also be a problem for the new board to decide.

The new trustees must of necessity work closely with the two existing boards because they would take over the functions of both board on July 1, 1962.

Supt. William J. J. Smith has been superintendent of Novato Unified School District since 1948. His contract expires next June 30. Supt. Phillip W. Schneider of the San Jose District, who has been superintendent of the district since 1951, has a contract that goes to June 30, 1964.

The new board must select the superintendent for the new district. It could choose either Smith or Schneider or select someone else. However, by state law, it must honor the existing employment contract for Schneider for two years though not necessarily making him superintendent.

"We will need all the manpower to run the district," said Superintendent Smith of the Novato District. "Both districts are operating to full capacity of the administrators. There is very little duplication in the staffs."

"We're using all available held to run this district," commented Superintendent Schneider. "We are both undermanned."

Smith said that in a new district, there might be a change or two because of a conflict of personalities.

"There usually is," he said. "We expect a certain amount of it."

The new district would not eliminate anyone if competent, both superintendents agreed.

They agreed also that they would work closely with whoever was chosen by the new board as superintendent to see that the two districts' operations were merged as easily and smoothly as possible.

Students Chosen

Students chosen to head the Edna Maguire School student council in Mill Valley for the 1961-62 school years are Gary Fay, president, and Kent Baldwin, vice president, both eighth graders; Vicki Gross, secretary, and Tom Barca, treasurer, both seventh graders.

Henry's Ol' Place Will Change Hands

Henry's Ol' Place, cafe and bar at 218 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, will soon change hands, but the name will stay the same — it fits the new owner perfectly.

Howard E. Henry, 25 College Park, Kentfield, a former marine engineer for American President Lines, has announced his purchase of the business from James and Bert Johnson, with Dec. 1 set as the date for the transfer.

As a tavern established many years ago by the late Henry F. Ghezzi of San Anselmo, it was known simply as "Henry's." The name was changed to Village Inn by a subsequent owner, but when it was acquired by the Johnsons last year it was given its present title in remembrance of the founder.

Henry, who made the purchase jointly with his sister, Mrs. Katherine M. Etienne of Kentfield, said he will conduct the operation himself with few major changes.

The two Johnsons are unrelated. James and his wife Avis have made no definite plans for the future. Bert and his wife Aline said they may open a summer camp next year.

The transaction was handled by Eckert Realty Co. of San Anselmo.

49er Stars Clear Shotgun Of Blame

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—What's happened to the San Francisco 49ers and their once-feared shotgun attack?

The concensus of the players: "We don't know."

"We just haven't been playing football the way we can," commented defensive halfback Jerry Mertens yesterday.

"I haven't been playing well at all. I'm pretty sick about it. I know I can play better. I've been taught to play better. What's holding me up, I don't know."

OTHERS AGREE

Mertens' explanation was echoed by other 49ers in the aftermath of a 17-7 licking by the Los Angeles Rams—a team the 49ers beat 35-0 a few weeks ago.

Next Sunday the 49ers take on the Chicago Bears. The Bears stopped the shotgun and beat the 49ers 31-0 in their last meeting. The 49ers haven't won a game since, managing only a 20-20 tie with Detroit.

Hickey and his staff yesterday viewing films of the Ram game. If they found an answer to the question the players—and fans—were asking, they weren't talking.

TWO INJURED

Hickey said his team will face Chicago without quarterback Bobby Waters and tackle Bob St. Clair.

Both were injured against the Rams. Waters sprained a knee ligament and St. Clair pulled a thigh muscle. Both were hospitalized.

Pony Meeting

Parents of North Marin boys eligible to play Pony League baseball are invited to attend a planning meeting tonight at 8 at the Terra Linda High School cafeteria.

Feldman Sees Patriots As A Rugged Foe

Feldman has his Raiders working out here for the Friday night meeting.

And he and his coaching staff aren't optimistic about the Raiders pulling an upset.

Feldman said yesterday he rates Boston only a notch below the San Diego Chargers, undefeated Western Division leaders.

Oakland, on the other hand, is short of tackles with the loss of veteran defensive tackle Volney Peters last Saturday night. Peters was injured in the Raiders' 23-12 licking by the New York Titans.

Harry Jagielski, who was cut by the Patriots several weeks ago, will start at one defensive tackle spot against the Patriots, Feldman said. Bob Voight draws the other tackle assignments.

Baylor Headed For Army And Big Pay Cut

Laker Ace Getting Ready To Enter Service Nov. 26

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When Elgin Baylor reports to Fort Lewis, Wash., as an Army medical corpsman Nov. 26 he will go off salary as a $50,000-a-year Los Angeles Laker basketball star and draw $85-a-month from Uncle Sam.

Baylor, 26, signed a five-year personal services contract with Laker owner Robert E. Short this year, calling for $250,000. General Manager Louis R. Mohs said a new contract, probably for the same duration and same terms, will be negotiated when Baylor completes his year of service.

Baylor was the high scorer with 39 points last night as the Lakers beat the Chicago Packers, 127-113, and extended their lead in the Western division of the National Basketball League race. The Lakers now are 10-2. It was the ninth loss in 11 games for the Packers, who were led by Walt Bellamy's 30 points.

Baylor was getting his affairs in shape today, for he plays his last game at home Wednesday. He recently bought a home here.

"I've been with this club for four years and I thought this was the year we had a chance for the championship," says Baylor.

Cal, Indians Brace For Hot Opponents

OAKLAND (AP) — California and Stanford have problems. San Jose State and San Francisco State have important games coming up. Pacific and Santa Clara are finished with the 1961 football season and happy about it.

That was the word yesterday at the Northern California Football Writers and Broadcasters luncheon.

Cal and Stanford, who have already had headaches aplenty, face hot teams Saturday. Cal meets Kansas, winner of its last five games. Stanford, with 10 men on the injury list, hosts a Washington State crew that played its best game of the year Saturday in upsetting Oregon.

San Jose State winds up its season at Fresno State against a Bulldog team that's won all eight of its games and is ranked among the nation's top small college teams.

San Francisco State needs a victory against Chico State to tie Humboldt State for the Far Western Conference crown.

Pacific (5-4) and Santa Clara (3-3) wound up their schedules last Saturday night with fine performances.

Quotes from the chow line: California's Marv Levy: "Our problem is almost 100 per cent defensive—not offensive. Kansas has three All American nominees and they've scored 105 points in the last three games."

Don Pierce, Kansas publicist: "Five more points at the right times and we could be 8-0 instead of 5-2-1. Kansas has a quick, hard hitting line and nine, maybe ten good backs."

Stanford's Jack Curtice: "We've got ten men on the injury list. This was the first Monday I can remember when we called off practice. The kids have to recuperate."

Dick Fry, Washington State publicist: "We thought this was going to be Jim Sutherland's finest team at Washington State but it lacked offensive continuity. We've got the best pass catcher in the country in Hugh Campbell."

Bob Tichenal, San Jose State: "We were lucky to beat Pacific. You couldn't ask any more of our Chon Gallegos. I don't see a quarterback on the coast who compares to him."

Terra Linda, Drake JVs Share Crown

Each clinched 4-1, won-loss, records Saturday morning. Drake crunched Tamalpais 39-19 and Terra Linda routed Redwood 21-0. In the other league game that day, San Rafael rode over Novato, 28-0.

The season ended with Redwood and Tamalpais tied for second with 2-2-1 records. San Rafael is third with 2-3, and Novato sits in the cellar very easily with an 0-5 count.

What's Wrong With The Rams? Nobody Knows, Including Owners

HANLEY

Whatever ails the Los Angeles Rams also is getting to be a pain in the neck to other NFL owners. "What's wrong with the Rams?" is the common question heard all around the NFL circuit. Nobody seems to have the answer, least of all the squabbling Ram owners.

The high level quarrel that has been going on for years between Dan Reeves and the three other Ram owners, Ed Pauley, Fred Levy, Jr., and Hal Seley seems to have permeated the whole Ram organization—and finally where it hurts most, the gate.

Other NFL owners are not interested in the family squabble for power other than its detrimental effect on team play and consequently the gate. No other professional team anywhere ever had the drawing power the Rams did in Los Angeles during the past decade.

The 102,368 fans who jammed into the Coliseum for the 1957 game there between the 49ers and Rams is an all-time NFL record. The Coliseum only seats 101,296. But the 102,368, while topping all crowds, was not the only big one down south.

Ten times the Rams drew 90,000 or more. 100,470 (Bears, 1958); 100,202 (Colts, 1958); 95,985 (Redskins, 1951); 95,082 (49ers, 1958); 94,376 (49ers, 1959); 93,751 (Lions, 1953); 93,621 (49ers, 1954); 90,535 (Packers, 1955); 90,135 (Redskins, 1950).

DURING this same period the Rams drew crowds of between 80,000-90,000 a dozen times and the gates between 70,000-80,000 were innumerable.

Smallest Coliseum crowd to watch a 49er-Ram league game in the last decade was 69,828 in 1956. Last year the two California rivals played before 77,254 paying customers.

And what is the pre-game prediction for this Sunday's game? The official preduction from Jack Teele, Ram publicity man, is 50,000. That's not a cut. That's an amputation.

PART OF the attendance drop down south can be attributed to the general downward trend this year in gate figures all around the country with a few exceptions, such as Kezar Stadium, where the 49er Shotgun successfully bucked the trend.

But the main reason Coliseum figures are sharply off may be traced to mediocre Ram play this season—and that, in turn, may be traced to the top where the power politics boys can't seem to agree.

Jets Advance With Victory Over Pipers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Jet moved up a bit in the American Basketball League's Western Division race last night with a final period defense that held the Cleveland Pipers to a meager nine points.

Los Angeles trailed 91-89 going into the fourth quarter, then outscored the Pipers 19-9 for a 108-99 decision that moved them to within one-half game of first-place Kansas City. In last night's only other game, the Chicago Majors beat the Washington Tapers 97-87 at Muskegon, Mich.

Red Auerbach Is Suspended

NEW YORK (AP)—Coach Red Auerbach starts a three-game suspension from the National Basketball Assn. tonight when his Boston Celtics play the Hawks in St. Louis.

The fiery coach of the defending NBA champions was set down yesterday by NBA President Murice Podoloff, who said the suspension would have taken effect sooner except that he was out of town over the weekend.

After a clash with a referee last Thursday in Philadelphia Auerbach was fined $200 and told by Podoloff that his next ejection would result in a suspension. Saturday night, he was tossed out of Boston's game at home with Philadelphia.

Shoeshine Boy Wins Welterweight Crown

Referee Fred Aspostoli stopped it when Sanders staggered into the ropes after getting to his feet. Sanders had downed Smith for an eight-count in the eighth.

The new state champion works as a shoeshine boy at San Francisco International Airport. He has a 17-6-1 fight record.

Cisco Andrade Stops His Rival In Sixth Round

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Cisco Andrade of Compton ripped loose with a ferocious attack on Al Medrano in the sixth round tonight to gain a technical knockout over the Sacramento lightweight in a scheduled 10-rounder.

Andrade, weighing 135, closed with strong punches to the head in the sixth after five rounds in which each fighter held his own. When Medrano's left eye became completely closed, referee Vern Bybee halted the contest.

Medrano weighed 137.

Redwood Banquet Tomorrow, 7 P.M.

It's the club's fourth annual banquet for the athletes and will also honor the cross-country team, said Teather.

Fine Sailing Lures Large Racing Field

By AL MATSON

Under conditions that were close to perfect, the Golden Gate Yacht Club ushered in its program of winter racing. With such breaks, it was only natural that a healthy fleet, 124 boats to be exact, deployed about the starting line awaiting the first gun.

The Folkboats were the best represented with 21 starters, and a secondary Folkboat pattern was also in evidence with the perennial winner, Knuds Wilbroe, Sausalito Yacht Club, again on top. Kruuse Caroe made it one-two for the Sausalitans with a close second in his Flirt. Bob White was guest skipper on Lorio and he landed in the money for third.

It was a clean sweep for the San Francisco Yacht Club in Cruising Club A-B division. The light airs were tailor made for G. C. Kiskaddon's Spirit as she worked out into an early lead and was never headed. Second and third spots were achieved by a pair of K-40's; Glen Waterhouse's Kay Too and Dr. Glenn Cross' Simba.

DIRECTOR OF MONTH

Steve Lato Voted November Honor

The Board of Directors of the Marin Rod and Gun Club have selected Steve Lato as the director of the month.

Here are a few of the reasons: Steve is the vice-president, assistant secretary, secretary of the membership committee, chairman of the planning committee, chairman of our pictures shown at the meetings, chairman of publicity (and by the way he hasn't heard a word from anyone, how about some of those fish stories) and last but not least he is your chairman of the 1962 Sports Show.

STEVE LATO
A hard worker

With all of these duties, you will find Steve at the Clubhouse on weekends and he is working to complete our office and put in a filing system that will be a real help in keeping records.

Steve is also an ardent fisherman and loves to catch a fish bigger than his wife does, whenever he can.

He also loves to write and usually spends most of his evenings writing articles for the benefit of every sportsman.

Series Of Conservation Meetings Is Under Way

First of what is hoped will be a continuous series of conservation meeting was held Oct. 25 at the Marin Rod and Gun clubhouse. G. Paul Jones was appointed chairman, E. A. "Pete" Peters, co-chairman and Frank Short, secretary; others present were Rob Roy, Albert Ferrari, Bernard De Bisschop, Donald Donaldson, Peter Bertoni, Stanley Brooks, John P. "Monte" Marzetta and Willis Evans from the Department of Fish and Game.

The Committee decided that most of its efforts should go towards bettering fishing, hunting and recreation in Marin County. Along these lines the committee decided to work for an increased flow of water down Papermill Creek, so as to enhance the steelhead and salmon runs; review the county's Bolinas master plan with the thought of protecting clamming and fishing rights for the public; review the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project with the hope of protecting and enhancing fish life. Investigate the possibility of cleaning springs in the San Geronimo area so as to keep an increased flow of water going down the lower portion of Papermill Creek during the summer months.

Voted to urge the county supervisors to support a Wildlife Conservation project for construction of a boat ramp and the rebuilding of a fishing pier at the county-owned park located near the Tiburon Net Depot.

Next meeting of the committee is scheduled for 8 p.m., Nov. 15 at the Marin Rod and Gun clubhouse. All club members interested in conservation are invited to attend the meeting, your help and ideas are needed.

Dinner Meeting

The delegates to the Aquatic Resources Committee will hold a dinner meeting at Di Maggio's, Fisherman's Wharf, San Francisco, tomorrow, Nov. 15 at 6 p.m.

Mr. Lawrence Cloyd, manager of Region IV of the Department of Fish and Game will discuss the proposed new Don Pedro Dam

PHEASANTS PLENTIFUL ON OPENING

Hunters by the thousands opened the pheasant season last Saturday.

Results were excellent in many areas on opening day, with the limit being the order of the day.

A high wind in the Sacramento Valley on both days put a damper on the hunting and the birds were hard to find. They kept under cover until flushed.

However, many of us can remember the torrential downpour of last year's opener, along with the lashing south wind.

Hunting under ideal conditions should produce good results as the pheasants are plentiful—the best crop in the past 10 years.

Willows was the mecca for the hunters. In fact, it recalled the old days some 20 years ago.

All accommodations were taxed to capacity as well as the hundreds of trailers parked along the highways. Eating houses and merchants did a thriving business throughout the entire San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys.

Pheasant Club memberships are still available to hunters at $10 per member.

In addition to the closed and open land, state and federal areas are open. The state has five cooperative areas and there are three federally owned wildlife refugees where hunting rights may be secured at a $2 daily fee.

Remember a hunting license and pheasants tags are a must in order to hunt.

Nominating Unit Will Report At Meeting Friday

The regular monthly meeting of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be held on Friday evening at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin at 8 p.m.

The nominating committee will present a slate of prospective members for the Board of Directors at the membership meeting Friday evening. The election will take place place during the December meeting. In addition to those proposed by the committee a member in good standing can be nominated by members from the floor; in this manner a democratic slate can be offered to the members for their selection.

An interesting sports film will be shown also.

THE BAIT BOX

NOTES TO YOU: That time is here again. Nomination of officers in November, that is. Since this is one of the most important meetings of the year, you should make every effort to attend. Don't leave it to the other feller. Do-It-Yourself. Puh-leeze . . . Music to regret by: Jerry Moon has meritoriously earned for himself the title of Unfortunate of the Month. Absent from the last meeting and his card number was drawn for the bait box award . . . Gordon Dixon and co-chairman Leo Ciucci and their committee are working like busy little beavers to get the annual banquet on the road. Gordon suggests you secure your tickets early in view of the usual limitations on seating capacity. You don't want to get left out. Right? . . . The wheels are beginning to turn for the annual sports and boat show. Your reporter has already received several signed contracts from exhibitors and more should be coming in shortly . . . Our Lines Have Tender Drapes: That monofilament fishing line is still draped tenderly over the dispenser, begging to be given away free to members. Bring your empty reel to the meeting. Warren and Jim will be glad to fill it for you.

FRESH DATES: Chalk up these important events on your calendar and be sure to get the dates right. November 15: Conservation meeting at the clubhouse. Chairman Paul Jones would like to see a big turnout at this one . . . November 17: Regular membership meeting. Nomination of officers, no guest speaker this time. The attendance awards will be luscious turkeys for your Thanksgiving dinner! Can you top this? Be sure to bring your family and guests . . . December 2:—details available from Dr. Gail Adams . . . December 9 and 10: Meeting of the California Wildlife Federation — details to be announced at the membership meeting . . . December 16: Club Christmas Party. Those talented youngsters from the Belrose Dance Studio will be entertaining you again. Marge and Dave Belrose promise you a delightful evening. By ALL means, bring the kiddies . . . December 15: Regular membership meeting. Election of officers. If you are at all interested in the running of your organization, you can't afford to miss this one. RSVP —Real Sportsmen Vote Proudly . . . January 15: Jim Bond Show. A humdinger. Jim had to change the date from the 31st to the 15th. Mark ye and mark ye well! . . . January 27: Stag Banquet at Bermuda Palms . . . March 23, 24 and 25: Sports and Boat Show, also at BP.

FISH STORIES: Up to this writing our Fisherman of the Month is J. Cappi for his 9-pound striper taken at the pier. Hang on, J.C. . . . By the way, have you met Al Harris, our new pier keeper. Next time you're at the pier, be sure to say hello to Al. He'll be glad to make your acquaintance . . . Scads of little bass being released at the pier. Bring PLENTY of bait or don't say we didn't warn you . . . My spies tell me that boat fishing alongside the Richmond Bridge is hotter than hot. Limits in an hour's time, up to 5 pounds. That's what the man said.

LEAGUE OF NOTIONS: It seems that the idea of a Marin Rod and Gun Club Bowling League is still just a notion. Without fear of contradiction, it can be truthfully said that the response was underwhelming. A grand total of zero persons signified their intense interest in this program. For the sake of others who were not quite so enthusiastic, here's the story again. We all know that there are plenty of members who go out for bowling in a big way. Well, why not establish a bowling league among our own membership? Your directors have placed their stamp of approval on the idea, but they will not give the green light until they can determine the number of members who would be interested. If you'd like to enter a club league, call President Babe Dahl or Secretary Paul Ware now. Let's start the bowl rolling.

THOUGHTS WHILE THINKING: Wonder how many members and their families are aware of the fine picnic facilities available to them free of charge at the clubhouse grounds. Picnic tables and benches, barbecue pits, running water—and on sale at the nearby clubhouse, smokes and liquid refreshments. All this and a beautiful view of the bay . . . Wonder if the wives of non-member sportsmen realize how much their ever-lovin' mates would appreciate the gift of a membership in the Marin Rod and Gun Club for Christmas. Also, if they know that an applicant joining the club in December receives 13 months of membership for the price of 12. A baker's dozen. . . . Wonder if the fine sound and color film to be shown at this month's meeting will draw a larger attendance than usual . . . Wonder if an appeal to all members would bring in some items of interest for this column so I could stop this darn wondering.

Striped Bass Fishing Off To Big Start

When the seagulls are working on the herring, trolling is good in the area.

Many limits have been taken the past 10 days up to 14 pounds. Trolling spoons and wigglers get the best results.

Si Byrd of San Rafael landed a 25-pound striper at Tomales Bay on bait. He also caught two Silverside salmon, one on bait, the other on a crocodile spoon near Inverness at low tide.

Salmon fishing outside the Gate closed last weekend. During the past 10 days of the season, fishing was exceptionally good and many large fish were taken.

Ladies Auxiliary Meets On Nov. 28

The next regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Marin Rod & Gun Club will be held Nov. 28, at the Clubhouse, Pt. San Quentin, 8:00 p.m.

Elected to the nominating committee in October were Mrs. G. Walford, chairman; Charles Manning, Harry Franke, Wm. Sturges, and Virginia Sapp.

The December meeting date has been changed from December 28th to December 19th. Mark this date on your calendar now.

COLD NEWS:

Super Shell's 9 ingredients now include extra Butane for quick starts, Pentane mix for fast warm-ups and an anti-icer to help fight stalling—all tested for top performance in Shell's "40 below" lab

Today's Super Shell gasoline is ready for winter's worst. Reason: it is primed with no fewer than three cold-weather ingredients to help protect your car when temperatures really drop.

Read how those ingredients work—and how Super Shell's winter blend is tested for top performance in a remarkable new laboratory.

Butane helps your engine start promptly on bitter-cold mornings. Pentane mix speeds the warm-up process. And an anti-icer helps guard your carburetor against critical ice build-up that can cause infuriating stalls.

There, Shell scientists can unleash a 100-mile-an-hour wind at the twist of a dial. They can send the temperature plunging to 40 below—or soaring to 125 above.

And they can drive a car in this remarkable room, through many kinds of "weather," without moving it an inch. A machine called a dynamometer does the trick. It turns with the car's wheels—like a treadmill. The car operates just as it would on the road. And the engine doesn't suspect a thing.

1. How Super Shell's winter blend is tested for cold-weather starting

Shell scientists run cold-weather starting tests on a variety of cars. They insist that Super Shell start all of them promptly.

Butane—what it does. Butane is the quick-firing ingredient in Super Shell's winter blend. If you could remove it from the 9-ingredient formula, it would boil and turn to vapor—even when poured on ice! This makes Butane most helpful on a cold morning. Here's why:

Gasoline must turn to vapor before it can start your car. And in cold weather, gasoline doesn't vaporize nearly as fast as it does in summer.

2. How Super Shell's winter blend is tested for fast warm-ups

Again, temperature in the lab is lowered to about zero. A car, filled with Super Shell, soaks up the cold overnight. Next morning, it is started and eased up to cruising speed. Suddenly, the driver pushes the accelerator pedal halfway to the floor. Did the car respond smoothly? Did it surge and fade? From tests like this, Shell engineers and scientists learn how to adjust Super Shell for fast winter warm-ups.

Pentane mix—what it does. Super Shell's talent for smooth running on winter mornings is due largely to its second cold-weather ingredient—Pentane mix.

It works like kindling in a log fire. In this case, the "logs" are the heavier hydrocarbons in gasoline. The lighter Pentane molecules act as "kindling" for the entire blend and help you enjoy top performance sooner.

For this test, humidity is increased and the lab temperature is raised to 40 degrees above zero. Why raise the temperature? Because ice is most likely to form in your carburetor at that temperature—even though it is well above freezing. Here's how:

When you start your car, moisture-laden air flows into the carburetor along with the fuel. As the fuel evaporates, the temperature inside your carburetor drops.

The evaporating fuel cools the area around it—just as evaporating moisture on your skin cools the skin surrounding it. Suddenly, the inside of your carburetor is freezing cold.

The moisture in the air turns to ice. The ice clings to vital carburetor parts and chokes off the air-fuel mixture. Result: you stall.

Super Shell's winter blend, with three cold-weather ingredients, is at Shell stations today. And don't forget all the other ingredients in today's Super Shell (see below). They're working every day you drive, every season of the year, to give your car top performance.

#1 is TCP* for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
#2 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.
#3 is anti-knock mix to resist all kinds of knocks.
#5 is Butane for quick starts.
#6 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for power.
#9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

A Luau Honors Abramsons Who Will Live In Honolulu

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Michell Abramson Jr. of Hill Haven, who with their two small daughters, Karen, 8, and Denise, 6, will leave soon to make their home in Honolulu for two years, were honored at a luau given Saturday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Jampolksy in Hill Haven. Co-hosts with the Jampolskys were the William Johnstones, Charles Pruetts and Rolf Beeres.

The party was staged in a tropical setting and everyone was in Hawaiian costume. In addition to the Abramsons guests were Dr. and Mrs. Donald Bittner, Messrs. and Mesdames Victor Banks, Harold Olson, David Ring and Lee Brand.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Carter of Orinda gave a cocktail party Sunday for the Abramsons. Michell is taking his family to Hawaii as he will be with the new Honolulu office of Whitaker and Bexter Campaigns, Inc. This is a public relations counseling and political management firm.

MRS. HARRY W. JOHNSON of Loch Lomond had hardly unpacked her bags on her return from Europe before she heard the news from Ohio she was a grandmother again. The baby, named Jennifer Susan, was born a week ago today. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Harry Johnson of Cincinnati. They have two other children, Steven, 3, and Christine, 16 months. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Williams of San Marino.

Mrs. Johnson met Miss Katie Jenkins of New Orleans in New York and they flew to Beirut, Lebanon, where they were met by Miss Jenkins' sister. Mrs. Edwin Benson of Kent Woodlands, and her husband. The Bensons, whose home is in Kent Woodlands, and who were in Arabia for more than a year, have now returned to Marin. The four toured Jerusalem and the Holy Land. Then Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Benson and Miss Jenkins went to Turkey, cruised around the Aegean Islands, went to Greece for two weeks and met Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mrs. Hoeter Nelson of San Rafael in Athens. The Nelsons had been in Germany and visited Mrs. Joseph (Lola) Joseph, erstwhile Marinite, at her home in Garmisch. They were going on to Turkey, Italy, Spain and Portugal and will be home on Saturday.

THE FOUNDER of the Belvedere Tennis Club, W. R. D. Cuthbertson, and his wife were honored at the large cocktail party given Sunday by Dr. and Mrs. William Ferguson at their home on the Belvedere Lagoon. The party, attended by 75 guests, marked the close of the tennis season. Both of the club's trophies were on display. Mrs. Ferguson received the one for the women's singles. The trophy for the men's singles was won by William Slater. This is a continuing trophy and was presented to the club by Mr. Ferguson. It had been won by his father in Singapore in 1895. It is an 18-inch high silver vase, heavily embossed, a Chinese work of art.

Highlight of their trip was a visit with friends in Holland. They met a friend from Sausalito, Russell Regan, who happened to be in London on business. They took the six-day Rhine cruise from Rotterdam to Basle and stayed some time at Zurich because they were especially impressed with Switzerland's picturesque beauty.

They also visited Copenhagen, Venice, Rome, Vienna, Paris and London.

'Bubbling Rockets' Newest Yule Light

Shaped like a miniature rocket, this new design seems poised for count down and launching when clipped to the branches of the tree. The specially designed spring-clip holds the lamp vertical at all times. The base of each of these lite missiles glows brightly through the colored plastic fins and the bubbling is the "first stage" of the rocket.

Contemporary Art Museum Set For Capital, Thanks To Woman

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

Because a tough-minded little woman wouldn't give up her dream, the nation's capital is going to have a museum of contemporary American art.

Standing sturdily behind the Corcoran Gallery of Art plan for a new wing is Edith G. Halpert, a New York art dealer for 35 years. The Washington gallery that at first said it couldn't afford them, recently agreed to terms she set forth two years ago when she offered about 300 20th century American paintings for permanent exhibition.

"A national gallery has been a real honest-to-God obsession with me for 20 years," says Mrs. Halpert, a peppery, white-haired woman who could be called the grand dame of modern art curators except that she would object to it as too high-toned.

"I think it's a real disgrace. Every other country has its national gallery, and foreigners are appalled to learn we haven't."

"My collection is not entirely representative because I don't like some artists' work and I never handle anything I don't like. But I can get what's needed from others; I'll make every dealer come across."

When she offered her entire collection — she attached strings.

"I made many difficult provisos from their point of view. I insisted on a completely separate unit with separate entrance with just the name 'Twentieth Century American Art,' plus its own curator and air conditioning—more for preservation of the paintings than for comfort of people. And I want an impartial expert to select the paintings to go into the wing.

"Well, the gallery turned it down. But I made up my mind I would put these pictures in Washington if it had to be in a tent."

It's not her first victory in art.

In the summer of 1959 Mrs. Halpert, who had been appointed curator of the American Art Exhibition in Moscow, engaged in a headlined tiff with President Eisenhower.

When he made it known he didn't think some of the paintings being sent over were typically American, she said he had no business second-guessing competent critics.

Looking back on the hassle, she recalls that Russians crowded to the exhibit to see the woman who had talked back to a president, and remained in her job. "It was a good plug for democracy," she says.

"The Russians were always talking about their art being for the people, and our art expressing the degradation of capitalism. And at the same time some members of our Congress were calling our art Communistic.

"I saw undercover art there with a lot of abstraction, but for the government it has to have three-dimensional realism."

Mrs. Halpert, who speaks Russian, would give talks to art professionals, telling them American art is truly a people's art and enters into every phase of living.

"You can't go anywhere without seeing contemporary art," she says.

"Industry is a big buyer, and I think it's interesting they charge it to public relations and not decorating."

Families Of Working Mothers Tend To Suffer, Study Shows

(Q) "I heard a woman say, the fact that mothers work does not hurt their children. She said that poor relationships caused children's delinquency. This woman is a welfare official, herself a working mother. Was this double-talk?"

C.S.

(A) Yes. It is harder for working mothers to maintain good home relationships than mothers who are with their kids all the time. Work is an important factor. I studied several hundred teen-agers whose mothers had worked when they were tiny. The delinquency rate for them was twice as big as normal. One of the goofy things about official reports on working mothers is that the reports usually are made by working mothers. The ladies often use double-talk to conceal the sad fact that millions of kids whose mothers work don't get a fair break in life.

(Q) "I'm the mother of a 16-year-old girl. Recently I bought her first formal gown and she is in tears because I insisted on a modest neckline. She said the other girls wear formals with low necklines and that she would look like a square. I called the mothers of the other girls and found my daughter was right — most of the children have rather daring gowns. Why do schools let girls go to dances dressed that way? What is wrong with parents who permit it? Or am I at fault?"

Mrs. L.A.

(A) You are not at fault. Teen-age girls have bad judgment and need protection. However, you should not blame the schools. They have rules which teachers do their best to enforce. Girls in immodest clothes are sent home.

Probably the girls' mothers are chiefly at fault. I've talked with many mothers who were angry because their daughters had been sent home from school parties for wearing plunging necklines. They encouraged their girls to go to extremes. Fortunately, teen-agers adjust quickly to new styles —dresses which would have caused riots ten years ago pass almost unnoticed now.

Before Dyeing Cloth, Use Remover Bleach On Stains

By ANNE STERLING

Some people think that stains can be covered up by dyeing, but that isn't true. Dye is deposited evenly over a fabric, so the stained area simply becomes darker. The right method is to remove all the color with a dye remover, then proceed with your dyeing. Never use household bleach to remove color. If you use your home washing machine for dyeing, clean it immediately after dyeing is completed by filling tub with hot water and putting through regular wash cycle with soap and bleach. Remove all traces of dye with a damp cloth, paying particular attention to lint trap and door. You can simplify cleaning by covering door with a material such as pliofilm or aluminum foil before dyeing. Home dyeing can usually be done successfully if the manufacturer's instructions are followed carefully. If in doubt, leave it to the professionals.

Shady Business — Did you ever wonder why deep-pile rugs seem to change color in certain spots? This is what is known in the industry as "shading." The nap of most rugs doesn't stand straight but slopes in one direction. When the nap is "disturbed" (through scuffing, moving furniture, etc.), the direction is changed and the color seems to change. This is not a defect and, in fact, shading is often more noticeable in better carpets because the pile is deeper. Shading can be minimized by using a good rug cushion and by finishing up your vacuum by running the sweeper in the direction of the pile.

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 14, the 318th day of the year with 47 more to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1832, the first streetcar in the world made its appearance on the streets of New York.

In 1935, President Franklin D. Roosevelt proclaimed the Philippine Islands to be a free commonwealth.

A thought for the day: Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., said: "Life is an end in itself, and the only question as to whether it is worth living is whether you have enough of it.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Thrifty Player Is Willing To Spend Reasonable Amount

A thrifty bridge player isn't stingy. He's willing to spend reasonable amounts, in the form of tricks, to keep the wolf from the door.

A stingy player would go down at three notrump. He would win the first trick with the queen of clubs and cash the king and queen of spades.

When the spades broke badly, the frugal fellow would feel forlorn. Where does he go from here to make nine tricks?

Harold Ogust, well known New York manufacturer and bridge expert, made the game contract by knowing when to be wasteful. He won the first trick with the queen of clubs and played the spades properly.

EXTRA CHANCE: Ogust gave himself an extra chance when he played the spades. He cashed the king of spades and overtook the queen with the dummy's ace. If both opponents followed, he would lead a third spade to set up the rest of dummy's suit. The ace of clubs would be an entry, and he would win five spades, two clubs and the two red aces.

When the spades failed to break, Ogust was in position to try the diamonds as his extra chance. He led the ten of diamonds from dummy for a finesse. It didn't matter whether East covered or not. South could get back to dummy with the ace of clubs for another diamond finesse if necessary, and could thus be sure of four diamonds, two spades, two clubs and the ace of hearts.

DAILY QUESTION—Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ J 10 8 4
♥ 9
♦ K 6 2
♣ K 10 6 4 3

What do you say?

Answer: Pass. You should not expect to make game with only seven points in high cards. If you bid two clubs, partner will assume that you are using the Stayman Convention, looking for a major suit. Then you will probably get to a worse contract than one notrump unless your partner just happens to have four spade.

Chamber Group Names Committee

The Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce has named a nominating committee of Lawrence A. Mayer, chairman; Donald W. Chapman and Robert A. Walker to present 10 nominees for five directors to be elected for 1962.

Also named by the chamber is a committee to recommend a planner to advise the board on the proposed Mill Valley master plan. It includes Jack R. Lentz, chairman; William A. Hamilton, Harold J. Muller and Ernest Friberg.

A vote was taken to take no action on proposed rezoning of the Bothin property at Miller Avenue and Camino Alto because of "diverse and conflicting opinions of the board and chamber members," Secretary-Manager Granville L. Beedle said.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

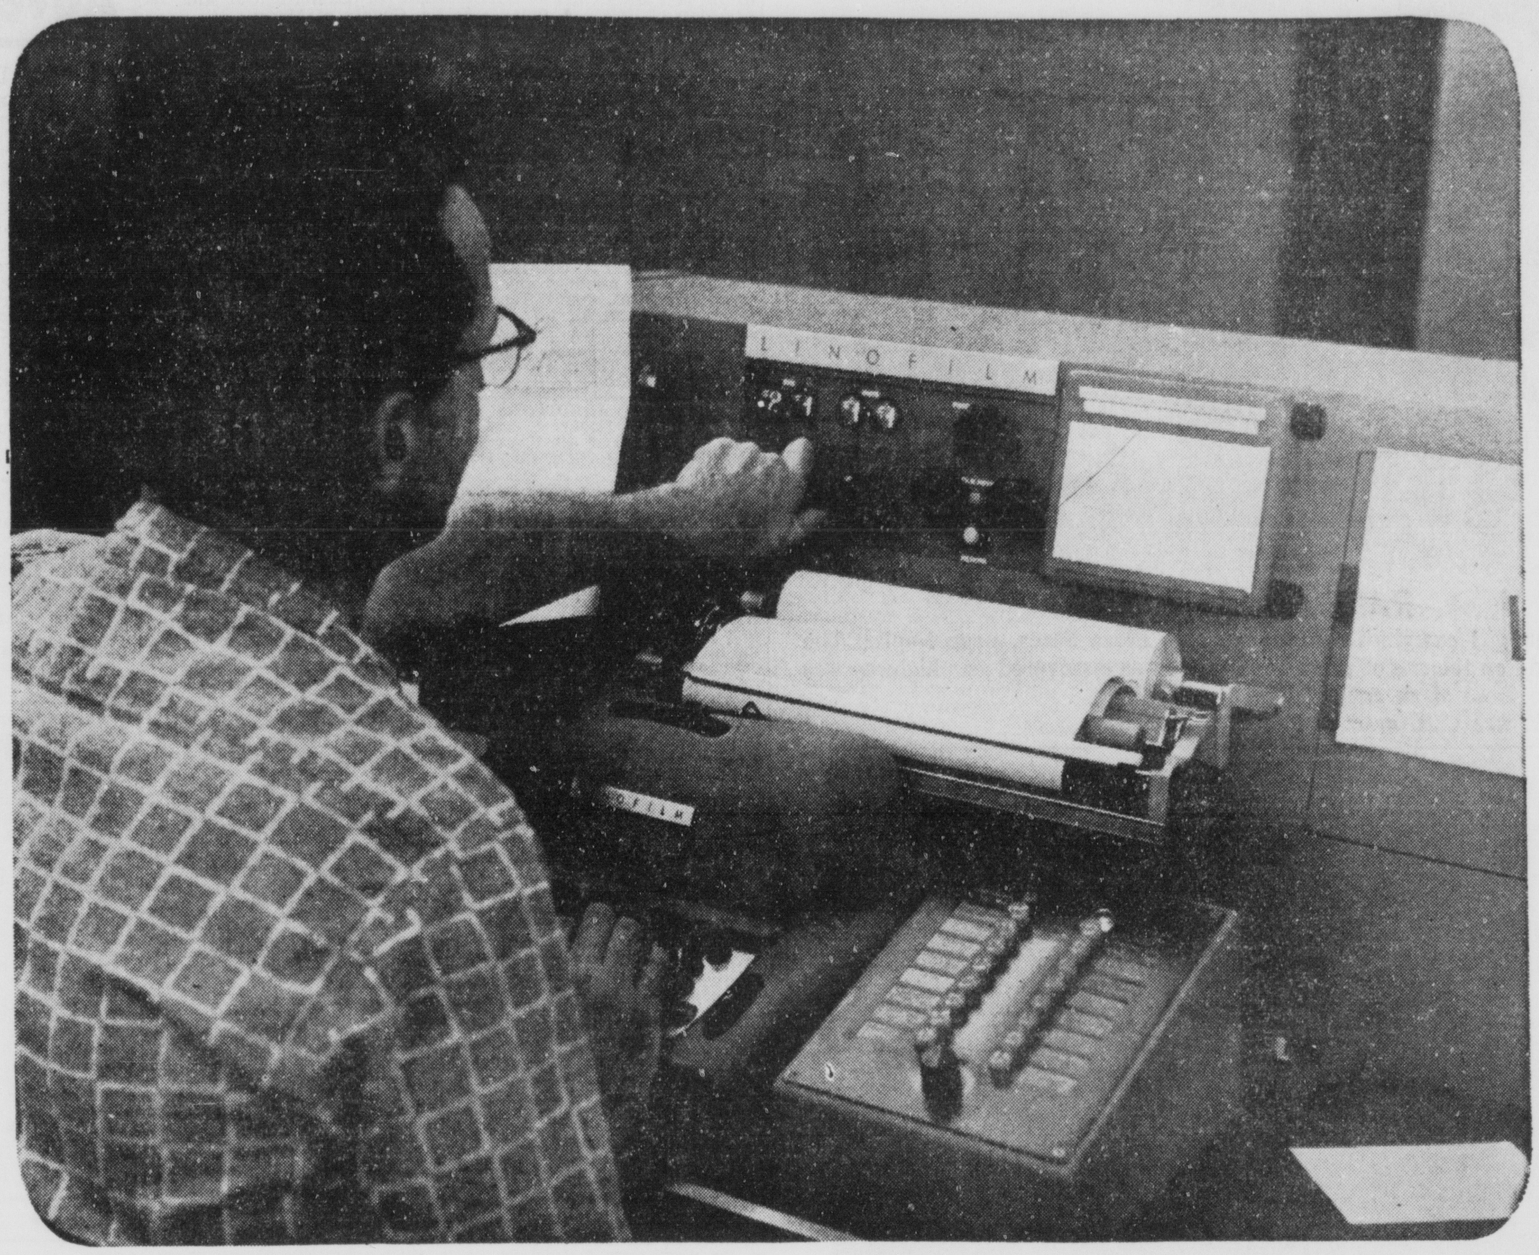

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

New I-J Electronic "ad machine" brings unheard-of flexibility to advertisers

Here at the I-J, we are now able to offer retailers a new kind of advertising service. For the first time in the history of printing it overcomes the limitations of metal type and the reproduction of illustrations. It's all due to our new quarter-million dollar electronic type-setting equipment that adds the new dimension of flexibility.

Our "ad machine" can't think, of course; that's the job of the I-J's 8 advertising specialists. They're the idea men; but the machine can put those ideas into black and white so that you get better ads at lower cost. Type can be blown up, reduced, double-printed; illustrations can be pasted right into place—a hundred new advances are now available through electronics. Listed below are the advantages you can count on for your advertising.

Operator pushes a button to change type fonts—Bodoni, Caslon, whatever is needed. He "blows up" type by turning a knob.

Type is "set" on electronically punched tape—all sizes, all kinds. Electronic photography will bring it "alive."

Here's the type, on paper... being pasted up in an ad. Type has been enlarged or reduced photographically to fit exactly.

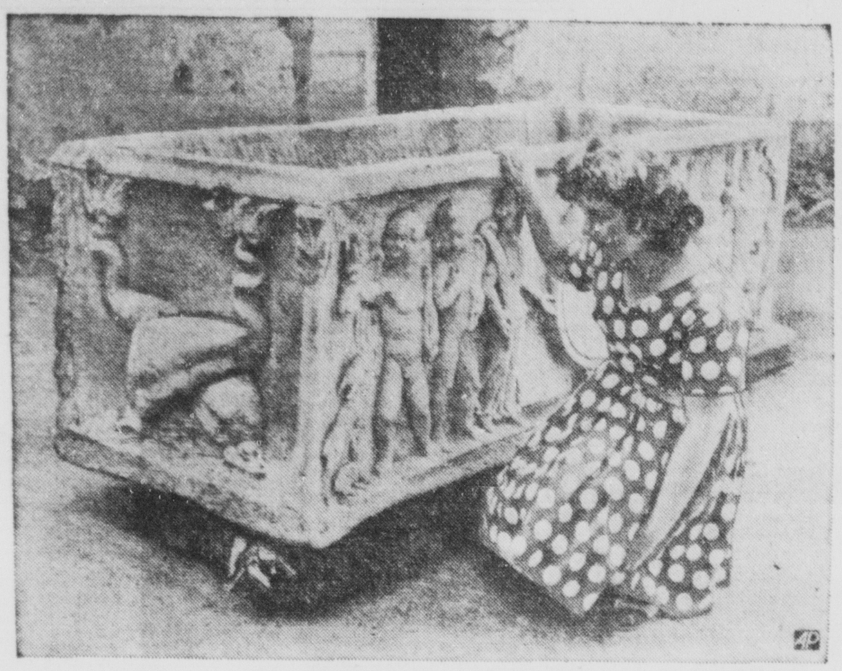

Here's what it means to you as an advertiser

- a better selection of type; clearer, sharper. No limitations of "point" sizes.
- fresh, new type, every letter, every line, every time—for better printing.
- double printing at no extra cost. (Type can be set on piece of merchandise, for instance.)
- special screen effects—no extra charge.
- actual size illustrations can be pasted right in ad (saving you cost of engravings which formerly had to be done).
- savings on engravings lowers your total advertising costs.
- we still can use mats, but can also reproduce direct from your illustrations, magazine photos, clips.
- faster advertising service; we paste up ads, "pull" proofs by special machine process—saves lock-up and mechanical time.
- we keep files of your art work for future use, saving you time.

Special note:

The electronic system frees you of the cost—and the need—to have engravings made in order to supply us with original artwork. (You can actually photograph merchandise, for example, and we can reproduce it, same size, without charge). All final printing, however, of all advertisements is made from highest-quality engravings.

RARE ITALIAN FIND

An Italian girl examines a sarcophagus found on the site of ruins believed to be those of an ancient Roman city. It was uncovered at Fossato Pezza Secca, near Naples. The site was discovered as a highway was being built.

A MARITIME MIRROR

Two Royal Navy frigates, because they are so similar, present a picture like a mirrored reflection after tying up in the Pool of London. The crafts are the Rhyl (left) and Plymouth, part of the British Home Fleet.

Plans Unit Meeting On Bothin Property

Mill Valley Planning Commission will hold a public hearing at its meeting tonight on a request to change the zoning of the Bothin property from special commercial to a commercial to allow retail sales and service.

The 9.22-acre tract lies across Miller Avenue from Tamalpais High School. In 1960 the city council turned down a request for a permit to allow construction of a bowling alley, shops and a cocktail lounge on the property.

Guilty Plea To Trespass Charge

Kevin Francis Stonum, 31, San Francisco electrical technician, has pleaded guilty to trespassing into a Fairfax summer home last October.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court set Nov. 30 as the date of sentencing.

Fairfax police caught Stonum entering a summer home at 64 Mountain View Avenue on Oct. 20. Stonum was originally charged with burglary but this was dropped. Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth said a misdemeanor trespassing charge was substituted because the house belonged to a relative of Stonum, and he entered only to drink a can of beer.

Probation Given In Escape Case

Alvin Thompson Sr. of Redwood City has been given a suspended state prison sentence, put on probation for three years and sentenced to six months in Marin County Jail with work furlough privileges for conspiracy, helping a San Quentin Prison inmate to escape and then harboring him.

He was sentenced by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Superior Court, before whom he pleaded guilty Oct. 23 to helping Warren Van Sandt, 39, convicted car thief, escape from San Quentin Prison on Sept. 30.

Thompson's son, Alvin Thompson Jr., also serving time in San Quentin for car theft, pleaded innocent before Judge Sims yesterday to helping Van Sandt escape. The judge set his jury trial for Jan. 9, 10 and 11.

Employment Unit Places 516 In Jobs

Job placements made through the San Rafael office of the California State Employment Service reached 516 in October, manager E. W. Ayer reported today.

This is more than double the placements made in October, 1960, when 237 jobs were filled, he said. About 125 of the 516 hired last month were students —86 of them students of College of Marin who were hired through the placement service set up at the college this year.

Unemployment insurance claims fell from a weekly average of 705 in September to 630 in October, lowest point in 1961, he said. However, the figure still is high compared to October, 1960, when claims averaged 430 a week.

Last week job placement offices were opened at San Rafael and Terra Linda High schools.

Students seeking work are interviewed, registered, and screened. If qualified, they are referred to the employer by state personnel working in cooperation with school authorities, Ayer said.

Artist Wins Award

Mill Valley artist Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff has won second place in the New York Times annual awards for the "10 best illustrated children's books" for her illustrations in "Sandpipers." The book was written by Edith Thatcher Hurd, also of Mill Valley.

Syria lies on the land bridge linking Asia, Africa and Europe.

SPECIAL
$2,595

Here's a real buy—it's a little '61 Buick compact 4-dr. Special deluxe that we've used here at the company during 1961.

It sells new for just over $3100 but you can buy this one for $2595 with a full new car guarantee of one year and 12,000 miles—just like a brand new one.

It's two tone blue with matching custom interior. This little car has only 7,000 miles on it and hasn't a scratch, dent or show of wear anywhere. It's fully equipped with dynaflow, radio, heater, EZI glass, and brand new white wall tires that we just installed so as to make this car as close to new as possible. It's never been licensed so you would be the first owner of record.

It burns regular gas and gets exceptional mileage for a car that has as much performance as this one has.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Concerto To Have Premier Tonight

The first concerto ever written for four hands, one piano, will receive its world premiere tonight when Milton and Peggy Salkind play the work they commissioned five years ago at their appearance with the Oakland Symphony Orchestra under direction of Gerhard Samuel.

Mill Valley's duo concert pianists and teachers commissioned "The Little Concerto for Piano" from composer Andrew Imbrie, professor at University of California school of music, paying for with money obtained from a series of private "Evenings of Music."

"By the time we raised the money," they said, "about 500 people could have claimed stock in the concerto."

The Salkinds have just returned from a tour of Alaska, where they gave 15 adult concerts and 25 for children, including one for 750 Eskimo students at Sitka. They were the first artists in the history of the "Alaska Music Trail" series to take their children with them. Karen, 10, and Mark, 8, made the trip.

LIBERTY IMPAIRED

Doctor Says Drunk Laws Not Right

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Drunkenness and narcotics addiction are not crimes and should not subject a person to arrest, a New York judge said here yesterday.

Chief Justice John M. Murtagh of the New York City Court of Special Sessions, said arrests of such persons was probably unconstitutional and a "very serious impairment of their civil liberties."

He made his statements at a three-day international symposium on "alcohol and civilization" at the University of California Medical Center.

Last year the U. S. Supreme Court reversed a decision in a Kentucky case, he said, ruling that being drunk is not a violation of the law.

New York police, he said, no longer arrest drunks unless they are guilty of such "aggressive" behavior as assault or driving while intoxicated.

He said California's laws on drug addiction were "bad laws" and should be repealed, allowing doctors to treat addicts the same as patients suffering other ailments, instead of only in institutions.

Continuance Is Given Rogers

Robert Burdett Rogers, San Gabriel contractor who has pleaded innocent Oct. 23 to a new charge of wife murder has been granted a continuance in Marin Superior Court to Monday for setting of trial date.

Rogers was convicted of slaying his estranged wife Bertie in San Rafael two years ago and sentenced to five years to life in prison. The State Supreme Court set aside the conviction and ordered a new trial last July.

Enlists In Navy

William Blythe Martin, 18, son of Mrs. Phyllis D. Altmann of 2279 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, enlisted in the Navy Wednesday at the Marin County Navy Recruiting Station in San Rafael. He has been sent to the Naval Training Center in San Diego for recruit training.

Probation Given Check Passer

Nasrollah Maghsoddi, 23, alias Nassrollah Magoocei and other names, who pleaded guilty Oct. 16 to two worthless check charges, has been given a six-month suspended county jail sentence and put on two years probation in Marin Superior Court.

Assistant Public Defender Jerome C. Durham told Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. that the defendant, a former Redwood High School student from Iran, who lives in San Francisco, had made full restitution on the checks.

The judge said he must make restitution for "any other checks that may turn up later." He exonerated the youth's $1,050 bail and released him on his own recognizance.

County Hospital Plan Cost Breakdown Refused Board

Frank E. Marsh refused yesterday to tell the Marin County Board of Supervisors the source of his figures on private operation of a hospital for the county.

He sent the supervisors a letter saying he's already spent $15,000 on working up a proposition to furnish 90 beds at $400 a month each, the cost figure subject to annual review and change if necessary. Overall cost of the project has been estimated at $665,000, he added.

"Some figures must be confidential," said Marsh, "so I don't feel that we should provide any additional information."

Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell asked the board for four policy decisions regarding the hospital:

1. Supervisors should determine, said Mitchell, "whether or not the county wishes to go out of the nursing home business."

2. Decision should be made as to whether it's desired to try such a deal as one proposed by F. Lloyd Grandi of Marvelous Marin Realty Co., for construction and lease-back over 20 to 25-year period.

3. Decision should be made as to whether the supervisors want to close present facilities "and farm the patients to private institutions, some within the county wherever beds may be available and some outside the county and throughout the state."

4. If construction of a new facility is planned, decisions are needed on number of beds, type to be built, and choice of an architect.

There are enough funds now available for investigation and planning during the present fiscal year, said Mitchell. Continuance of a 40-cent tax rate hitherto applied to civic center would allow construction to start next fiscal year with no increase in tax rate.

With only three members present, the board was unwilling to make any decisions, awaiting return today of Supervisor William Gnoss and return from Mexico of Supervisor George Ludy about two weeks hence.

Chairman William D. Fusselman told of accompanying county and state engineers to the hospital yesterday morning for preliminary check on temporary repair work needed to preserve its license past Dec. 31. He said state engineer Robert J. Barnecut will send the board a letter on the state's requirements.

Fusselman said he expected Barnecut to indicate the amount of strengthening required to keep the license temporarily, or to suggest the alternative of "farming out" patients, with a third possibility

Hollis Counts Self Out Of State Race

VIRGIL S. HOLLIS
Counts self out

Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County superintendent of schools, will not be a candidate for state superintendent of public instruction next year, he announced today.

Hollis instead will undertake "a vigorous campaign to be re-elected county superintendent," he said.

Long mentioned as a possible candidate to succeed retiring State Supt. Roy A. Simpson, Hollis said "unavoidable personnel and organizational changes taking place in the Marin county schools office" make it imperative that he "work closely with the office staff to obtain the best possible results for the county school program." Thus he would not have time to campaign throughout California.

In recent months all three of Hollis' top assistants have changed. Asst. Supt. Richard D. Hinze resigned to take another position. He has been replaced by Edward R. Credell. Edwin L. Blackmore, has been reassigned as coordinator of rural education and secretary to the County Committee of School District Reorganization. Asst. Supt. Rudolph S. Kupfer has been hospitalized for four weeks and probably will not return to the job for many more weeks.

In announcing he will not

YOU CAN SURVIVE

There Will Be Time To Gather Family

(Seventh in a series)

By Prof. Willard F. Libby

It is night; families are sleeping.

Secretly, rocket missiles are fired and 30 minutes later they strike.

Of what use then, many people ask, is a family fallout shelter? Some give this doubt as a reason for doing nothing.

But the fact is you have one to several hours to assemble your family, to have your children run home from school, unless you are in the immediate blast area. Neither you nor I can predict whether we will be right under a bomb, and so have relatively little or no chance at all.

If children are in school, should they really run home if the locality has not been severely damaged, or is some distance from the blast?

My unequivocal answer is, yes. Provided you have a fallout shelter at your home. The really shocking fact is that practically no schools in the land have provided fallout shelters. Children have no place else to go but home, or to public shelters. Distraught parents would be wondering whether they were safe.

Nixon Calls For U.S. 'Policy Of Victory'

By CHAPIN A. DAY

There is "too much talk of the fear of war and not enough of the hope of peace."

There is "too much talk of the weakness of the United States and the strength of the Communist bloc, and too little of the strength of the United States and the weaknesses of the Communist bloc."

There is "too much talk about compromise, and not enough about victory for the United States and the forces of freedom."

These things Richard M. Nixon, former vice president of the United States, now a candidate for Republican nomination for governor of California, told a crowd of nearly 5,000 last night at San Francisco's Cow Palace.

We need a "policy of victory," Nixon declared, "not just compromise, but victory." This "is not war mongering. It is possible to have a strategy of strength without war. We must conscientiously attempt to find diplomatic and propaganda devices to explain that our aim is not just to defend freedom, but to expand it all over the world."

About half the crowd sat at long tables on the floor of the Cow Palace at a $100-a-plate dinner. The rest went just for the speech and sat in the bleachers behind the diners and opposite the speaker's platform.

Marin County came in for special mention from the general chairman of the Northern California Republican fund raising affair, Lindsey Spright. He praised Marin's finance

LAST LINK TO RUSSIAN RIVER PLACED

A ceremony in Petaluma today was great news for Novatans, threatened with a water shortage. The last section of a pipeline linking the North Marin Water District with Russian River water sources was put in place in downtown Petaluma, conveniently near the Veterans Memorial Building. Sonoma and North Marin officials lined up to watch the historic pipe-laying. Petaluma Mayor Everett Matzen is tall man in center of line-up, flanked by other officials. Marin's section of the line was completed several weeks ago, but delays had been encountered on the Petaluma section. The completion today was still nearly three months ahead of the original target date. (Independent-Journal photo)

Furnace Job 'Could Have Blown Up'

Another complaint against Holland Furnace Co. of San Francisco was reported by Corte Madera Building Inspector William G. McBride today on a job which a San Rafael contractor said "could have blown up."

McBride said Holland Furnace Co. installed a thermostat for a heater in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. White at 17 Palm Avenue, Corte Madera, for a price of $180 on Nov. 6.

'$75 AT MOST'

David Bartholow of Bartholow and Co. of San Rafael, sheet metal and heating contractors, said a high estimate for the thermostate would be "$75 at the most."

Bartholow, at request by McBride, went to the Corte Madera home and inspected the job yesterday. He reported the pressure regulator was not in the right place and the pilot light was improperly installed. He said one pipe connection was leaking so much the escaping gas would sustain a flame. "If enough leaking gas accumulated, it could have caused an explosion," he said.

PG&E REPAIRS

McBride called Pacific Gas and Electric Co. repairmen who repaired the apparent faulty connections.

"The work was done by the Holland Furnace people in a hazardous manner. It was direct violations to the town's codes," said McBride.

McBride further reported that the White's next-door neighbor, Mario Granucci of 11 Palm Avenue, purchased a heater from Holland Furnace Co. on the same day, Nov. 6, at $670.44.

The City of San Rafael finally had a budget today for a fiscal year that will soon be half over.

The city council last night adopted a revised budget totaling $2,143,315—a cut of $353,000 from the amount that was budgeted (but not all spent) last fiscal year.

The total is up slightly from the $2,129,986 submitted earlier by City Manager Dan E. Andersen. The increase is accounted for by regular step increases in pay of city employees, plus new shortwave radios authorized for the public works department and an additional building inspector for seven months of the year, Andersen said.

ESTIMATE

This would leave little balance for upward revision of salaries, sought by employees but postponed by the council pending a detailed review of the salary structure. Councilmen last night agreed to hold a special meeting on salaries sometimes between now and Jan. 1.

Andersen called the $2,143,315 budget "realistic . . . free of padding." He noted that last year the council approved expenditures of nearly $2,500,000, but spending for the year totaled only $1,925,798.68.

LOWER FIGURE

"The lower figure for 1961-62 does not mean in any way that we have or are contemplating cutting present services or personnel," he said. "What it does mean is that members of the city council have only made allowance for items and projects which we know we can complete during the current year."

The city had a balance on hand on June 30 of $918,750.21, reported Andersen—a "kitty" into which the council may dip to raise salaries, and perhaps to build a new city hall.

Prison Narcotic Ring Is Revealed At San Quentin

A narcotics ring, involving at least three women and six San Quentin inmates, has smuggled quantities of narcotics, including $18,000 to $24,000 worth of heroin, into San Quentin Prison in the last six months, prison officials disclosed today.

Marijuana and peyote are also believed to have been smuggled into prison by women visitors since the operation began last March.

Associate Warden Louis A. Nelson said this is the longest continuous smuggling operation ever discovered at the prison.

About six ounces of heroin trickled into the prison, he said. Heroin sells for $500 on the outside, but prison officials said the going rate inside the prison is between $3,000 and $4,000 per ounce.

CHECK TIE-IN

Investigation also disclosed a bizarre connection between this ring and bad checks that turned up after the recent San Quentin art show. Prison officials originally suspected that outsiders had paid six checks, each for $100, which later bounced. The investigation of the dope ring disclosed that inmate Marion Wayne O'Dell, 26, had probably forged the checks and slipped them into the prison cash register in exchange for $600 in cash, Nelson said. This cash was used to pay for some of the smuggled dope, officials said.

O'Dell entered San Quentin in 1957 for rape in Sacramento County.

PEYOTE FOUND

The only drug found in the prison thus far was a button of peyote concealed in a special pocket inside the shoe heel of inmate Thomas Devers, 24, who is serving time for receiving stolen property in Alameda County.

On Nov. 6, San Quentin officials watched a woman visitor from behind a one-way mirror and saw her giving something to Devers. The prisoner slipped it inside his heel.

State narcotics agents found some heroin in an apartment of a woman in the East Bay which they said was to have been smuggled into the prison.

Since two of the three women are still at large, officials did not release the names of the three women suspects. One is from Los Angeles and the other two from the East Bay.

Seminary Student, Son Die In Crash

A Marin theology student and his 11-year-old-son were killed Sunday night in Solano County in a three-car crash involving a honeymoon couple and a youth en route home from visiting his girl friend.

Delmar A. Walker, 35, of Petaluma, a student at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry, and his son, Darrell, were killed in the crash. Walker's 13-year-old daughter, Priscilla, suffered a leg fracture and facial injuries.

The California Highway Patrol reconstructed the crash this way: Bert Crandall, 26, of Antioch, was headed home on State Route 12 after visiting a girl friend in Petaluma. As he rounded a curve at Sears Point, his car crashed head-on with one driven by Max E. Carpenter, 21, of San Francisco, in which Carpenter and his bride, Tami, were en route home from their honeymoon.

Crandall's car went off the road, careened back on and struck Walker's auto, knocking it off the highway. Walker was thrown into the rear seat. Priscilla was trapped under the instrument board. Darrell was crushed between front and back seats.

Crandall suffered fractures of leg, ankle, hip and pelvis, internal injuries and numerous cuts. Mrs. Carpenter suffered

Improvement Clubs Ask Hospital Probe

Reporting to the group was Dr. Bruce Merrill of Belvedere, former chairman of a Marin Council for Civic Affairs committee which investigated the county hospital situation.

The federation also voted to notify the Marin County Planning Commission that it supports the policy of "open air zoning" approved by the planners. The zoning policy is intended to preserve green belts within the county.

Unanimous disapproval of "sub-standard subdivisions" for Point Reyes was voted by the federation. Gilbert Darroch, federation chairman, said the group would notify the board of supervisors it objects to supervisors' approval of subdivisions which have been rejected by the county planning commission.

Quentin Felon Climbs Fence To Outside

A 26-year-old convict from San Diego on an attempted robbery conviction climbed a five-foot chain link cattle fence beside the San Quentin Prison quarry and escaped this morning.

Richard G. Heriford had been working at the quarry on the hill beside the prison and his absence was noted at 10:30 check. He had been an inmate since June 8 of last year.

Described as five feet eight inches and 145 pounds in weight, he has hazel eyes, ruddy complexion, brown hair and was wearing prison blue denims and shirt.

Lumumba Executed, U.N. Group Says

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A U.N. investigating commission expressed belief today Patrice Lumumba, former Congo premier, was executed last January in the presence of high Katanga officials, including Premier Moise Tshombe.

The commission described as "staged" the account by Katanga officials that Lumumba and two other associates were killed by tribesmen Feb. 12.

On the contrary, the commission said, it accepts as substantially true evidence indicating Lumumba and his associates were killed Jan. 17 after their arrival in a villa not far from Elisabethville, the Katanga capital.

It was not until Feb. 13 that the Katanga radio first announced death of the fiery Congolese leader.

Considerable doubt was voiced at the time over the veracity of the announcement and the commission's findings substantiated claims that Lumumba had been put to death long before his death was announced.

The U.N. General Assembly established the commission last April upon recommendation by the security council. Its members were Justice Aung Khine of Burma, Ato Tashoma Heilemariam of Ethiopia, Dr. Salvador Martinez de Alva of Mexico and Maitre Ayite de'Almeida of Togo.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Charles Is 13

LONDON (UPI) — Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, celebrated his 13th birthday today and looked forward to long pants and late shows on television.

When a British youth turns 13, he usually earns the right to look at television after 9:25 p.m.—the moment when British stations begin broadcasting the juicier dramas and bloodier westerns which do not bear the roy seal of approval for child audiences.

His first teen-age year also may see Charles leaving Cheam School and entering Eton or another of Britain's elite public schools.

2 Safe In Crash

CINCINNATI (UPI)—A DC-4 airplane crashed and burned early today while attempting to land at the greater Cincinnati airport but the pilot and co-pilot—the only persons aboard —walked away from it.

The four-engine cargo plane was owned by Zantop Lines. Airport authorities said the plane was en route from Detroit, carrying freight for General Motors Corp.

Authorities said the plane fell short of the runway and caught fire in a heavily wooded area in Boone County, Ky.

Desegregation

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Another 36 school districts have been desegregated this fall in Southern and border states. So far there has been none of the racial violence which has flared every other year since the Supreme Court's segregation ruling in 1954.

Of the 6,599 public school districts in the 17-state area, 829 are now desegregated, Southern Schools News reported in the November issue. Integration also has increased at the university, college and teacher levels, the publication said.

Most recent school districts to begin desegregation are in Florida, Kentucky and Delaware.

Brown Still Ill

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has canceled all appointments for the remainder of this week because of recurring ill effects from an attack of flu.

The governor was advised yesterday by his personal physician to take the week off.

Brown, 56, telephoned his doctor from here, saying that he still felt ill from the flu attack that struck him first Nov. 4 and forced him to bed for a day.

The governor said that he would spend the remainder of the week at his rented home here.

Lucy To Marry

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedienne Lucille Ball has revealed what many of he rfriends have suspected for some time—that she'll wed comic Gary Morton, a man she met on a blind date.

The bouncy actress, whose 20-year marriage to Desi Arnaz ended in divorce in May 1960, said last night that a quiet ceremony will be held here Sunday with the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale officiating.

Her mother and two children and a dozen or so friends will attend, she said.

Mamie Is 65

The former president and his wife are spending a 10-day to three-week vacation at "Mamie's Cottage," a plush house on the edge of the Augusta National Golf Club course.

Biddle Services

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr. will be buried Thursday with military honors in Arlington National Cemetery.

Biddle, 64, U.S. envoy to Spain, died yesterday in Walter Reed Army Hospital of a heart attack. He had been under treatment for lung cancer since his return from Madrid a month ago.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk will head the State Department delegation attending the funeral at 3 p.m. Thursday in the chapel at Ft. Myer across the Potomac River from the capital.

Rayburn Condition

BONHAM, Tex. (AP) — Sam Rayburn is fighting a valiant battle against cancer and the hours or days his doctors gave him to live are stretching on.

Last Saturday, Dr. Joe A. Risser said it would be only a matter of hours or days for the 79-year-old speaker of the house. Then Rayburn was a bit better Sunday.

Yesterday he was a little worse.

Motherwell Case

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An appeals court decision reducing the conviction of Larry Lord Motherwell from first to second degree murder has been upheld by the State Supreme Court.

The court last Wednesday in a 6-1 decision denied the state attorney general's request for a hearing.

The state had contended that the appellate court ruling went against precedent and would cause confusion.

Flood Victims

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Flood waters today hampered rescue work along a 120-mile stretch of Pacific Coast where at least 80 persons reportedly died in a fierce weekend tropical storm.

The death toll was reported from the village of Nuxco, north of Acapulco.

Fasters Moved

PARIS (AP)—Mohammed Ben Bella, vice premier of the Algerian rebel regime, and two associates were placed in a Paris hospital under heavy guard today after the government forcibly removed them from a prison where they launched a protest fast 12 days ago.

A doctor reported that the three were in poor health as a result of their hunger strike. French authorities said there was no cause for alarm over their condition.

Bus Wreck Hurts 23

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—A Greyhound bus veered from a rain-slick highway three miles north of here today and smashed into a tree. Twenty-three persons were injured, one seriously.

The bus driver said he had been blinded by the lights of an oncoming automobile that did not stop.

Russia Doesn't Want War, Nehru Declares

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India, 72 years old today, says he is convicted Russia does not want war.

He thinks "war is unlikely in the foreseeable future."

He will not have fallout shelters built in India.

He made these comments before flying to Mexico City today after a nine-day visit to the United States, and talks with President John F. Kennedy.

Nehru told about 1,700 persons at a Los Angeles World Affairs Council dinner last night that he was certain Russia and its leaders did not want a war for these reasons:

"They are doing well. Their people are tired of privation. They want the good things of life."

Earlier, he told a news conference that Russia and Red China differed in that the Soviet Union "is by and large a satisfied country—almost, one might say, a conservative country."

He admitted, however, he "found it difficult to explain" Russia's satellite expansion.

Nehru drew applause with the remark:

"A strong country does not lose its strength in gentle approaches. The strength remains."

He reiterated his "shock" at the Soviet resumption of nuclear tests and said that although India tries to be friendly with all nations, "this does not mean we are governed by fear of Russia or China.

"On the whole, I think I can say we don't suffer from any fear complex."

Nehru said the way to a solution of the Berlin crisis "is gradually opening out."

But he criticized the Russian policy of keeping news of its resumption of nuclear tests from the Soviet people.

"I dislike this kind of functioning of government — not letting people know," he said, adding this kind of policy "apparently holds true in many things" in Russia.

U.N. Censures South Africa For Apartheid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — South Africa today had weathered twin moves to expel her from the United Nations and place her under a worldwide political-economic boycott. But her white supremacy policies were condemned by a resounding 72-2 vote.

The 103-nation special political committee voted 47-32 yesterday for the demand by 30 Asian-African nations to get the Security Council to consider ousting South Africa from the United Nations. The vote fell short of the two-thirds majority required for approval by the General Assembly.

The same fate befell the boycott call by the 31 sponsors. It was approved by the slim margin of 48-30.

The censure resolution by India and seven other nations denounced South Africa's apartheid policy of strict race segregation and asked member nations to take whatever action they deemed fit, individually or collectively. Only Portugal and South Africa voted against it, but there were 27 abstainers, including the United States, Britain and France.

The denunciation of apartheid was similar to a resolution approved by the assembly last year after a boycott proposal failed to get a two-thirds majority.

This time the committee tacked on three amendments which, since they did not get two-thirds majorities, probably will not clear the assembly. The Western powers had announced they would abstain in the vote on the resolution if the amendments were approved.

One, by Ethiopia, asked the Security Council to consider what steps should be taken against South Africa. Another, by the Soviet Union, calls for an embargo on arms to South Africa, and a Pakistani amendment calls for an oil embargo.

The vote came after three weeks of stormy debate during which South African Foreign Minister Eric Louw contended that expulsion of his country would be "the beginning of the end" of the United Nations.

The United States and Britain voted against both the boycott and expulsion resolutions.

U.S. delegate Francis T. P. Plimpton said the United States strongly opposes South Africa's policies but could not support such drastic measures.

East German Reds Rub Stalin Out

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany staged a blitz de-Stalinization during the night, renaming East Berlin's showplace boulevard and removing its statue of Stalin and countless other memorials to the late Soviet dictator.

This morning only workmen and debris remained as bulldozers cleared the square where East Berlin's bronze statute had stood since shortly after World War II.

Stalinallee, the broad, three-mile avenue that is East Berlin's main street, had fresh name signs—Karl Marx Allee—for half its length and Frankfurter Allee was the street's name before the Russians occupied East Berlin.

Stalinstadt, a major East German iron and steel town on the Oder River, was renamed Eisenhuettenstadt, or iron foundry town, according to a small front-page announcement in Neues Deutschland, organ of the East German Communist party.

The dictator's name-changing was the first concrete sign of deStalinization in East Germany since condemnations of the dictator were made public from the Soviet Communist party congress last month and his body was removed from Lenin's tomb in Moscow's Red Square.

East Germany's regime is dominated by Communists of the Stalinist variety, led by Chief of State Walter Ulbricht. But Neues Deutschland on Sunday, in an article denouncing Stalin, asserted at great length that Ulbricht had never developed a personality cult or committed other Stalinist crimes.

Socialists Walk Out As Adenauer Sworn In

BONN (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his new cabinet were sworn into office in parliament today in ceremonies marred by the walkout of angry opposition Socialists.

Bundestag (lower house) Speaker Eugen Gerstenmaier opened the session by announcing he would first swear Adenauer into office.

A Socialist deputy demanded the order of business be changed.

The Socialists returned to their seats after the oaths of office were taken.

The Socialists demanded that the government's inaugural policy declaration be delivered immediately after the swearing-in ceremony. Adenauer has postponed the declaration until he returns from his talks in Washington with President John F. Kennedy.

Slayer Of 6-Year-Old Girl Goes To His Death

SAN QUENTIN (UPI)—Richard Lindsey, a roustabout who craved women, liquor and cars, died calmly today in the state gas chamber for raping and killing a 6-year-old girl with the help of his pregnant sixth wife.

Blonde, blue-eyed Rose Marie Riddle, who fainted at the least excitement because of a congenital heart ailment, was lured to her death last Jan. 12 from a labor camp at Shafter, Kern County.

Lindsey, a 31-year-old ex-convict entered the green walled chamber at 10:02 a.m. The deadly pellets were released at 10:03 into a pan under the chair to which he was strapped. He was pronounced dead at 10:12 a.m.

Lindsey's common-law wife, Dixie Elaine, 23, who gave birth to a son two months after the crime, is serving two life terms for laying open Rose Marie's skull with a tire iron after Lindsey raped and choked the little girl.

Both Lindsey and his wife pleaded guilty.

Mississippi-born Lindsey had behind him mental hospital and prison records in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas when he came with his 208-pound pregnant wife into the labor camp where little Rose Marie lived with her parents in a trailer.

The camp was at Shafter, 20 miles northwest of Bakersfield in south-central California. Rose Marie's father, Everett, has brought his wife and two daughters there from Arizona so he could work as a farm migrant.

Lindsey told his wife he needed sex. They drove around in their car until they spotted little Rose Marie. She got into the car when offered a dollar to do some washing for Mrs. Lindsey.

Then they drove to a remote field, and Lindsey raped the little girl in the car while his wife sat in the back seat.

Then the wife grabbed a two-foot-long tire iron and struck the girl 19 times.

Three days after the crime, the Lindseys were captured in Alameda County, and the next day Lindsey led officers to the body, 55 miles northwest of Bakersfield.

March 22, Mrs. Lindsey was removed from the Kern County jail to a hospital where she gave birth to a 6 pound 3 ounce boy, later given in custody to her mother, Mrs. James Cheshire, of Clarksville, Tex.

On May 15, with her husband on hand from San Quentin's Death Row to testify, Mrs. Lindsey abruptly pleaded guilty and was given two life sentences. She is at Corona prison for women.

'Realistic' Foreign Policy Is Asked By Busterud

A "more realistic" foreign policy is the most important requirement for the United States government today, Assemblyman John R. Busterud of Santa Rosa yesterday told the Awareness Group, a Mill Valley organization of women interested in national and world affairs.

"Unless we can preserve freedom we won't have anything to argue about, and I believe the Republicans have a far stronger position on national defense," said Busterud, who is an incumbent San Francisco assemblyman reportedly planning to seek the Republican nomination for Congress from the First District.

Busterud discussed the principles of the Republican party, which, he said, "while far from a perfect vehicle, is the closest to the perfect vehicle for achieving a responsible program with stability and emphasis on individual rights."

Ex-San Anselman Gets Jail Term

Gerald Everett Martin, also known as Allister Sutherland, 39, formerly of 1520 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, was sentenced to state prison yesterday by Marin Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. for car theft.

Martin last July took a car belonging to his wife and sold it without the pink slip. He was captured in Omaha. Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said Martin had been deported several times to his native Canada.

Private Air Strip Gets Approval

The strip, operated on leased land by 10 individuals who operate eight aircraft, is not a public airport and as such does not fall under the commission's control, the commission ruled at a meeting in San Rafael.

The 10 operators must not allow others to use the field, must conduct no business enterprise of any type and must see the landing strip is suitably X-ed out so a passing flier will know he is not permitted to land, the commission said.

Commissioners were told by W. J. Barnard, their field representative, that one complaint had been lodged against noise from the field.

After inspecting it in the afternoon, the commissioners told the operators, including Jack and Nathan Blumenfeld, who were present, they would have to increase the size of the yellow Xs on the runways and "keep their noses clean" to continue operating as a private strip.

A bird's eyesight is generally sharper and capable of reaching farther than that of any animal.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Public bus transportation came to a stop in this Midwest city of 750,000 persons today when bus drivers went on strike in a wage dispute with Kansas City Transit Inc.

The state charged the strike defied Gov. John M. Dalton's use of a controversial law banning walkouts against public utilities if the welfare of the people is jeopardized.

Corte Madera Rejects Sign Size Request

A request by Western Oil and Gas Assn. to amend the Corte Madera town ordinance regulating sign sizes for service stations was turned down by the town planning commission last night after public hearing.

Present ordinance calls for sign size to be determined by the size of the building. The request asked the size be determined by the size of the lot.

After another public hearing, the commission approved changing the town ordinance concerning hearings and appeals to conform to recent changes made by the state legislature.

The commission set over a public hearing on changing the ordinance for temporary real estate signs to the Dec. 11 meeting. A committee report from commissioners Harold S. Wagstaff and C. W. Thomas on off-street parking was put over to the Jan. 5 meeting.

The commission set a public hearing for Nov. 29 on an appeal from the board of adjustments by J. Guilder and Co. of San Rafael, who seek to construct two small houses on a 6,013-square foot lot at 117 Redwood Avenue. The request was turned down by the board of adjustments because of setback violations.

The commissioners, after receiving a report from Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow on subdivision fees and town expenses, decided to keep the fees at the same rate. Brandow said the fees cover the expenses of office work.

The commission set an adjourned meeting for Nov. 29 to discuss the plan of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District which was sent to councilmen and planning commissioners.

Adult Classes Slated For Marin City

Marin City's adult education program is set tentatively to begin Jan. 3 in Manzanita School, Sausalito School District trustees were told last night.

Classes, under Tamalpais High School direction, would be given in subjects such as arithmetic, English and history. Supt. Marcus F. Davis said, "A great deal of interest has been evidenced in Marin City and it is anticipated that enrollment will be satisfactory."

Trustees also:

1. Granted maternity leave to begin in January to Mrs. Bernadette Baraty of 112 West Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, who teaches second grade at Manzanita School.

2. Appointed a committee to meet with the Marin County Redevelopment Agency to discuss possibility of additional elementary school buildings on the Marin City school site.

3. Appointed trustee Minnie Sievers as delegate to the California School Boards Assn. meeting in San Francisco Dec. 6-8.

4. Announced the board's next regular meeting will be Nov. 27 in the district office.

Chinatown Figure Gets Life Term

Fook shot and killed George Quan, 56, president of the Four Families Assn. at a meeting in which the pair quarreled over rentals charged for buildings owned by the association.

He was also given an indeterminate sentence for assault in the shooting of Peter Kwan, 52, another officals, the same evening.

Czech Archbishop Matocha, 73, Dies

VIENNA (UPI) — Czechoslovakia's Archbishop Josef Karel Matocha of Olomouc, the country's highest-ranking Roman Catholic prelate, has died, the Czech newspaper Lidova Demokracie announced today.

Archbishop Matocha, who refused to take an oath of allegiance to the Czech Communist regime and was put under house arrest in late 1949, was 73. The newspaper gave no details of his death.

Mrs. Langford Is Hospitalized

Mrs. C. W. Langford of Bayside Acres, wife of the former assistant tax collector-treasurer for the county, entered San Rafael General Hospital last night with a leg infection.

Langford, who retired from his county job a year ago last September, said his wife may need an operation. He said the infection probably developed from an injury suffered in a fall several days ago.

School Annex Move Urge Of Novatans

Novato School District Trustees Earl Marshall and William Kirk last night urged the Committee Against Unification and for Annexation to start getting petitions signed for annexation of San Jose School District to the Novato district.

Kirk said that if they get enough petitions, in case the unification election fails, they could force the Marin County supervisors to decree annexation. He said normally it would take an election but if sufficient number signed the annexation petition, the county committee for school district organization could recommend it to the supervisors.

A public hearing would be held, and if there were no opposition, the supervisors could decree the annexation.

He asked Mitchell, "What did you ask that Marsh couldn't supply us with?" Mitchell said he'd requested a breakdown on cost estimates.

"He gave absolutely no information," added Mitchell, "and apparently feels that it's confidential in nature."

There was considerable debate about Marsh's stipulation of review of charges annually. Fusselman said "we might be stuck." But Supervisor J. Walter Blair declared, "You can't get a flat charge from anybody over 20 years."

be a state candidate, Hollis urged support of Dr. Max Rafferty, superintendent of the La Canada School District in Los Angeles County.

"I urge my supporters to start a draft for Dr. Rafferty," Hollis declared. "Here is an educator who holds the same philosophy for education, who has a state and national reputation as an administrator, an outstanding writer and speaker, a man who can rally support from the entire state, and who would be a state superintendent whom all could admire, respect and follow."

Rafferty has not announced himself a candidate for the state superintendency.

Hollis promised a vigorous campaign for re-election, but he indicated that for the same reasons he could not take time out of his Marin work to run for state office, that he would not launch his re-election bid until well after the first of the year.

The accused inmates include O'Dell, Devers and the following four:

Mobile Home Rezoning Approved In Novato

Against neighborhood opposition and planning staff recommendations, the Novato Planning Commission last night approved mobile home rezoning for John C. Brown on 10.29 acres east of Railroad Avenue between Cherry and Peach streets.

About 15 residents of the area opposed the rezoning. They also had opposed a similar request by previous owners Gus Ravetz and Donald Plowman last year.

The county planning staff, which does planning work for Novato, recommended against rezoning, noting that the existing master plan shows the area for single and multiple family development.

The commission's approval will go to the city council on Nov. 28.

The request by A. H. Tresch for rezoning from residential to commercial of 5.5 acres on the west side of South Novato Boulevard opposite Joan Avenue was also granted.

The commission asked the planning staff to prepare an ordinance that would establish a zone for commercial use only, not allowing any residential building in it, as the present law does. This is to be ready by Dec. 11.

The Seventh-Day Adventist Church may build a church, related facilities and an elementary school on the south side of Novato Boulevard west of Grant Avenue, the commission decided.

Ralph J. and Gladys A. Weseman were granted permission to construct an addition to an existing medical-dental building without furnishing the minimum required parking spaces. This is on the northeast corner of Grant Avenue and Fourth Street.

The tentative map of Kirstin Hills Subdivision was approved. This is a 2½ acre subdivision north of Novato Creek and east of Simmons Lane.

No Crab—Boats Still Argue Price

The season's first crabs, due today, failed to arrive.

More than 100 boats lay idle in San Francisco Bay while packers and fishermen argued over the price of the delicacies as the fishing season went into its second day.

Al Spadero, president of the Crab Boat Owners Assn. in San Francisco said the fishermen could not break even at 18 cents. Fishermen and packers were in session today with no indication of a break in the stalemate.

Frank Alioto, wholesaler and spokesman for the packers, said, however, that the dispute would probably be settled at 20 cents.

"It looks rough," said S. J. Sturiale, head of the Sturiale Fish Co. in Sausalito, at whose dock six Sausalito boats were tied up. Sturiale, largest Marin County buyer of crabs, said that last year the price started at 16 cents and worked up to 30 cents at the end of the season. "Supply and demand will eventually set the price," he said.

Blind Teacher Ordered To Pay Support Of Son

Fletcher Hicks, a blind teacher at San Rafael High School, went into Marin Superior Court yesterday with his guide dog and was ordered to make regular monthly payments to support his 8-year-old son.

Mrs. Lilly G. Hicks, who got a final decree of divorce from him last January, complained that he had not kept up his support payments.

Judge Richard M. Sims found Hicks in contempt of court and continued the case until next March 5 on these conditions: Hicks must pay $60 monthly support until next March and pay $150 in fees for her attorney. From next March, he must continue paying $50 per month for back payments.

Hicks remarried last June. He and his present wife are both working.

Tiburon Chamber Elects Officers

Also elected were:

The chamber voted to limit voting membership to those engaged in commercial activities.

Guilty Plea In Whisky Case

Isadore Biess, 37, auto salesman of 760 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, pleaded guilty in federal court in San Francisco today to possession of 35 cases of stolen whisky, and Judge Alfonse Zirpoli set Dec. 7 for sentence.

Biess, free in $250 bail, is accused of receiving the whiskey from Henry J. Pickette, 22, of San Francisco.

Pickette has been sentenced to four years in prison on a mail theft charge and three years on the liquor theft to run concurrently. Pickette was charged with stealing the whisky after breaking into box cars.

Woman Dies Of Burns At Stinson Home

A retired school teacher died of burns and suffocation in a fire in her home on the Embarcadero in Stinson Beach today.

Mrs. Myrtle Davidson was found dead in the cottage when Stinson Beach firemen arrived in response to an alarm at 11:30 a.m. A resuscitator was rushed to the home but she was found to be beyond help.

Fire Commissioner E. C. Hubbard said bedding caught fire, apparently from a cigarette, on a cot on which Mrs. Davidson lay in the living room.

The blaze gutted the living room before it was extinguished by a dozen volunteers who responded to the alarm.

Mrs. Davidson reportedly taught school in Sacramento before she retired and moved to the Stinson Beach cottage.

Tomales Bay Report Due

Marin County Soil Conservation District directors were told yesterday that a preliminary report on sedimentation of Tomales Bay would be completed in March.

The survey, being conducted by the civil engineering firm of George S. Nolte of San Rafael, would determine to what extent the bay is filling in, soil conservationist Clair Leavitt said. A final report is due sometime in May. The $1,000 survey is being financed jointly by the county and state.

Leavitt said a seeder, recently purchased by the district, is available for use by ranchers. The district office is located in the Grandi Co. Building at Point Reyes Station.

It's a long distance, but this phone call costs 15% less than Long Distance rates

HERE'S WHY: Although your call from Millbrae to Richmond travels as far as many Long Distance calls, you pay less than Long Distance rates. This call, like most calls to other communities in the Bay Area, is measured in message units. The number of message units depends on how far you call and how long you talk. The message units are combined on your bill instead of each call being itemized. This costs less for bookkeeping, so you pay less for these calls.

If you need an occasional call itemized, place it through the operator as a station-to-station call. The charge will appear separately on your bill at regular long distance rates without the 15% saving. Or you can have all these calls itemized for a small extra charge. AT WHITE HOUSE — Pablo Casals (right), 84-year-old cellist stands with Alexander Schneider, violinist of the Budapest String Quartet, in the diplomatic reception room of the White House where Casals last night gave a concert. (AP Wirephoto)

AFTER 57 YEARS

Casals Plays Again For U.S. President

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the second time-in a span of 57 years-the charm of Pablo Casals' cello echoed in the White House.

Leaders of the music world, invited to hear him, viewed the performance as a triumph, too, for President John F. Kennedy who had made the rare performance possible.

The emphasis was on music and a salute to the arts as Casals performed in the glittering East Ballroom after a formal state dinner honoring Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico.

"I thought it was marvelous. I was deeply moved by the entire occasion—not simply by the music of Casals but by the company in which it was played," said composer-conductor Leonard Bernstein.

Bernstein, conductors Leopold Stokowski and Eugene Ormandy and composers Gian Carlo Menotti and Aaron Copland were among the many representatives of the music world included among the 153 guests the Kennedys invited to the dinner.

Introducing Casals, President Kennedy cited the Spanish-born cellist as a man who demonstrated in his own life that "an artist must be a free man."

Casals, in a moral protest against the dictatorship of Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain, has refused to play in public in any country which recognizes the Franco government. He has made himself an exile from the land of his birth.

Although the United States recognizes Franco, Casals accepted Kennedy's invitation to play a return engagement at the White House where he last performed in 1904, during Theodore Roosevelt's administration.

Roosevelt's daughter, Alice Longworth, who was present at the 1904 concert, attended last night.

Positive Approach Is Asked To Teaching About Reds

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Dr. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, yesterday told a newly appointed 13-member advisory committee he wants a positive approach to the teaching about communism and democracy in public schools.

"This is our opportunity," Simpson said, "to focus the eyes of our youth on the ideals of our country." He said he wanted any such program to stress the values of American Democracy.

The committee met yesterday to explore the problems involved in the state's current push to teach high school students about communism and democracy.

Dr. Richard Clowes, chief of the state division of instruction, said public mail has been heavily in favor of the department's proposal.

He said he hopes the course will not be mandatory, as it is in Louisiana and some other states.

Committee member Louis Rubin, consultant to Ventura County schools, pointed out that even if a sane program is prepared, it will run into trouble if it isn't accepted by some of the country's major pressure groups. He cited the American Legion as an example.

Mill Valley Police Mileage Doubles

Mileage for the Mill Valley Police Department since it has reorganized the special police reserve officers last spring has practically doubled, City Manager A. E. Almcrants said today.

There were 23,822 miles travelled between May and October of 1960 as compared with 45,755 between May and October of this year.

Almcrants said "patrolled miles" are very important to a community since they indicate the extent of police coverage.

Ordination Of Women As Rabbis Is Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Reform Jews were urged today to approve ordination of women as rabbis.

The proposals was made by Jane Evans, executive director of the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, the major women's organization in Reform Judaism.

The National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods is holding its biennial assembly here, in conjunction with the Assembly of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. About 5,000 Jewish leaders from 630 reform temples in the United States and Canada are participating in the dual meetings, which will continue through Thursday.

"The time has now come," Miss Evans said, "for the Sisterhoods to take a definite stand" on asking Reform seminaries "to ordain women as rabbis, when they are properly qualified and upon completion of the identical course of study with men."

All three branches of Judaism — Reform, Conservative and Orthodox — now have a strictly male rabbinate. Miss Evans said she realized that ordination of women would be "unacceptable" to Conservative and Orthodox groups, but she hoped that the Reform branch would express its "liberal spirt" by granting full equality to women.

She asked the Sisterhoods to "study the matter" during the next two years, with a view to ward adopting a definite resolution on ordination of women and at their next assembly in 1963.

International Deficit Is Climbing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. deficit in international payments which has climbed to an annual rate of three billion dollars may grow worse next spring before it gets better, government sources indicated today.

Administration officials do not expect anything like last year's speculative assault on the dollar, however, because measures already undertaken in its defense should by then be showing some results.

One major cause of the looming payments trouble, in fact, may be the rising prosperity of the United States, resulting in larger dollar outlays for imported goods and materials. This comes at a time when a business slowdown in Germany, England and Japan may cause their purchasers here to decline.

The new balance of payments figures were issued yesterday by the Commerce Department. They showed that U.S. payments abroad were nearly 800 million dollars greater than its receipts from foreign countries in the third quarter of the year.

2 Sentenced For Disturbing Peace

Theresa Bernadette Bernard, 23, and Joyce Frances Meyers, 22, of 2575 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, were sentenced in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to three days in the county jail for disturbing the peace, being intoxicated and resisting arrest.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Thomas T. Storer said Fairfax police went to the pair's apartment early yesterday after a call that there was a fight there. Police charged Miss Bernard kicked one officer while Miss Meyers threw a beer can at another.

In court the young women, both clad in black leotards and black sweaters, pleaded guilty but contended the row had been between them and two young men who at first refused to leave.

Firm Claims Big Losses If Santa Fe Wins

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The president of a firm which furnishes refrigerator cars to Western Pacific Railroad through a company owned jointly by Union Pacific and Southern Pacific said yesterday his firm would lose $200,000 worth of business annually if Santa Fe gains control of Western Pacific.

Robertson said the Bangor railway now furnishes refrigerator cars to Pacific Fruit Express—owned by U.P. and S.P.—for use by Western Pacific.

Santa Fe has contended that it could save two million dollars a year by furnishing its own refrigerator cars to W.P.

This contention was hit earlier yesterday by A. E. Chiasson, general manager for Pacific Fruit Express. Chiasson said there would be no savings but only a transfer to Santa Fe of payments Western Pacific now makes to his firm.

$40 Is Lost From Auto

Steven Robert Bennett Jr. of San Pablo, owner of the Bowler's Shop at 840 B. Street in San Rafael, told police last night he had lost $40 out of his car between his store and his home.

The money was packed in boxes in the back seat of his car, along with invoices and other items, he told police. When he arrived home the money was missing.

Retracing his route, he said he found the boxes beside the road at the Francisco Boulevard underpass. The money was missing.

Bread May Rise

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American consumer may have to pay a penny more a loaf soon for bread, according to some industry officals. This price would come despite the record 1.4 billion bushels of wheat stockpiled in federal warehouses. Bakery officials say very little of this wheat is suitable for bakery use.

HELSINKI REPORTS

Neutral Finn Foreign Policy Asked By Russ

HELSINKI (UPI) — The Soviet Union has asked Finland for assurances that it will maintain a neutral foreign policy, the Finnish government announced today.

The disclosure was made in a short government summary of Moscow talks between Finnish Foreign Minister Ahti Karjalainen and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The two foreign ministers conferred on the Soviet note of Oct. 30 which called for joint defense consultations under terms of a 1948 mutual assistance and friendship agreement between Russia and Finland.

Informed parliamentary sources said earlier that Gromyko made no military demands in his weekend talks with the Finnish foreign minister.

Kennedy Will Pledge Aid In Principle To S. Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Chung Hee Park, leader of the military junta that seized power in South Korea, was to open his talks with President John F. Kennedy today with a request for strong U.S. economic support and additional military aid.

U.S. officials said Kennedy will pledge American aid in principle and approve a plan to modernize South Korea's 600,000-man armed forces.

The groundwork for Park's meeting with Kennedy will be laid when Park confers with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Fowler Hamilton, U.S. aid administrator.

The general then meets Kennedy for the first time. Afterward, the two will talk alone through an interpreter in the president's office.

Park came to prominence last May when he and a group of fellow officers overthrew the elected government.

At first, the United States was cool to the revolutionary junta but gradually gave it increasing support as the junta attacked graft and corruption in government and undertook a series of social reforms.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson welcomed Park.

Park said: "This visit affords us an unparalleled opportunity to discuss our mutual problems. We shall repay the United States and other free world allies for their support and assistance by reconstructing our nation."

California, Nevada Park Units Meeting

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California and Nevada park commissions will meet in Reno Saturday to consider possible joint development of additional Lake Tahoe recreation facilities.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in a statement yesterday announcing the meeting, said that if the Tahoe area is to be saved for public use then "Nevada, California and the federal government should start now to develop plans."

When should you buy Life Insurance?

The best time is when you are young because then annual premiums are low. But many young married men face a dilemma. They decide to postpone the purchase of life insurance till their family situation creates a greater need. However, they find later that premiums are higher and in the meantime, they run the risk of being uninsurable. Here's a sound formula for meeting the problem. It's Manufacturers Life's "Security Graph plus G.I.B." – Security Graph helps avoid costly postponements by setting up a plan for buying insurance according to future needs and ability to pay. G.I.B. is a new policy rider that enables the buyer of a new policy to purchase more insurance at regular rates at specific dates in the future – regardless of changes of health or occupation.

Talk to the Man from Manufacturers Life about this new security formula today.

YOUNGSTERS RESCUED — Policemen and a newspaper reporter carried two children to safety as flames from a new brush fire in the hills northwest of Los Angeles suddenly advanced toward the group last night. The scene was in Kagel Canyon, about 20 miles from the city. (AP Wirephoto)

Newest Los Angeles Blaze Contained; 10 Homes Lost

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fire fighters today contained a 2,300-acre brush blaze that destroyed 10 Kagel Canyon homes 20 miles north of downtown Los Angeles.

Roads were reopened to residents, and the more than 300 evacuated yesterday from Kagel and Little Tujunga canyons returned to their houses. Some had spent the night in an evacuation center set up in a Pacoima junior high school. Lowering winds had enabled officials to reduce the fire fighting force from 825 men to 600. Ten bulldozers continued widening an earth line scraped around the blaze.

Fifty-six pumper trucks continued spraying water, and 12 borate bombers were ready to go back into action if needed. The air was nearly calm and smokeless. Officials hoped for full control by tonight.

The homes destroyed were mostly in the $10,000-$15,000 price range.

Just a week ago two other fires—the costliest in Southern California history—destroyed 465 homes and denuded 14,000 acres in the Bel-Air and Topanga Canyon sections roughly 10 miles west of Los Angeles.

The fire started in Little Tujunga Canyon about 2 p.m. yesterday. It climbed a ridge and spread over to Kagel Canyon, so quickly that 100 residents were forced to run for their lives.

Three children of Mrs. R. Velasco were carried to safety by two policemen and a reporter. But not before a gust of wind carried a sheet of fire directly at them and then over them. They escaped injury.

The Kagel Canyon blaze burned through the neighborhood so fast that the residents had no time to think of their pets. Two dogs and 13 parakeets were reported burned to death.

Five minor injuries were reported. Three firemen suffered burns when their truck was struck by a gust of flames. As with the gust that terrorized the Velasco children, it quickly passed over with the wind.

Fire Losses Mounting In Los Angeles

A week after the disastrous blaze in the Santa Monica Mountains, trucks hauled debris from the area, utility and public service personnel worked overtime to restore service, classes from a burned-out private school convened in a church.

Families still searched through the ruins of some homes, looking for valuables that might have survived the wind-fed flames.

So far one million dollars in insurance claims have been paid. But claims are expected to reach 24 million dollars.

Oldtime Prisoner Refuses Parole

Antonio Di Tardo, who at 86 is the oldest inmate of the penal institution, made his 28th annual appearance before the California Adult Authority. As he has done since 1931, he rejected parole, saying again that he preferred to remain in prison.

The convict, who was given a life sentence in 1920 for the fatal shooting of his wife in San Jose, told fellow inmates during his birthday celebration last January that he intends to "turn down every offer of parole."

Blair Says He's Not Afraid To Debate

The public meetings of the Marin County Board of Supervisors provide the forum for debate on county policies, Supervisor J. Walter Blair suggested today to his recall election opponent, Peter H. Behr.

Blair issued a public statement on his refusal to engage in platform debates with Behr prior to the Dec. 5 election.

"It has been stated that I am afraid to debate Mr. Behr," he said. "This is not the truth."

"I sit with the board of supervisors and discuss with other members of that body matters of current concern. These are public meetings at which any of my actions may be challenged by any member of the public. Mr. Behr has never appeared to challenge any current action or statement. I realize that commuting daily to San Francisco almost precludes this possibility for Mr. Behr. The opportunity, however, is there."

Blair noted that he has appeared twice in public debates with Behr—once on television station KQED and once before the American Assn. of University Women in Mill Valley.

"I have noted that no new questions had been developed by Mr. Behr's followers since the 'debate' on KQED," he said. ". . . If the continuous repetition of the same questions is intended to dissuade me from the course of progressive economy I am pursuing, the effort is wasted."

School Land For Shelters Held Legal

Public school property may legally be used for construction of community fallout shelters, subject to certain restrictions, the county counsel's office held today.

Asst. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, in answer to a query from County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, held "it is reasonable to assume that while children are in attendance at public school, the district has inherent power" under the education code "to provide for unspecified hazards such as in the present case."

Maloney added: "The extent of this implied power may be subject to interpretation insafar as expenditure of funds or direct use of school property is concerned."

There may be a question, he said, as to whether school district funds can legally be used to build the shelters. However, he concluded, "if an appropriate political entity proposes to undertake proceedings for construction of facilities of this type, the school district involved could (in accordance with law) lease or grant any portion of the school grounds not needed for classroom purposes to such political entity."

Stolen Car Found In Parking Lot

A car, parked in a private San Rafael parking lot since Friday, was identified yesterday as one reported stolen in San Francisco on Saturday.

Employees at Coldwell Banker and Co. reported to police yesterday the car was in their lot at 1242 Fifth Avenue. A check revealed the car, a 1949 Chevrolet, had been reported stolen by Versia Oliver Cummings of San Francisco.

Larkspur Planners Meeting Tonight

Larkspur Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on rezoning a strip of land next to Magnolia Avenue from commercial to multiple family residential today at 8 p.m. during its meeting in the city hall.

Among other items on the agenda are review of improvement plans for Larkspur Plaza; consideration of a zoning ordinance revision, and architectural supervision for a house at Magnolia and Madrone avenues.

Dufficy Asks For New Aide —Gets One

A new position of "chief clinic social worker" was requested of Marin County supervisors yesterday by Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, county medical director. Approval in principle was given by unanimous vote of the three present, one short of the minimum number to provide money for the worker's salary.

Dufficy said the new man, in salary range of $506 to $609 monthly, will primarily work with the out-patient clinic and psychiatric service of the county medical department. He should in effect pay his own salary by helping "in-between cases" keep off the welfare rolls, said Dufficy.

He also said that one of his consultants, specialized on obstetrics and gynocology, has resigned and asked deletion of this position with $375 a month salary and substitution of two consultants at $300. Dufficy said he's been hiring extra help on a fee basis. Supervisors postponed action on this request until this afternoon when Supervisor William Gnoss was expected to return.

The board also:

1. Was admonished to resign from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District and "stop further waste of taxpayers' funds" in a letter from P. J. Rowland, president of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn.

2. Approved six appointments: Ruth Brosnan as intermediate account clerk in office of tax collector-treasurer at $335 monthly; Florence D. Smith as junior typist clerk in the health department at $293; Betty Jane Kelly as registered nurse at county hospital at $366; Miriam Bostwick as social worker at $420 and Elnora Yeargin as intermediate account clerk at $335, both in welfare department, and Ernest Zunino as public works maintenance man at $366.

3. Allowed one-year maternity leave without pay for Mrs. Mayday Card, in county clerk's office.

4. Passed a resolution approving proposal by R. J. Rice of National Cash Register Co., that his company conduct a "case history study" of municipal court data processing in order to publicize its efficiency.

5. Appointed Dr. William Burgett Smith to serve as member at large on a physical review board to consider a county employee's special case.

Belvedere Taxpayer's Complaint Answered

County Assessor Bert W. Brommel used a taxpayer's complaint yesterday as a combined baseball bat and springboard.

He administered the bat to the complainant, Eben Rodgers Jr. of 10 Edgewater Road, Belvedere, who had said his tax bill was "exhorbitant."

Rodgers' tax bill for 1957-58 was too low, said Broemmel in effect, because it was "based on a completely unrealistic appraisal of $22,500 for the property" which "passed to the present owner in October, 1958, at a figure well in excess of $40,000."

Broemmel said this situation "was corrected with adoption of the appraisal commission's findings on the 1958-59 roll" giving a more realistic base figure of $34,000. Even today the appraised value is only $39,700, with an assessed value of $9,130, said Broemmel.

Not content with this retort to Rodgers's personal complaint, Broemmel furnished figures to show that "in the Belvedere area the net cost of government, taxes, are increasing at a greater rate than assessed values." Between 1958 and 1961, said Broemmel, the assessment went up 12 per cent but taxes rose 32 per cent.

But what pleased the supervisors was when Broemmel really took off from his springboard to note that "in the case of county government proper, for which your board has responsibility, the tax levy has increased 18.7 per cent over the past three years while the assessed valuation has increased 32.5 per cent." This has resulted in decline in the county tax rate from $2.30 in 1958-59 to $2.05 in 1961-62.

Broemmel then put the finger on "other major jurisdictions" in which "the rate of increase in tax levy has far exceeded the rate of increase in assessed valuation"—referring to school districts especially.

One of his attached tables showed that in 1958-59, schools accounted for 52 per cent of the whole tax rate aggregating $9.06 per $100 assessed value, in Belvedere, while in 1961-62 they took 57 per cent of the total amounting to $10.48.

County, county library, mosquito abatement district and hospital bonds showed decreases, while increases were shown for elementary and high schools and junior college as well as the City of Belvedere and rapid transit.

"We must conclude," found Broemmel, "that Mr. Rodgers's letter should have been directed to the governing boards of taxing jurisdictions other than your board. Perhaps he will wish to do so."

Two Summer Homes Broken Into In Novato

Two summer homes in Marin Golf and Country Club Estates were entered over the weekend, but little loot was taken, Novato police reported today.

The homes of Melvin Weiss, owner of Mel's Drive-Ins, at 155 Country Club Way, and Harold Dobbs, San Francisco county supervisor, at 175 Country Club Way, were entered by prying open sliding glass doors, police reported.

In the Weiss home, the burglars rummaged through the liquor cabinet and playroom, but apparently took nothing. There was no destruction.

Both homes were entered in a similar fashion about eight months ago, according to police.

Elberta peaches were introduced into the Clarksville and Ozarks of Crawford County, Arkansas, about the turn of the century.

chairman Walter Kieckhefer Jr. of Ross, for selling 100 tickets with a quota of only 80. But Kiekhefer wasn't there to hear him; he was home sick in bed.

Two Marinites sat at the upper of the two honor tables: State Sen. John F. McCarthy, a candidate for lieutenant governor, and Assemblyman William T. Bagley. Next to Bagley was Assemblyman John A. Busterud, who recently moved to Santa Rosa from San Francisco and is considered a potential congressional candidate from this district.

Nixon said the speech had been scheduled before he became a candidate for governor, so he was not going to delve into state politics. But he could not resist a jab now and then at Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

He said President John F. Kennedy is "not pressing too hard for spending" in Washington, but Brown "is out of tune" with national policies, even though "unemployment is higher in California and the nation now than it was a year ago."

"Increased spending just doesn't work," Nixon declared. "The basic issue is the need to increase the opportunity for the individual." It is the "True Frontier" not the New Frontier, that is needed in the West, where "we are working not for the handout state, but for a working state," he assented.

Nixon chided Kennedy regarding the missile gap. A year ago, he noted, Kennedy said the United States was second to Russia; now he maintains Russia's first strike power is not so great as our power for a second strike.

"It was the same a year ago," Nixon declared.

Nixon called "defeat without war our greatest danger." He said Premier Nikita Khrushchev's strategy is to "demand something to which he is not entitled, threaten war if he doesn't get it, and demand we negotiate to prevent war. The price of peace is one-half of what he wasn't entitled to in the first place."

We must counter such demands with demands of our own," demands to which we are entitled" and "we must do it all over the world," he declared.

Khrushchev "is no Hitler who might cause war by accident," the former vice president believes. He "uses his temper, he doesn't lose it."

He concluded with a highly partisan plea for return of "more power and responsibility to the individual" and centering less of it in government. And he promised Republicans "are going to put on the fight of our lives in California and the nation."

Belvedere Council Votes An Apology

The action was rescinded because Mrs. Doyle had not been present at the Sept. 11 meeting and therefore was undemocratically denied the right to face her accusers to refute the charges against her, said Mayor Robert P. Watkins.

"Our dilemma now is," can our employees be persuaded this is no intention on the part of the council to show lack of appreciation for our city employees who are necessary for our protection and support."

Mrs. Doyle had been censured by the council for allegedly using abusive language to city employees while they were attempting to repair sewer backup.

She was present last night to receive the apology.

Prior to the action on the censure, City Atty. William H. MacKay requested a half-hour recess to privately advise the council in the matter. "It is imprudent to give legal advice in front of a court reporter and a newspaper reporter. Advice of an attorney to a client is universally recognized as confidential," he said.

Spectator Neville J. Rich demanded to know under what right a city council can adjourn to a private hearing. He criticized the fact that such a recess was not listed on the agenda and stated that the council was inconsiderate. Rich contended that more people would attend if the council stuck to its agenda. He claimed that working people could not attend so long a council meeting.

Weed replied: "Don't you think we're all in the same boat? we have to work tomorrow also."

Consideration of remedial measures to correct sewage backup into several homes on Edgewater Road was discussed.

Engineer John T. Norgaard was instructed to proceed with plans to include in the current sewer project installation of a pump at a cost of $10,400.

An $8,100 installation without standby power was rejected.

Councilman Ida M. Scott reported the Twelfth Night Christmas tree burning would be held in west shore Subdivision No. 1.

Williams reported the Tiburon sanitary district would not contribute a portion of the cost of maintaining Belvedere's line on Paradise Drive.

Councilman John H. Flint was absent.

Shotgun Disappears At Sleepy Hollow Home

Jack Kenneth Sanders, 22, a machinist, said he had left his home unlocked. When he got home late last night, both guns were gone from the wall of his home. He said the weapons were worth $55.

Kentfield Schools Let 2 Jobs

Kentfield School District trustees last night awarded contracts for construction of a lunch area for Wolfe Grade School at the north end of the original wing.

A. J. Shooter of San Rafael was awarded the contract for grading the 16-by-70-foot area and constructing a fence around it. His bid of $727 was low of two. Cagwin and Dorward of San Anselmo bid $750.

Contract for black topping was awarded to James Thornton of Fairfax, low of four bidders at $200. High bidder was E. A. Forde Co. of Corte Madera at $378.

Supt. Howard C. Harmon said no district funds are budgeted for construction of a pedestrian overpass at the foot of Wolfe Grade for access to the Wolfe Grade School. He said the project would cost about $18,000, which would probably be split with the district paying half and county paying the other half. The trustees said they would discuss the matter again at either the Nov. 27 or Dec. 11 meeting.

In other business, the trustees:

1. Heard a report by Harry Dalton of Dalton, Graupner and Barber, San Rafael public accountants, that said the district's $29,000 reserve fund is too low.
2. Were informed construction of the addition to Wolfe Grade School was about 30 days behind schedule. Contractor H. D. Grae Co of San Francisco promised to put on a larger crew to make up the lost time.
3. Authorized Supt. Harmon to have a topographical survey made by Roemer and Estes of Mill Valley on the entrance of A. E. Kent School.
4. Employed James L. Hart as recreation director at Kent School at $2 per hour; Robert Cater as community service custodian at Greenbrae School at $1.85 per hour and Vincent Murphy as substitute custodian at Kent School at $1.85 per hour.

Two Drunken Drivers Get Fine, Probation

A San Rafael hodcarrier and a San Francisco State College student were each fined $166 and put on six months probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

Alexander John Deans, 46, of 33 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, pleaded guilty to drunken driving Nov. 3 near his home and was given an alternative of one day in jail for each $10 of the fine. Donald R. Tuche, 22, of San Francisco pleaded guilty to drunken driving on Highway 101 near Corte Madera.

little more than schools about shelters for their patients.

School fallout shelters are urgently needed. School basements, or shelters beneath playgrounds, would offer a haven. Such facilities might be used normally for play, for clubs, for school activites, or community activities.

Husbands whose jobs are near enough to their homes could get home also in a majority of circumstances. In big cities, where mass movements would jam up commuting, most men should seek shelter in their factories or offices, or in public shelters. Delays in trying to get home might find them caught in the open. But everyone has to judge for himself.

The odds are very strong most of us shall have warning of an impending attack. Memorize the Civil Defense siren signals, which could wake you at night, or give added time by day for reaching or final checking of your shelter preparations.

A steady siren tone lasting three to five minutes means an attack is believed imminent, and you should be ready for the blast and heat—early direct radiation effects. Three minutes of warbling sound, or short series of blasts of the siren, means attack is due any moment, and you should take cover.

Remember, if you are some distance from the center, you have a fair amount of time to think and act intelligently before intensive and dangerous fallout can ever arrive.

You have a greater chance of being on the fringes, with the possibilities of completing preparations, than of being directly under the center of the explosion.

Many or even most of us tend to think—and some with real justification — we are living in prime target areas.

It is an enemy who will be choosing those targets. His errors in aiming, or defensive actions, can put the center of an explosion somewhere else than over your head, no matter how prime a target you consider your city or neighborhood.

Reserve Unit Is Inactivated

San Rafael's 94th Quartermaster Platoon, removed from the Army Reserve list and sent to Fort Lee, Va., three weeks ago and placed on active status, has been inactivated and reassigned to a new quartermaster battalion.

The San Rafael platoon was one of eight units arriving at Fort Lee last month. They were among more than 25 reserve and National Guard units called to federal service at Fort Lee.

Personnel from the eight units will not necessarily remain with the groups they trained with in hometowns. None of the activated reservists are expected to be assigned outside of the three new units, however.

Whether 'Tropic Of Cancer' Is Obscene Is Up To Court

A major debate is raging in Marin County and elsewhere about charges that Henry Miller's book "Tropic of Cancer" is obsecene and should not be sold on our bookstands.

We publish a newspaper and are vitally interested in censorship or thought control of any type. We fight with every weapon at hand to protect the public's right to know about everything.

At the same time, we must acknowledge that there are such things as pornography, obscenity and smut. We also acknowledge that a community has the right to protect itself from such filth.

For that reason, we and other newspapers throughout California successfully fought for realistic amendments to state law governing pornography at this year's session of the state legislature. The basic consideration is that book publishers and dealers, like newspaper publishers, must be free of censorship, but responsible for what they print.

Now, as to "Tropic of Cancer." We haven't read it and don't feel qualified in any event to make a judicial determination of whether it is or is not obscene. But we do have faith in that newly amended state law. District Attorney Roger Garety has conducted himself particularly well in his attitude and actions in following that law. He has not taken upon himself to declare the book obscene. He has insisted that it appears likely to him that it is and therefore he has cited a seller of that book, who must be responsible for his actions, to appear before a judge for a determination of whether or not the book is obscene.

Garety has not ordered the book off any newstand. Unfortunately, in one of the numerous news stories we have carried about the case, the Independent-Journal incorrectly said he had ordered the books removed. He did not. We are sorry about this inaccuracy.

One of the criteria on which the judge in this case will decide, is the morals of the locality in which the book is being adjudged. A book, which in the gutters of Paris might not be called obscene, might well be obscene in a community like Marin, where moral codes may differ.

We are content to allow a Marin judge, after studying all the evidence, to make a determination as to whether the book is or is not obscene. If it is obscene, it comes under state law controlling such publications. Anyone selling it must face the consequences. If it is not obscene, it should be allowed to be sold if sellers desire.

This is a satisfactory method, it appears to us, providing enforcement agencies don't abuse their power. The district attorney certainly does not appear to have done so in this case.

Three Kinds Of Rabbits

We Marinites have three kinds of rabbits on our farms and in our gardens. They are the Cottontail, the Brush and the Jack, though technically the Jack is not a rabbit, but a hare.

The Jack Rabbit is the speedster of the family and likes open country where it can escape its enemies by running in great bounding leaps. They are especially common in the Point Reyes area and in Northern Marin.

Cottontail and Brush Rabbits are more shy and retiring and do not stray far from cover of brush, bushes, hedges and tall grasses. They thrive well in inhabited neighborhoods and we had several Cottontail acquaintances until we got our Beagle.

The best time to meet or observe the Cottontail or the Brush is generally in the grey hours of early dawn. However, most people don't arise early enough to be good rabbit watchers and must content themselves with observing them at dusk.

Jack Rabbits are a serious pest because they multiply so rapidly and eat the same food as cattle and sheep. Cottontails and Brush Rabbits are mostly garden nuisances, with little economically threatening about them.

Office Romeos Make The Rounds —And Every Girl Knows Type

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Recently Hal Boyle wrote on the office romance problems of bachelors and bachelor grils. Many wrote in to demand, "How about exposing the office married Romeos?")

He sometimes keeps them on the run, too.

Office Romeos can be divided into four general types: Pinchers and patters, creepers and leapers. But each one is a character in his own way.

Winded Wilbur — He asks his secretary to stay late. Then he closes the door and pursues her around the office.

Cry Baby Bobby — "We're all lonely prisoners in a lonely world. Life is but a jail," he whines, wheedling each girl in turn for a comforting kiss.

Oily Oliver—"Be nice to me, kid," he says, "and I'll see you go places in this firm." This gives the girls a big laugh, as Oliver has been with the firm 25 years and hasn't been able to get any place himself.

Treat and Trick Ted — He believes one good turn deserves another. He doesn't mind splurging on a box of chocolates for his secretary at Christmas, so long as she allows him one free pinch for each piece of candy.

Ambushing Arnold — He hides in the supply room and pounces at any unwary stenographer who comes tripping in.

Lunar Lew—The full moon does something to him. Then every girl in the place looks like Marilyn Monroe. The rest of the time he is as harmless as bunny rabbit.

Pleading Paul — "My wife simply doesn't understand me," he weeps, using the oldest line in the book. His real trouble is that every girl in the office does understand him.

LEO THE LEECH — His wife gives him only $2 a day. Leo's idea of romance is to sweet-talk any available secretary into taking him out for two martinis and a big lunch.

Bug-eyed Ben — Instead of watching the clock he watches the girls. He doesn't say anything to them—just leers and leers and leers.

ANNIVERSARY ABNER — The senior vice president feels one of the privileges of seniority is to kiss every girl in the office on his birthday. That's why, on his birthday, there is no one around to take dictation.

There they are—the clawless married wolves every secretary knows. She also knows another thing: If, just to tease them, she pretended to respond to their antediluvian overtures they'd run for shelter like the frightened mice they are.

Morrison Knows Blair's Reason

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to take this opportunity to correct another gross distortion of the truth by one of Supervisor J. Walter Blair's supporters, Joseph W. Morrison.

In a letter Tuesday (Oct. 16) Morrison stated that Blair moved to have the matter of the county administrator put to the vote of the people and that he was returning government to the people. The fact of the matter is that Blair had no choice. Some 11,000 voters objected to Blair's attempt earlier to abolish the office of the county administrator and they signed the referendum petition which forced the supervisors to put the matter on the ballot. Since this time, Blair has consistently harassed the county administrator.

Mr. Morrison should know better than anyone else the reasons for Mr. Blair's opposition to the county administrator. During the election campaign Mr. Blair stated that he was not opposed to the county administrator. However after he assumed office and attempted to appoint Mr. Morrison to certain high offices, the county administrator expressed doubts as to Morrison's qualifications. It was shortly after this episode that Mr. Blair moved to abolish the office of the county administrator.

Mr. Morrison objected to being called an "Arizona friend" of Blair's, and perhaps for good reason. May I suggest that he be termed Blair's backroom crony?

Need Cause To Unite Behind

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Citizens who write, talk, march or advertise in the interest of world peace and disarmament are to be aplauded. But without a clearly defined program for attaining these goals, such efforts seem to resemble a stand against sin.

We're all against sin. We want to put an end to the arms race. We long for world peace. But how?

What is missing is a plan, an inspiring cause, call it a standard, if you will, behind which all thinking, worried Americans can unite. We need an ideology, there being only one sure way to defeat an idea and that is with a better one.

Khrushchev's idea is to see the Red flag flying over every country on earth during his lifetime. He is 67. Anyone who reads "The Soviet Design for a World States" by Elliott Goodman can readily see to what extent the Communists, too, are dedicating themselves to the cause of world peace — Communist style.

An alternative ideology to inspire free peoples everywhere is desperately needed today. Why should not the following three point program serve as the standard we raise:

1. Establishment of world peace through world law enforced by a United Nations strong enough to act.

2. Development of a realistic plan for the transfer of our economy from a quasi-war time footing to one of peace.

3. Disarmament under the protective umbrella of enforceable world law and with the assurance that to do so will not throw our economy into chaos. Any other disarmament program is utterly fallacious.

Every thoughtful American, regardless of political party; regardless of his organizational affiliation—Moral Rearmament, United World Federalist, American Association for the United Nations or other independent citizens groups; regardless of race, color or creed, must surely recognize the need for a fresh approach to world peace.

Those of us who honestly and sincerely desire world peace should call upon our heads of government in Washington urging them to address themselves publicly to the three point program outlined above.

World peace through world law enforced by a strong United Nations should be a cornerstone of United States foreign policy. Our foreign policy is, after all, our first line of defense. It is, furthermore, the sum total of the will of the American people.

If we the people fail to express our will to our representatives in Congress urging them to act now on a program for peace as outlined above, then today's bomb shelters may indeed become tomorrow's tombs.

Garety Deserves Community Aid

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety deserves the support of the entire community in his action against T. B. Pershina for knowingly selling smut and obscenity in the form of Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer." He deserves this support because he represents the community defending itself against a real threat to its moral and intellectual life.

It was most interesting, if not altogether surprising, that Pershina's indictment was immediately challenged by suit in a higher court on the basis that his conviction would restrict individual freedom to purchase the book.

As parents, as neighbors, as citizens of Marin County have we not the right to see that our children, our neighbor's children, our friends and fellow citizens be unmolested by salacious reading material? What kind of individual right is it if it endangers the moral life of the whole community? We think it is license, not freedom.

This country owes a debt to Mr. Garety for his courage in forcing what will undoubtedly be a bitter contest at law. His success will be the county's gain; his faiure, a loss for each citizen.

Not An Appeaser, A Rational Human

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

George De Witt tells about an agent who kept an animal trainer and his talking dog in a waiting room for hours, then graciously permitted him to enter his royal sanctum. The door accidentally slammed on the pooch's tail, whereupon the pooch delivered a long string of nasty words.

The agent blanched. "I never heard of a dog like that," he quavered.

"Pay no attention to him," apologized the trainer. "He picked that stuff up from clients leaving your office."

"The human brain," opines William Nichols, "is a wonderful thing. It starts clicking the instant you are born and never stops until you are called upon to speak unexpectedly at a public gathering."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By THERON NEWELL

An Awful Lot Of Worry About A 27-Year-Old Book

One would think from all the "tooo dooo" about it, that Marin County had been moved south somewhere in the vicinity of the Tropic of Cancer.

Whenever one of these moralistic battles gets loose in society, I am reminded of Will Rogers' discourse that he made on prohibition during the time when that battle was being waged across the nation.

The general theme of it was that the Good Lord ought to take all the "do-gooders" up to heaven with Him and send all the other extremists to that other place. That would leave the world to the rest of us.

IN PASSING THOUGH, I'd like to throw in a thought or two on censorship. Whenever censorship gets turned lose in society, there is no end to where it can go.

Don't misunderstand me, I'm not advocating publishing all the filth in the world any more than I advocate paving the streets with dried manure. But it is like walking a tightrope to attempt to censor anyone else's reading.

Whenever any person, any board, or any government sets itself up as the judge of what anyone else can and cannot read, it is dangerous. In this country, the tendency has always been to read the banned book just to see what was banned.

However, in other parts of the world, over a period of years, it has developed into statae control of thought.

Then just who is great enough to be a judge? How much better or worse than "Tropic of Cancer" is "Lady Chatterly's Lover," "Peyton Place," the "Decameron," "Leaves of Grass" and the Bible?

It seems to me that in this time when youthful gangs make it unsafe to walk down the streets of the cities of the Bay Area, there ought to be something more important for the law enforcement officers to do than to worry about a 27-year-old book.

IN ALL THIS jungle of juvenile delinquency, leinency in the law, probation and repeating crime for youth, I take my hat off to a judge down in Pensacola, Fla.

A man down that way was charged with assault and battery involving his 14-year-old daughter. He pleaded guilty. He told the judge that he beat his daughter because she did not return home when he told her to.

The judge sided with the man.

"Here's a man who's trying to settle the juvenile delinquency problem in his own way and gets jailed for it," the judge observed.

"I don't think I should impose any penalty, even if he busted her lip—or her bottom."

Our has are off to a judge for that decision.

AMONG THE NOVATO dignitaries taken to Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida, for the William Tell weapons meet were Mayor Wayne Womack, Harley McAskill, planning commission chairman; Lee Wise, P. G. & E. manager; and Irving Links, haberdasher.

These men were on a C-47 transport coming back to Hamilton Air Force Base. The plane landed in the dull, flat, uninteresting lands of the Texas panhandle at Amarillo to refuel. Soon it was on its way again.

The next stop it had to make to refuel was exciting, glamorous, wicked Las Vegas, Nev. The men left the plane while it was being refueled. When they got on it again to leave, the starter was broken on the motor and the plane could not take off.

So the Air Force had to send to the wilds of outer Timbuctu or some other such remote place for one. At least the men were delayed in that horrible spot for another 24 hours while a little simple starter on an airplane was repaired.

We're not accusing anyone of this stature of sabotage . . . but it sure looks danged suspicious . . .

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

It's Obvious That All Not Well Behind That Iron Curtain

WASHINGTON—The evidence is mounting that all is not well behind the Iron Curtain.

The recent 22nd Party Congress was not a happy, carefree affair. It disclosed a divisive, double controversy—the continuing rivalry between the Stalinists and the anti-Stalinists within the Soviet Union and between Moscow and Peking for the leadership of the Communist world.

Khrushchev gives us plenty of news about the power and glory of the Soviet Union. He says that Russia can lick everybody, scare everybody, and out-produce everybody. He says it so often that he is beginning to give the impression that he is not so sure of it after all.

THERE IS NO doubt that the Soviets are militarily strong and economically formidable. There is little tendency to underestimate their power.

But there is a tendency to overlook the divisions and difficulties which are becoming increasingly apparent on the Communist side.

1—Premier Khrushchev is so uncertain about how the Soviet people would react that he has not dared disclose to his own nation his massive nuclear tests in the atmosphere and the consequent radioactive fallout.

At the party congress he boasted about the tests and joked about the 50-plus-megaton bomb, but when his speeches were printed in the official press, references to the tests were deleted.

2—THE KREMLIN is showing itslf increasingly anxious about the state of opinion among the subject peoples of the Eastern European satellites. This anxiety has grown more acute since the "Khrushchev Wall" went up in East Berlin on Aug. 13.

Radio Liberty, a private Western organization which broadcasts to the Soviet Union and to Soviet troops in Eastern Europe, has learned that the Soviets have recently put an additional ring of 541 jamming devices along the borders of the satellites to try to blot out still further the news which comes from the West.

This is revealing — but not surprising. This is not an action of confidence, it is an act of fear.

3—AND NOW THE Communist bloc is split over Albania's determination to remain Stalinist. This deepens the rivalry between the Soviets and Chinese Communists who have gone to the defense of Albania as evidence of their own determination to challenge Moscow for leadership of the Communist parties.

In any event, all is not well behind the Iron Curtain—far from it.

$400 Will Be Spent For Fairfax Park

Conversion of Bothin Circle into a park at a cost to the city not to exceed $400 was authorized by the Fairfax City Council last night at the request of a number of Bothin Road residents who attended the meeting.

Plans drawn by Frank Salvisberg of 90 Bothin Road were introduced to show how brickwork and planting of juniper and birch trees would be utilized to create what would be known as Bothin Park. Frank Lawrence, chairman of the park and recreation commission, was given the assignment of seeing the job completed.

Spokesmen for the approximately 20 citizens in the audience said the circle has been used as a parking lot.

In other actions last night, the Fairfax City Council:

1. Passed a resolution to contract with Michie Publications Co. of Los Angeles to codify the city's ordinances at cost of $2,500.

2. Passed an ordinance to regulate the establishment, construction, operation and maintenance of gas service stations.

3. Approved appointment of Alan Perry as policeman at $485 a month for a six-month probationary period effective last Oct. 16.

4. Approved purchase of two new police cars from Ames Ford cost of $4,817 minus $2,425 allowed for two old cars.

5. Denied, without taking a vote, a Salvation Army request to put a drop box on city property.

6. Referred to Lawrence a proposal to revamp upstairs rooms and construct stairways at Fairfax Pavilion, with cost estimated at $2,500.

7. Heard City Clerk Alice Leonesio report the Marin County Board of Supervisors and Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., county physician, had made no reply to her letter of Oct. 11 asking the county to give physical examinations to Fairfax employees. Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar said, "Won't even answer our letters? Nice!" Mrs. Leonesio said after the meeting the county previously orally agreed to give the exams at $7.50 apiece.

8. Directed City Atty. Wallace S. Myers to prepare an ordinance to create an active police reserve, with no pay for reserve members.

9. Heard Mrs. Leonesio report she had accepted a $10,000 check from L. B. Fleischman as guarantee he would complete an acceptable road for his apartment subdivision to adjoin Oak Manor School.

10. Delayed until Nov. 27 action on condemning shacks on property on Bothin Road found to be fire and health hazards Oct. 11 by building inspector J. C. Uhte. Myers said Uhte, not present last night, must swear to his findings before action can be taken.

11. Delayed until Nov. 27 approval of two-lot subdivision planned by Barry Rogers.

12. Heard request by county sanitation director William L. Desmond that Fairfax adopt the county ordinance governing food handlers as requested by Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn., but took no action.

13. Introduced an ordinance prepared by the League of California Cities amending the local sales and use tax ordinance.

14. Directed Myers to prepare a resolution for a stop sign on the south side of Tamalpais Avenue at Sequoia Avenue.

15. Approved $500 repairs on a 1951 Fire Department dump truck and building of fence around the corporation yard to keep out small boys.

16. Approved warrants totaling $16,871.85.

Suggestions Made For Shop Center

Strawberry Property Owners Assn. directors last night made two recommendations to the county planning commission regarding Samuel R. Neider's proposed shopping center to be built on the Strawberry frontage road near Highway 101.

It suggested that Belvedere Drive and Reed Boulevard, bordering the center, be minimum four-lane roads with protected left turns in and out of the center. It also recommended adequate traffic channelization at the intersection of the two roads.

No recommendation was made regarding the 80-foot height of the Neider "geodesic dome" market, director Mrs. James W. Gowen said, "because we are more concerned with the circulation."

The board made no objectio to drawings, presented by Neider's representative Frank Gallo, showing the moving of the Marin Land Co. office building at Ricardo Road in order that the road might be straightened.

Jan. 4 was set as a tentative date for a candidates night for those nominated as directors of the Strawberry Recreation District.

$250 In Coins Taken From Service Station

A petty thief has been pilfering rolled coins from a service station in Santa Venetia, and the total loss has mounted to about $250, the station operator reported to the sheriff last night.

Dominic Tappero, 45, of 8 Garden Court, who runs the Shell Station at 296 North San Pedro Road, said the thefts started about Sept. 3.

FAIRFAX TAKES NEUTRAL STAND ON RAIL LINE

The Fairfax City Council last night took a neutral stand on the fight by the Marin County Board of Supervisors and city councils of San Rafael, Mill Valley and Corte Madera to get Northwestern Pacific rail service through San Rafael restored.

On suggestion of Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar the council delayed action on a request by the City of San Rafael to oppose the railroad's application before the Interstate Commerce Commission to abandon the section.

Edgar said a railroad representative wanted to give a five-minute talk to the council.

Council Takes Notes Of Two Letters

Two letters from A. P. Traber of 172 Ridgeway Avenue complaining of lack of sufficient improvements in the city were acknowledged by the Fairfax City Council last night.

The first letter, dated Oct. 6, was referred to in a letter dated Nov. 8. This second letter began: "My letter to the Fairfax City Council, dated Oct. 6, 1961, for one reason or another, missed the expected publication of same at the council meeting on Oct. 9, 1961."

City Clerk Alice Leonesio exhibited the envelope in which the first letter arrived by special delivery. It bore a postmark of Oct. 10, one day after the council meeting.

The council last night filed both letters.

Council Is Asked To Abate Changes To A Residence

The angry demand of real estate man Max Kimball that the City of Fairfax abate what he charged were numerous illegal changes to a residence next to his home was rejected by an equally angry Fairfax City Council last night.

Kimball appeared to back up a letter he had sent demanding further action against a house at 181-183 Pine Drive, next to his own residence at No. 185.

Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar replied that if the council complied it would have to abate "everything on Pine Drive," Councilman Rolfe M. Ockenden agreed.

There ensued several minutes of wrangling between Kimball and the two councilmen.

Ockenden repeatedly asserted that Kimball's original demand had been to keep owner A. B. Whittemore from converting a duplex into a triplex and the council had heeded Kimball's protests.

"We thought you'd be happy," Ockenden said.

Kimball insisted Whittemore planned a third bedroom and when the home was sold someone would use it and "they'll have a radio or hi-fi and blast me out of my home. It's right on property line."

Ockenden retorted, "Your house is in violation of the 10-foot setback, isn't it?"

After some fuming, Kimball replied: "Well, sure. But there isn't one patio on Pine Drive that is not in the right of way."

Ockenden said there are violations of setback lines "all along Pine Drive."

Finally, Kimball demanded that if the council would not comply with his new complaint, "reject me!"

"I so move," snapped Mayor Edgar. Councilman Waldemar E. Radke quickly seconded the motion and the two other councilmen present made the vote unanimous.

School Presented With Telescope

C. B. Gearhart of Point Reyes Station presented the West Marin Union School District with a four-inch refractory telescope at a board meeting in West Marin School last night.

Supt. George R. Stratton said the telescope would be used at the school.

The board decided to begin salary discussions with faculty representatives of the district in January, and signed a notice of completion of additions to West Marin School. These consist of two new classrooms, a teachers' work room, a book storage room, and rest rooms.

Accreditation Team Is Due At College

A Western College Assn. accreditation team will be on the College of Marin campus on Dec. 5, 6 and 7 to inspect the college's programs and facilities, Dr. Stephen E. Epler, president, announced today.

The association is the official accrediting body for colleges and universities in the western states. Its membership includes most of the junior and senior colleges in the west.

After the inspection, the team may give College of Marin an accredited rating based on academic and instructional standards. This is particularly important for out-of-state colleges in accepting or rejecting transfer students, said Dr. Epler.

The visiting group consists of Dr. H. Lynn Sheller, president of Fullerton Junior College; Kenneth Tinkler, dean of instruction at Shasta College; Dr. Hubert H. Semans, dead of instruction at Foothill College; Lyle E. Gibson of San Francisco State College; Sister M. Rose Emmanuella of the Los Gatos campus of the College of Holy Names; and Richard S. Nelson, supervisor of technical education for the state bureau of industrial education.

The six members will be honored with a dinner on Dec. 5 at the Woodlands Restaurant in Kentfield.

San Rafael Boy's Leg Broken; Run Over By Auto

The right leg of an 11-year-old San Rafael boy was broken yesterday when he was run over by a car driven by a 16-year-old San Rafael High School student.

Charles Drago of 90 Hoag Street, San Rafael, a sixth-grader at E Street School, was struck as he was playing ball in the street in the 200 block of Belle Avenue. Driving the car was Stephen James Hasse of 123 Belle Avenue.

Police said Hasse stopped and was told by Drago's companions that the boy was not hurt. Examination later at Marin General Hospital revealed the break.

The accident was reported to police by Mrs. Margaret Francis Drago, the youth's mother who is employed at Marin General Hospital.

Bel Aire Group Will Discuss Blair Recall

Bel Aire Property Owners Assn. will meet at 7:45 p.m. today in Bel Aire School on the Tiburon Peninsula to discuss the recall move against Supervisor J. Walter Blair.

According to association chairman Alan Kircher, Blair has not indicated he would appear but candidate for supervisor Peter H. Behr will attend.

Golf Club Looted Of Liquor, Cigars

A burglar with a taste for good liquor and cigars broke into the Indian Valley Golf Club in Novato last night and took loot valued at $200.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Faustine of 25 Boulevard Terrace, who clean and maintain the clubhouse on Novato Boulevard, discovered the break-in shortly before midnight and called the owner-manager, Albert Lewis Leach of 69 Cambridge Heights.

Leach said two cases of bourbon, five boxes of cigars, and about $30 in change were stolen.

Novato Council To Consider Moratorium

A six-month moratorium on all building in the area bounded by First and Sixth streets and Grant and Olive streets will be considered by the Novato City Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the city hall.

Three members of the council who were present at last week's meeting placed a temporary ban on building at the request of the planning commission. They did not grant the six-month request, pending the meeting tomorrow of the full five-member council.

The council will also hold a hearing on requests for street lights. The city has approximately $6,000 to spend on new street lights. It has asked for petitions asking for new lights.

Liquor Stolen

Five bottles of liquor were taken from the Mill Valley Tennis Club between 6 p.m., Saturday and 9 a.m. Sunday, manager Gene Marker reported to Mill Valley police. Entry was made by breaking a french door loose from its hinges.

Unified Schools Ballot On Tap For Third Time

(This is the first fo a series of four articles on various aspects of the proposed unification of Novato Unified and San Jose Elementary School districts, on which voters in the two districts will ballot next Tuesday.)

By THERON A. NEWELL

Voters of the Novato Unified School District and San Jose Elementary School District will go to the polls next Tuesday to decide whether these two districts should be unified.

This same issue has come up before the voters twice before. Each time it was defeated—in January and October, 1959.

In the second election, there were 639 yes and 331 no votes. The issue passed in Novato by 493 yes to 175 votes. It failed, however, in the San Jose District by 146 yes to 156 no votes. Approval requires a majority favorable vote in both districts.

If the voters favor the unification this time, they must also select a five-member board of trustees to govern the new district.

All members of the Novato and San Jose school district boards, plus one candidate who failed in the last Novato School Board election, have filed for the board.

Novato trustees seeking election tothe new board are Joseph Sereda, Marett B. Boissevain Jr., Mrs. Leonora M. Dougherty, Wililam Kirk and Earl G. Marshall. The San Jose trustees seeking election are Mrs. Jean Ashley, Robert Allen, Dan H. Barber, Alan M. Swabacker and William Vandegriff. David S. Patterson of 1150 East Court, Novato, is also running. He ran third in a four-candidate field for two positions on the Novato Board last May.

If the election is successful, the voters will have in effect killed the present two school districts and created a new one.

California law states that if the election is held prior to Feb. 1 of any year, the unification will take place at the end of the fiscal year, which is June 30.

Between election day and June 30, if unification passes, the new board of trustees may organize itself, elect a chairman, vice chairman and secretary. It can also set meeting dates, plan the methods of merging the two districts, and prepare the budget for the following year. It can select its superintendent and administrators and extend contracts to teachers.

It can also call an election for voting new bonds. It can also level the bonded indebtedness of the two districts.

The board may make tentative plans for school expansion at all levels. It may make plans on consolidating the elementary school children or changing some boundaries for those attending each of the district's schools.

How the 400 high school students now attending San Rafael high schools from the San Jose District will be assimilated into Novato High School would also be a problem for the new board to decide.

The new trustees must of necessity work closely with the two existing boards because they would take over the functions of both board on July 1, 1962.

Supt. William J. J. Smith has been superintendent of Novato Unified School District since 1948. His contract expires next June 30. Supt. Phillip W. Schneider of the San Jose District, who has been superintendent of the district since 1951, has a contract that goes to June 30, 1964.

The new board must select the superintendent for the new district. It could choose either Smith or Schneider or select someone else. However, by state law, it must honor the existing employment contract for Schneider for two years though not necessarily making him superintendent.

"We will need all the manpower to run the district," said Superintendent Smith of the Novato District. "Both districts are operating to full capacity of the administrators. There is very little duplication in the staffs."

"We're using all available held to run this district," commented Superintendent Schneider. "We are both undermanned."

Smith said that in a new district, there might be a change or two because of a conflict of personalities.

"There usually is," he said. "We expect a certain amount of it."

The new district would not eliminate anyone if competent, both superintendents agreed.

They agreed also that they would work closely with whoever was chosen by the new board as superintendent to see that the two districts' operations were merged as easily and smoothly as possible.

(Next: What would happen to the pupils?)

Students Chosen

Students chosen to head the Edna Maguire School student council in Mill Valley for the 1961-62 school years are Gary Fay, president, and Kent Baldwin, vice president, both eighth graders; Vicki Gross, secretary, and Tom Barca, treasurer, both seventh graders.

Henry's Ol' Place Will Change Hands

Henry's Ol' Place, cafe and bar at 218 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, will soon change hands, but the name will stay the same — it fits the new owner perfectly.

Howard E. Henry, 25 College Park, Kentfield, a former marine engineer for American President Lines, has announced his purchase of the business from James and Bert Johnson, with Dec. 1 set as the date for the transfer.

As a tavern established many years ago by the late Henry F. Ghezzi of San Anselmo, it was known simply as "Henry's." The name was changed to Village Inn by a subsequent owner, but when it was acquired by the Johnsons last year it was given its present title in remembrance of the founder.

Henry, who made the purchase jointly with his sister, Mrs. Katherine M. Etienne of Kentfield, said he will conduct the operation himself with few major changes.

The two Johnsons are unrelated. James and his wife Avis have made no definite plans for the future. Bert and his wife Aline said they may open a summer camp next year.

The transaction was handled by Eckert Realty Co. of San Anselmo.

Sentencing of Shelia Wetzel, 27, of 210 San Carlos Avenue, Sausalito, for passing worthless checks, was postponed a second time yesterday, until Monday, by Marin Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. on motion of attorney Harold R. Hayes. She pleaded guilty Oct. 16.

College Site Property On Agenda

The possibility of Marin Junior College District and Novato Unified School District buying a joint site on the Freitas "C" Ranch for future school and college development will be discussed at 8 p.m. today by the Novato Unified District trustees, meeting in the administration building.

The president and trustees of the College of Marin, and Walter Freitas, representing the ranch owners, have been invited to the meeting by the Novato board.

The board will also hear reports on purchase of the Sanchez property on Sutro Avenue and on an addition to the Rancho School.

Supt. William J. J. Smith will also report on the possible effects of unification on the high school.

'Town Hall' Meeting Slated On Tiburon Master Plan

The Tiburon master plan is due for attack and defense at a "town hall" meeting of the Tiburon Property Owners Assn. at 8 p.m. Friday in Reed School auditoruim.

The meeting will be open to all resident of the Tiburon Peninsula, said Fred C. Hannahs, association president.

Peter H. Behr, candidate for board of supervisors, will tell "Why Recall Is Necessary." (He is opposing Supervisor J. Walter Blair in a recall election Dec. 5.)

The meeting will close with a discussion of zoning enforcement procedures and a summary of annexation-incorporation movements.

49er Stars Clear Shotgun Of Blame

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—What's happened to the San Francisco 49ers and their once-feared shotgun attack?

The concensus of the players: "We don't know."

"We just haven't been playing football the way we can," commented defensive halfback Jerry Mertens yesterday.

"I haven't been playing well at all. I'm pretty sick about it. I know I can play better. I've been taught to play better. What's holding me up, I don't know."

OTHERS AGREE

Mertens' explanation was echoed by other 49ers in the aftermath of a 17-7 licking by the Los Angeles Rams—a team the 49ers beat 35-0 a few weeks ago.

Next Sunday the 49ers take on the Chicago Bears. The Bears stopped the shotgun and beat the 49ers 31-0 in their last meeting. The 49ers haven't won a game since, managing only a 20-20 tie with Detroit.

Hickey and his staff yesterday viewing films of the Ram game. If they found an answer to the question the players—and fans—were asking, they weren't talking.

TWO INJURED

Hickey said his team will face Chicago without quarterback Bobby Waters and tackle Bob St. Clair.

Both were injured against the Rams. Waters sprained a knee ligament and St. Clair pulled a thigh muscle. Both were hospitalized.

Pony Meeting

Parents of North Marin boys eligible to play Pony League baseball are invited to attend a planning meeting tonight at 8 at the Terra Linda High School cafeteria.

Feldman Sees Patriots As A Rugged Foe

Feldman has his Raiders working out here for the Friday night meeting.

And he and his coaching staff aren't optimistic about the Raiders pulling an upset.

Oakland, on the other hand, is short of tackles with the loss of veteran defensive tackle Volney Peters last Saturday night. Peters was injured in the Raiders' 23-12 licking by the New York Titans.

Harry Jagielski, who was cut by the Patriots several weeks ago, will start at one defensive tackle spot against the Patriots, Feldman said. Bob Voight draws the other tackle assignments.

Baylor Headed For Army And Big Pay Cut

Laker Ace Getting Ready To Enter Service Nov. 26

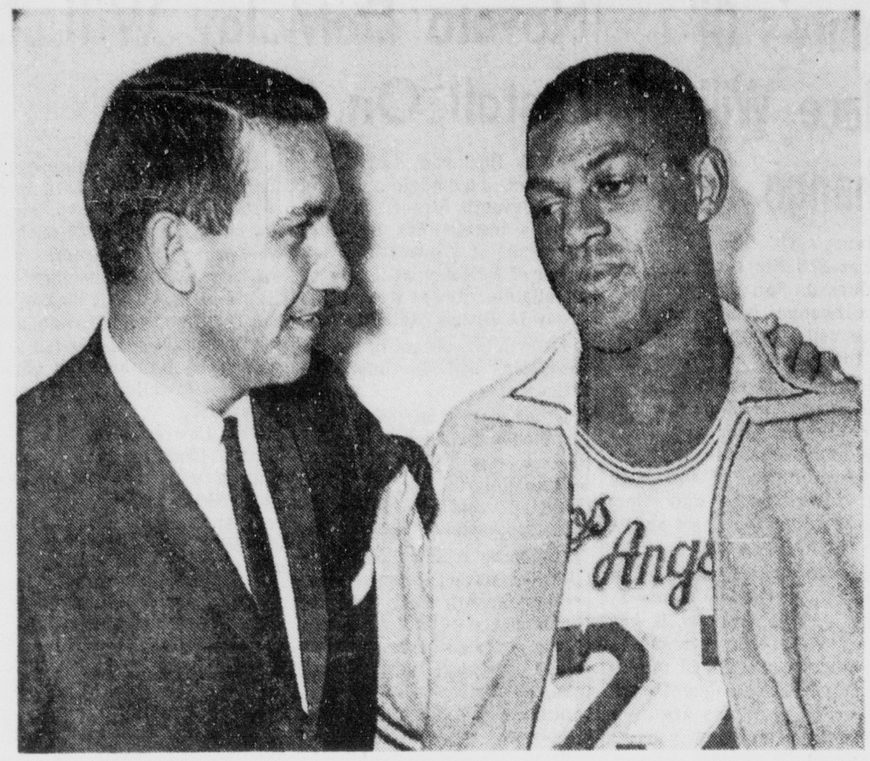

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When Elgin Baylor reports to Fort Lewis, Wash., as an Army medical corpsman Nov. 26 he will go off salary as a $50,000-a-year Los Angeles Laker basketball star and draw $85-a-month from Uncle Sam.

Baylor, 26, signed a five-year personal services contract with Laker owner Robert E. Short this year, calling for $250,000. General Manager Louis R. Mohs said a new contract, probably for the same duration and same terms, will be negotiated when Baylor completes his year of service.

Baylor was the high scorer with 39 points last night as the Lakers beat the Chicago Packers, 127-113, and extended their lead in the Western division of the National Basketball League race. The Lakers now are 10-2. It was the ninth loss in 11 games for the Packers, who were led by Walt Bellamy's 30 points.

Baylor was getting his affairs in shape today, for he plays his last game at home Wednesday. He recently bought a home here.

"I've been with this club for four years and I thought this was the year we had a chance for the championship," says Baylor.

Jets Advance With Victory Over Pipers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Jet moved up a bit in the American Basketball League's Western Division race last night with a final period defense that held the Cleveland Pipers to a meager nine points.

Los Angeles trailed 91-89 going into the fourth quarter, then outscored the Pipers 19-9 for a 108-99 decision that moved them to within one-half game of first-place Kansas City. In last night's only other game, the Chicago Majors beat the Washington Tapers 97-87 at Muskegon, Mich.

Red Auerbach Is Suspended

NEW YORK (AP)—Coach Red Auerbach starts a three-game suspension from the National Basketball Assn. tonight when his Boston Celtics play the Hawks in St. Louis.

The fiery coach of the defending NBA champions was set down yesterday by NBA President Murice Podoloff, who said the suspension would have taken effect sooner except that he was out of town over the weekend.

After a clash with a referee last Thursday in Philadelphia Auerbach was fined $200 and told by Podoloff that his next ejection would result in a suspension. Saturday night, he was tossed out of Boston's game at home with Philadelphia.

Shoeshine Boy Wins Welterweight Crown

Referee Fred Aspostoli stopped it when Sanders staggered into the ropes after getting to his feet. Sanders had downed Smith for an eight-count in the eighth.

The new state champion works as a shoeshine boy at San Francisco International Airport. He has a 17-6-1 fight record.

Cisco Andrade Stops His Rival In Sixth Round

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Cisco Andrade of Compton ripped loose with a ferocious attack on Al Medrano in the sixth round tonight to gain a technical knockout over the Sacramento lightweight in a scheduled 10-rounder.

Andrade, weighing 135, closed with strong punches to the head in the sixth after five rounds in which each fighter held his own. When Medrano's left eye became completely closed, referee Vern Bybee halted the contest.

Medrano weighed 137.

The Redwood Giants varsity football team banquet for 1962 will be held at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto tomorrow at 7 p.m., announced Dave Teather, president of the Redwood Benchwarmers Club.

It's the club's fourth annual banquet for the athletes and will also honor the cross-country team, said Teather.

Fine Sailing Lures Large Racing Field

By AL MATSON

Under conditions that were close to perfect, the Golden Gate Yacht Club ushered in its program of winter racing. With such breaks, it was only natural that a healthy fleet, 124 boats to be exact, deployed about the starting line awaiting the first gun.

The Folkboats were the best represented with 21 starters, and a secondary Folkboat pattern was also in evidence with the perennial winner, Knuds Wilbroe, Sausalito Yacht Club, again on top. Kruuse Caroe made it one-two for the Sausalitans with a close second in his Flirt. Bob White was guest skipper on Lorio and he landed in the money for third.

It was a clean sweep for the San Francisco Yacht Club in Cruising Club A-B division. The light airs were tailor made for G. C. Kiskaddon's Spirit as she worked out into an early lead and was never headed. Second and third spots were achieved by a pair of K-40's; Glen Waterhouse's Kay Too and Dr. Glenn Cross' Simba.

Texas Remains Top-Ranked College Eleven

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas remained the No. 1 college football team in the country today in the weekly Associated Press football poll in the process won over another half-dozen panelists.

Last week the Longhorns, now 8-0 and rushing toward the host spot in the Cotton Bowl, collected 35 first-place votes. This week, 41 members of the nationwide group of 47 sports writers and sportscasters placed them on top.

Alabama, also 8-0, continued a strong second, followed by Ohio State, 6-0-1, Louisiana State, 7-1, and Minnesota, 6-1. That's just how the top five looked a week ago.

1.	Texas (41)	463
2.	Alabama (3)	401
3.	Ohio State (2)	365
4.	Louisiana State (1)	336
5.	Minnesota	307
6.	Mississippi	234
7.	Purdue	101
8.	Colorado	61
9.	Michigan State	60
10.	Syracuse	47

Dupas Wins Easily

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Second-ranked welterweight Ralph Dupas of New Orleans used his ring savvy and phantom fists to pound out a lopsided unanimous decision over Halario Morales of Mexico City last night in a 10-rounder.

Cal, Indians Brace For Hot Opponents

OAKLAND (AP) — California and Stanford have problems. San Jose State and San Francisco State have important games coming up. Pacific and Santa Clara are finished with the 1961 football season and happy about it.

That was the word yesterday at the Northern California Football Writers and Broadcasters luncheon.

Cal and Stanford, who have already had headaches aplenty, face hot teams Saturday. Cal meets Kansas, winner of its last five games. Stanford, with 10 men on the injury list, hosts a Washington State crew that played its best game of the year Saturday in upsetting Oregon.

San Jose State winds up its season at Fresno State against a Bulldog team that's won all eight of its games and is ranked among the nation's top small college teams.

San Francisco State needs a victory against Chico State to tie Humboldt State for the Far Western Conference crown.

Pacific (5-4) and Santa Clara (3-3) wound up their schedules last Saturday night with fine performances.

Quotes from the chow line:

California's Marv Levy: "Our problem is almost 100 per cent defensive—not offensive. Kansas has three All American nominees and they've scored 105 points in the last three games."

Don Pierce, Kansas publicist: "Five more points at the right times and we could be 8-0 instead of 5-2-1. Kansas has a quick, hard hitting line and nine, maybe ten good backs."

Stanford's Jack Curtice: "We've got ten men on the injury list. This was the first Monday I can remember when we called off practice. The kids have to recuperate."

Dick Fry, Washington State publicist: "We thought this was going to be Jim Sutherland's finest team at Washington State but it lacked offensive continuity. We've got the best pass catcher in the country in Hugh Campbell."

Bob Tichenal, San Jose State: "We were lucky to beat Pacific. You couldn't ask any more of our Chon Gallegos. I don't see a quarterback on the coast who compares to him."

Scribes Vote For 'Bama

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Southern California chapter of the Football Writers Association favors Alabama as the West's opponent in the Rose Bowl.

They gave 13 votes to the Crimson Tide at their meeting Monday to 6 for Minnesota and one each to Ohio State and Purdue. No other teams were mentioned.

Southern California or UCLA will be the western representative in the New Years game in Pasadena. They meet here Saturday, Nov. 25, to decide the Big Five title.

Terra Linda, Drake JVs Share Crown

Each clinched 4-1, won-loss, records Saturday morning. Drake crunched Tamalpais 39-19 and Terra Linda routed Redwood 21-0. In the other league game that day, San Rafael rode over Novato, 28-0.

The season ended with Redwood and Tamalpais tied for second with 2-2-1 records. San Rafael is third with 2-3, and Novato sits in the cellar very easily with an 0-5 count.

What's Wrong With The Rams? Nobody Knows, Including Owners

HANLEY

Whatever ails the Los Angeles Rams also is getting to be a pain in the neck to other NFL owners. "What's wrong with the Rams?" is the common question heard all around the NFL circuit. Nobody seems to have the answer, least of all the squabbling Ram owners.

The high level quarrel that has been going on for years between Dan Reeves and the three other Ram owners, Ed Pauley, Fred Levy, Jr., and Hal Seley seems to have permeated the whole Ram organization—and finally where it hurts most, the gate.

Other NFL owners are not interested in the family squabble for power other than its detrimental effect on team play and consequently the gate. No other professional team anywhere ever had the drawing power the Rams did in Los Angeles during the past decade.

The 102,368 fans who jammed into the Coliseum for the 1957 game there between the 49ers and Rams is an all-time NFL record. The Coliseum only seats 101,296. But the 102,368, while topping all crowds, was not the only big one down south.

Ten times the Rams drew 90,000 or more. 100,470 (Bears, 1958); 100,202 (Colts, 1958); 95,985 (Redskins, 1951); 95,082 (49ers, 1958); 94,376 (49ers, 1959); 93,751 (Lions, 1953); 93,621 (49ers, 1954); 90,535 (Packers, 1955); 90,135 (Redskins, 1950).

DURING this same period the Rams drew crowds of between 80,000-90,000 a dozen times and the gates between 70,000-80,000 were innumerable.

Smallest Coliseum crowd to watch a 49er-Ram league game in the last decade was 69,828 in 1956. Last year the two California rivals played before 77,254 paying customers.

And what is the pre-game prediction for this Sunday's game? The official preduction from Jack Teele, Ram publicity man, is 50,000. That's not a cut. That's an amputation.

PART OF the attendance drop down south can be attributed to the general downward trend this year in gate figures all around the country with a few exceptions, such as Kezar Stadium, where the 49er Shotgun successfully bucked the trend.

But the main reason Coliseum figures are sharply off may be traced to mediocre Ram play this season—and that, in turn, may be traced to the top where the power politics boys can't seem to agree.

DIRECTOR OF MONTH

Steve Lato Voted November Honor

The Board of Directors of the Marin Rod and Gun Club have selected Steve Lato as the director of the month.

Here are a few of the reasons: Steve is the vice-president, assistant secretary, secretary of the membership committee, chairman of the planning committee, chairman of our pictures shown at the meetings, chairman of publicity (and by the way he hasn't heard a word from anyone, how about some of those fish stories) and last but not least he is your chairman of the 1962 Sports Show.

STEVE LATO
A hard worker

With all of these duties, you will find Steve at the Clubhouse on weekends and he is working to complete our office and put in a filing system that will be a real help in keeping records.

Steve is also an ardent fisherman and loves to catch a fish bigger than his wife does, whenever he can.

He also loves to write and usually spends most of his evenings writing articles for the benefit of every sportsman.

Series Of Conservation Meetings Is Under Way

First of what is hoped will be a continuous series of conservation meeting was held Oct. 25 at the Marin Rod and Gun clubhouse. G. Paul Jones was appointed chairman, E. A. "Pete" Peters, co-chairman and Frank Short, secretary; others present were Rob Roy, Albert Ferrari, Bernard De Bisschop, Donald Donaldson, Peter Bertoni, Stanley Brooks, John P. "Monte" Marzetta and Willis Evans from the Department of Fish and Game.

The Committee decided that most of its efforts should go towards bettering fishing, hunting and recreation in Marin County. Along these lines the committee decided to work for an increased flow of water down Papermill Creek, so as to enhance the steelhead and salmon runs; review the county's Bolinas master plan with the thought of protecting clamming and fishing rights for the public; review the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project with the hope of protecting and enhancing fish life. Investigate the possibility of cleaning springs in the San Geronimo area so as to keep an increased flow of water going down the lower portion of Papermill Creek during the summer months.

Voted to urge the county supervisors to support a Wildlife Conservation project for construction of a boat ramp and the rebuilding of a fishing pier at the county-owned park located near the Tiburon Net Depot.

Next meeting of the committee is scheduled for 8 p.m., Nov. 15 at the Marin Rod and Gun clubhouse. All club members interested in conservation are invited to attend the meeting, your help and ideas are needed.

Dinner Meeting

The delegates to the Aquatic Resources Committee will hold a dinner meeting at Di Maggio's, Fisherman's Wharf, San Francisco, tomorrow, Nov. 15 at 6 p.m.

Mr. Lawrence Cloyd, manager of Region IV of the Department of Fish and Game will discuss the proposed new Don Pedro Dam

PHEASANTS PLENTIFUL ON OPENING

Hunters by the thousands opened the pheasant season last Saturday.

Results were excellent in many areas on opening day, with the limit being the order of the day.

A high wind in the Sacramento Valley on both days put a damper on the hunting and the birds were hard to find. They kept under cover until flushed.

However, many of us can remember the torrential downpour of last year's opener, along with the lashing south wind.

Hunting under ideal conditions should produce good results as the pheasants are plentiful—the best crop in the past 10 years.

Willows was the mecca for the hunters. In fact, it recalled the old days some 20 years ago.

All accommodations were taxed to capacity as well as the hundreds of trailers parked along the highways. Eating houses and merchants did a thriving business throughout the entire San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys.

Pheasant Club memberships are still available to hunters at $10 per member.

In addition to the closed and open land, state and federal areas are open. The state has five cooperative areas and there are three federally owned wildlife refugees where hunting rights may be secured at a $2 daily fee.

Remember a hunting license and pheasants tags are a must in order to hunt.

Nominating Unit Will Report At Meeting Friday

The regular monthly meeting of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be held on Friday evening at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin at 8 p.m.

The nominating committee will present a slate of prospective members for the Board of Directors at the membership meeting Friday evening. The election will take place place during the December meeting. In addition to those proposed by the committee a member in good standing can be nominated by members from the floor; in this manner a democratic slate can be offered to the members for their selection.

An interesting sports film will be shown also.

THE BAIT BOX

NOTES TO YOU: That time is here again. Nomination of officers in November, that is. Since this is one of the most important meetings of the year, you should make every effort to attend. Don't leave it to the other feller. Do-It-Yourself. Puh-leeze . . . Music to regret by: Jerry Moon has meritoriously earned for himself the title of Unfortunate of the Month. Absent from the last meeting and his card number was drawn for the bait box award . . . Gordon Dixon and co-chairman Leo Ciucci and their committee are working like busy little beavers to get the annual banquet on the road. Gordon suggests you secure your tickets early in view of the usual limitations on seating capacity. You don't want to get left out. Right? . . . The wheels are beginning to turn for the annual sports and boat show. Your reporter has already received several signed contracts from exhibitors and more should be coming in shortly . . . Our Lines Have Tender Drapes: That monofilament fishing line is still draped tenderly over the dispenser, begging to be given away free to members. Bring your empty reel to the meeting. Warren and Jim will be glad to fill it for you.

FRESH DATES: Chalk up these important events on your calendar and be sure to get the dates right. November 15: Conservation meeting at the clubhouse. Chairman Paul Jones would like to see a big turnout at this one . . . November 17: Regular membership meeting. Nomination of officers, no guest speaker this time. The attendance awards will be luscious turkeys for your Thanksgiving dinner! Can you top this? Be sure to bring your family and guests . . . December 2:—details available from Dr. Gail Adams . . . December 9 and 10: Meeting of the California Wildlife Federation — details to be announced at the membership meeting . . . December 16: Club Christmas Party. Those talented youngsters from the Belrose Dance Studio will be entertaining you again. Marge and Dave Belrose promise you a delightful evening. By ALL means, bring the kiddies . . . December 15: Regular membership meeting. Election of officers. If you are at all interested in the running of your organization, you can't afford to miss this one. RSVP —Real Sportsmen Vote Proudly . . . January 15: Jim Bond Show. A humdinger. Jim had to change the date from the 31st to the 15th. Mark ye and mark ye well! . . . January 27: Stag Banquet at Bermuda Palms . . . March 23, 24 and 25: Sports and Boat Show, also at BP.

FISH STORIES: Up to this writing our Fisherman of the Month is J. Cappi for his 9-pound striper taken at the pier. Hang on, J.C. . . . By the way, have you met Al Harris, our new pier keeper. Next time you're at the pier, be sure to say hello to Al. He'll be glad to make your acquaintance . . . Scads of little bass being released at the pier. Bring PLENTY of bait or don't say we didn't warn you . . . My spies tell me that boat fishing alongside the Richmond Bridge is hotter than hot. Limits in an hour's time, up to 5 pounds. That's what the man said.

LEAGUE OF NOTIONS: It seems that the idea of a Marin Rod and Gun Club Bowling League is still just a notion. Without fear of contradiction, it can be truthfully said that the response was underwhelming. A grand total of zero persons signified their intense interest in this program. For the sake of others who were not quite so enthusiastic, here's the story again. We all know that there are plenty of members who go out for bowling in a big way. Well, why not establish a bowling league among our own membership? Your directors have placed their stamp of approval on the idea, but they will not give the green light until they can determine the number of members who would be interested. If you'd like to enter a club league, call President Babe Dahl or Secretary Paul Ware now. Let's start the bowl rolling.

THOUGHTS WHILE THINKING: Wonder how many members and their families are aware of the fine picnic facilities available to them free of charge at the clubhouse grounds. Picnic tables and benches, barbecue pits, running water—and on sale at the nearby clubhouse, smokes and liquid refreshments. All this and a beautiful view of the bay . . . Wonder if the wives of non-member sportsmen realize how much their ever-lovin' mates would appreciate the gift of a membership in the Marin Rod and Gun Club for Christmas. Also, if they know that an applicant joining the club in December receives 13 months of membership for the price of 12. A baker's dozen. . . . Wonder if the fine sound and color film to be shown at

When the seagulls are working on the herring, trolling is good in the area.

Many limits have been taken the past 10 days up to 14 pounds. Trolling spoons and wigglers get the best results.

Si Byrd of San Rafael landed a 25-pound striper at Tomales Bay on bait. He also caught two Silverside salmon, one on bait, the other on a crocodile spoon near Inverness at low tide.

Salmon fishing outside the Gate closed last weekend. During the past 10 days of the season, fishing was exceptionally good and many large fish were taken.

COLD NEWS:

Super Shell's 9 ingredients now include extra Butane for quick starts, Pentane mix for fast warm-ups and an anti-icer to help fight stalling—all tested for top performance in Shell's "40 below" lab

Today's Super Shell gasoline is ready for winter's worst. Reason: it is primed with no fewer than three cold-weather ingredients to help protect your car when temperatures really drop.

Read how those ingredients work—and how Super Shell's winter blend is tested for top performance in a remarkable new laboratory.

Butane helps your engine start promptly on bitter-cold mornings. Pentane mix speeds the warm-up process. And an anti-icer helps guard your carburetor against critical ice build-up that can cause infuriating stalls.

There, Shell scientists can unleash a 100-mile-an-hour wind at the twist of a dial. They can send the temperature plunging to 40 below—or soaring to 125 above.

And they can drive a car in this remarkable room, through many kinds of "weather," without moving it an inch. A machine called a dynamometer does the trick. It turns with the car's wheels—like a treadmill. The car operates just as it would on the road. And the engine doesn't suspect a thing.

1. How Super Shell's winter blend is tested for cold-weather starting

Shell scientists run cold-weather starting tests on a variety of cars. They insist that Super Shell start all of them promptly.

Butane—what it does. Butane is the quick-firing ingredient in Super Shell's winter blend. If you could remove it from the 9-ingredient formula, it would boil and turn to vapor—even when poured on ice! This makes Butane most helpful on a cold morning. Here's why:

Gasoline must turn to vapor before it can start your car. And in cold weather, gasoline doesn't vaporize nearly as fast as it does in summer.

2. How Super Shell's winter blend is tested for fast warm-ups

Again, temperature in the lab is lowered to about zero. A car, filled with Super Shell, soaks up the cold overnight. Next morning, it is started and eased up to cruising speed. Suddenly, the driver pushes the accelerator pedal halfway to the floor. Did the car respond smoothly? Did it surge and fade? From tests like this, Shell engineers and scientists learn how to adjust Super Shell for fast winter warm-ups.

Pentane mix—what it does. Super Shell's talent for smooth running on winter mornings is due largely to its second cold-weather ingredient—Pentane mix.

It works like kindling in a log fire. In this case, the "logs" are the heavier hydrocarbons in gasoline. The lighter Pentane molecules act as "kindling" for the entire blend and help you enjoy top performance sooner.

For this test, humidity is increased and the lab temperature is raised to 40 degrees above zero. Why raise the temperature? Because ice is most likely to form in your carburetor at that temperature—even though it is well above freezing. Here's how:

When you start your car, moisture-laden air flows into the carburetor along with the fuel. As the fuel evaporates, the temperature inside your carburetor drops.

The evaporating fuel cools the area around it—just as evaporating moisture on your skin cools the skin surrounding it. Suddenly, the inside of your carburetor is freezing cold.

The moisture in the air turns to ice. The ice clings to vital carburetor parts and chokes off the air-fuel mixture. Result: you stall.

Super Shell's winter blend, with three cold-weather ingredients, is at Shell stations today. And don't forget all the other ingredients in today's Super Shell (see below). They're working every day you drive, every season of the year, to give your car top performance.

#1 is TCP* for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
#2 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.
#3 is anti-knock mix to resist all kinds of knocks.
#5 is Butane for quick starts.
#6 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for power.
#9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

MRS. HARRY W. JOHNSON of Loch Lomond had hardly unpacked her bags on her return from Europe before she heard the news from Ohio she was a grandmother again. The baby, named Jennifer Susan, was born a week ago today. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Harry Johnson of Cincinnati. They have two other children, Steven, 3, and Christine, 16 months. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Williams of San Marino.

Mrs. Johnson met Miss Katie Jenkins of New Orleans in New York and they flew to Beirut, Lebanon, where they were met by Miss Jenkins' sister, Mrs. Edwin Benson of Kent Woodlands, and her husband. The Bensons, whose home is in Kent Woodlands, and who were in Arabia for more than a year, have now returned to Marin. The four toured Jerusalem and the Holy Land. Then Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Benson and Miss Jenkins went to Turkey, cruised around the Aegean Islands, went to Greece for two weeks and met Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mrs. Hoeter Nelson of San Rafael in Athens. The Nelsons had been in Germany and visited Mrs. Joseph (Lola) Joseph, erstwhile Marinite, at her home in Garmisch. They were going on to Turkey, Italy, Spain and Portugal and will be home on Saturday.

THE FOUNDER of the Belvedere Tennis Club, W. R. D. Cuthbertson, and his wife were honored at the large cocktail party given Sunday by Dr. and Mrs. William Ferguson at their home on the Belvedere Lagoon. The trophy for the men's singles was won by William Slater. This is a continuing trophy and was presented to the club by Mr. Ferguson. It had been won by his father in Singapore in 1895. It is an 18-inch high silver vase, heavily embossed, a Chinese work of art.

They also visited Copenhagen, Venice, Rome, Vienna, Paris and London.

Shaped like a miniature rocket, this new design seems poised for count down and launching when clipped to the branches of the tree. The specially designed spring-clip holds the lamp vertical at all times. The base of each of these lite missiles glows brightly through the colored plastic fins and the bubbling is the "first stage" of the rocket.

Contemporary Art Museum Set For Capital, Thanks To Woman

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

Because a tough-minded little woman wouldn't give up her dream, the nation's capital is going to have a museum of contemporary American art.

Standing sturdily behind the Corcoran Gallery of Art plan for a new wing is Edith G. Halpert, a New York art dealer for 35 years. The Washington gallery that at first said it couldn't afford them, recently agreed to terms she set forth two years ago when she offered about 300 20th century American paintings for permanent exhibition.

"A national gallery has been a real honest-to-God obsession with me for 20 years," says Mrs. Halpert, a peppery, white-haired woman who could be called the grand dame of modern art curators except that she would object to it as too high-toned.

"I think it's a real disgrace. Every other country has its national gallery, and foreigners are appalled to learn we haven't."

"My collection is not entirely representative because I don't like some artists' work and I never handle anything I don't like. But I can get what's needed from others; I'll make every dealer come across."

When she offered her entire collection — she attached strings.

"I made many difficult provisos from their point of view. I insisted on a completely separate unit with separate entrance with just the name 'Twentieth Century American Art,' plus its own curator and air conditioning—more for preservation of the paintings than for comfort of people. And I want an impartial expert to select the paintings to go into the wing.

"Well, the gallery turned it down. But I made up my mind I would put these pictures in Washington if it had to be in a tent."

In the summer of 1959 Mrs. Halpert, who had been appointed curator of the American Art Exhibition in Moscow, engaged in a headlined tiff with President Eisenhower.

When he made it known he didn't think some of the paintings being sent over were typically American, she said he had no business second-guessing competent critics.

Looking back on the hassle, she recalls that Russians crowded to the exhibit to see the woman who had talked back to a president, and remained in her job. "It was a good plug for democracy," she says.

"The Russians were always talking about their art being for the people, and our art expressing the degradation of capitalism. And at the same time some members of our Congress were calling our art Communistic.

"I saw undercover art there with a lot of abstraction, but for the government it has to have three-dimensional realism."

Mrs. Halpert, who speaks Russian, would give talks to art professionals, telling them American art is truly a people's art and enters into every phase of living.

"You can't go anywhere without seeing contemporary art," she says.

"Industry is a big buyer, and I think it's interesting they charge it to public relations and not decorating."

Families Of Working Mothers Tend To Suffer, Study Shows

(Q) "I heard a woman say, the fact that mothers work does not hurt their children. She said that poor relationships caused children's delinquency. This woman is a welfare official, herself a working mother. Was this double-talk?"

C.S.

(A) Yes. It is harder for working mothers to maintain good home relationships than mothers who are with their kids all the time. Work is an important factor. I studied several hundred teen-agers whose mothers had worked when they were tiny. The delinquency rate for them was twice as big as normal. One of the goofy things about official reports on working mothers is that the reports usually are made by working mothers. The ladies often use double-talk to conceal the sad fact that millions of kids whose mothers work don't get a fair break in life.

(Q) "I'm the mother of a 16-year-old girl. Recently I bought her first formal gown and she is in tears because I insisted on a modest neckline. She said the other girls wear formals with low necklines and that she would look like a square. I called the mothers of the other girls and found my daughter was right — most of the children have rather daring gowns. Why do schools let girls go to dances dressed that way? What is wrong with parents who permit it? Or am I at fault?"

Mrs. L.A.

(A) You are not at fault. Teen-age girls have bad judgment and need protection. However, you should not blame the schools. They have rules which teachers do their best to enforce. Girls in immodest clothes are sent home.

Probably the girls' mothers are chiefly at fault. I've talked with many mothers who were angry because their daughters had been sent home from school parties for wearing plunging necklines. They encouraged their girls to go to extremes. Fortunately, teen-agers adjust quickly to new styles —dresses which would have caused riots ten years ago pass almost unnoticed now.

Before Dyeing Cloth, Use Remover Bleach On Stains

By ANNE STERLING

Some people think that stains can be covered up by dyeing, but that isn't true. Dye is deposited evenly over a fabric, so the stained area simply becomes darker. The right method is to remove all the color with a dye remover, then proceed with your dyeing. Never use household bleach to remove color. If you use your home washing machine for dyeing, clean it immediately after dyeing is completed by filling tub with hot water and putting through regular wash cycle with soap and bleach. Remove all traces of dye with a damp cloth, paying particular attention to lint trap and door. You can simplify cleaning by covering door with a material such as pliofilm or aluminum foil before dyeing. Home dyeing can usually be done successfully if the manufacturer's instructions are followed carefully. If in doubt, leave it to the professionals.

Shady Business — Did you ever wonder why deep-pile rugs seem to change color in certain spots? This is what is known in the industry as "shading." The nap of most rugs doesn't stand straight but slopes in one direction. When the nap is "disturbed" (through scuffing, moving furniture, etc.), the direction is changed and the color seems to change. This is not a defect and, in fact, shading is often more noticeable in better carpets because the pile is deeper. Shading can be minimized by using a good rug cushion and by finishing up your vacuum by running the sweeper in the direction of the pile.

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 14, the 318th day of the year with 47 more to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1832, the first streetcar in the world made its appearance on the streets of New York.

In 1851, Herman Melville's story "Moby Dick" was published by Harper and Brothers in New York.

In 1935, President Franklin D. Roosevelt proclaimed the Philippine Islands to be a free commonwealth.

A thought for the day: Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., said: "Life is an end in itself, and the only question as to whether it is worth living is whether you have enough of it.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Thrifty Player Is Willing To Spend Reasonable Amount

A thrifty bridge player isn't stingy. He's willing to spend reasonable amounts, in the form of tricks, to keep the wolf from the door.

A stingy player would go down at three notrump. He would win the first trick with the queen of clubs and cash the king and queen of spades.

When the spades broke badly, the frugal fellow would feel forlorn. Where does he go from here to make nine tricks?

Opening lead — ♣ 4

Harold Ogust, well known New York manufacturer and bridge expert, made the game contract by knowing when to be wasteful. He won the first trick with the queen of clubs and played the spades properly.

EXTRA CHANCE: Ogust gave himself an extra chance when he played the spades. He cashed the king of spades and overtook the queen with the dummy's ace. If both opponents followed, he would lead a third spade to set up the rest of dummy's suit. The ace of clubs would be an entry, and he would win five spades, two clubs and the two red aces.

When the spades failed to break, Ogust was in position to try the diamonds as his extra chance. He led the ten of diamonds from dummy for a finesse. It didn't matter whether East covered or not. South could get back to dummy with the ace of clubs for another diamond finesse if necessary, and could thus be sure of four diamonds, two spades, two clubs and the ace of hearts.

DAILY QUESTION—Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ J 10 8 4
♥ 9
♦ K 6 2
♣ K 10 6 4 3

What do you say?

Answer: Pass. You should not expect to make game with only seven points in high cards. If you bid two clubs, partner will assume that you are using the Stayman Convention, looking for a major suit. Then you will probably get to a worse contract than one notrump unless your partner just happens to have four spade.

Chamber Group Names Committee

The Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce has named a nominating committee of Lawrence A. Mayer, chairman; Donald W. Chapman and Robert A. Walker to present 10 nominees for five directors to be elected for 1962.

Also named by the chamber is a committee to recommend a planner to advise the board on the proposed Mill Valley master plan. It includes Jack R. Lentz, chairman; William A. Hamilton, Harold J. Muller and Ernest Friberg.

A vote was taken to take no action on proposed rezoning of the Bothin property at Miller Avenue and Camino Alto because of "diverse and conflicting opinions of the board and chamber members," Secretary-Manager Granville L. Beedle said.

Sausalito Council

Sausalito City Council will consider final appointment of planning consultant William E. Spangle Jr. at its adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. today in the city hall.

College Electronics Chairman Announced

Roy E. Brown, managing engineer of Fairchild Semiconductor Corporation, was elected chairman of the College of Marin Electronics advisory committee at the group's first organizational meeting of the 1961-62 school year.

Carl Cherry, chairman of the division of science and engineers, was appointed secretary to the committee. Other committee members include William E. Thiele, M. J. Lamperti, Dorsey Behringer, John Kaufman, Charles Walsh and James Staley.

New I-J Electronic "ad machine" brings unheard-of flexibility to advertisers

Here at the I-J, we are now able to offer retailers a new kind of advertising service. For the first time in the history of printing it overcomes the limitations of metal type and the reproduction of illustrations. It's all due to our new quarter-million dollar electronic type-setting equipment that adds the new dimension of flexibility.

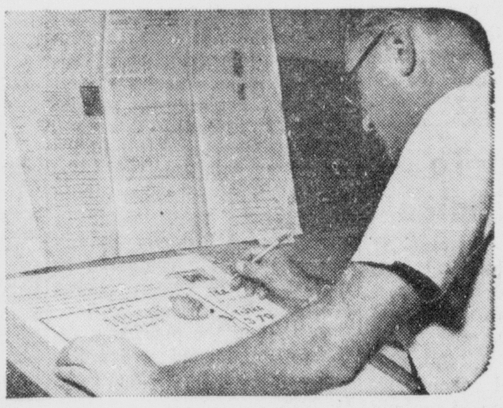

Our "ad machine" can't think, of course; that's the job of the I-J's 8 advertising specialists. They're the idea men; but the machine can put those ideas into black and white so that you get better ads at lower cost. Type can be blown up, reduced, double-printed; illustrations can be pasted right into place—a hundred new advances are now available through electronics. Listed below are the advantages you can count on for your advertising.

Operator pushes a button to change type fonts—Bodoni, Caslon, whatever is needed. He "blows up" type by turning a knob.

Type is "set" on electronically punched tape—all sizes, all kinds. Electronic photography will bring it "alive."

Here's the type, on paper... being pasted up in an ad. Type has been enlarged or reduced photographically to fit exactly.

Here's what it means to you as an advertiser

—special screen effects—no extra charge.

—savings on engravings lowers your total advertising costs.

—faster advertising service; we paste up ads, "pull" proofs by special machine process—saves lock-up and mechanical time.

—we keep files of your art work for future use, saving you time.

Special note:

The electronic system frees you of the cost—and the need—to have engravings made in order to supply us with original artwork. (You can actually photograph merchandise, for example, and we can reproduce it, same size, without charge). All final printing, however, of all advertisements is made from highest-quality engravings.

RARE ITALIAN FIND

An Italian girl examines a sarcophagus found on the site of ruins believed to be those of an ancient Roman city. It was uncovered at Fossato Pezza Secca, near Naples. The site was discovered as a highway was being built.

A MARITIME MIRROR

Two Royal Navy frigates, because they are so similar, present a picture like a mirrored reflection after tying up in the Pool of London. The crafts are the Rhyl (left) and Plymouth, part of the British Home Fleet.

Plans Unit Meeting On Bothin Property

Mill Valley Planning Commission will hold a public hearing at its meeting tonight on a request to change the zoning of the Bothin property from special commercial to a commercial to allow retail sales and service.

The 9.22-acre tract lies across Miller Avenue from Tamalpais High School. In 1960 the city council turned down a request for a permit to allow construction of a bowling alley, shops and a cocktail lounge on the property.

Guilty Plea To Trespass Charge

Kevin Francis Stonum, 31, San Francisco electrical technician, has pleaded guilty to trespassing into a Fairfax summer home last October.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court set Nov. 30 as the date of sentencing.

Fairfax police caught Stonum entering a summer home at 64 Mountain View Avenue on Oct. 20. Stonum was originally charged with burglary but this was dropped. Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth said a misdemeanor trespassing charge was substituted because the house belonged to a relative of Stonum, and he entered only to drink a can of beer.

Probation Given In Escape Case

Alvin Thompson Sr. of Redwood City has been given a suspended state prison sentence, put on probation for three years and sentenced to six months in Marin County Jail with work furlough privileges for conspiracy, helping a San Quentin Prison inmate to escape and then harboring him.

He was sentenced by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Superior Court, before whom he pleaded guilty Oct. 23 to helping Warren Van Sandt, 39, convicted car thief, escape from San Quentin Prison on Sept. 30.

Thompson's son, Alvin Thompson Jr., also serving time in San Quentin for car theft, pleaded innocent before Judge Sims yesterday to helping Van Sandt escape. The judge set his jury trial for Jan. 9, 10 and 11.

Employment Unit Places 516 In Jobs

Job placements made through the San Rafael office of the California State Employment Service reached 516 in October, manager E. W. Ayer reported today.

This is more than double the placements made in October, 1960, when 237 jobs were filled, he said. About 125 of the 516 hired last month were students —86 of them students of College of Marin who were hired through the placement service set up at the college this year.

Unemployment insurance claims fell from a weekly average of 705 in September to 630 in October, lowest point in 1961, he said. However, the figure still is high compared to October, 1960, when claims averaged 430 a week.

Last week job placement offices were opened at San Rafael and Terra Linda High schools.

Students seeking work are interviewed, registered, and screened. If qualified, they are referred to the employer by state personnel working in cooperation with school authorities, Ayer said.

Artist Wins Award

Mill Valley artist Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff has won second place in the New York Times annual awards for the "10 best illustrated children's books" for her illustrations in "Sandpipers." The book was written by Edith Thatcher Hurd, also of Mill Valley.

1961 BUICK SPECIAL

It sells new for just over $3100 but you can buy this one for $2595 with a full new car guarantee of one year and 12,000 miles—just like a brand new one.

It's two tone blue with matching custom interior. This little car has only 7,000 miles on it and hasn't a scratch, dent or show of wear anywhere. It's fully equipped with dynaflow, radio, heater, EZI glass, and brand new white wall tires that we just installed so as to make this car as close to new as possible. It's never been licensed so you would be the first owner of record.

It burns regular gas and gets exceptional mileage for a car that has as much performance as this one has.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Concerto To Have Premier Tonight

The first concerto ever written for four hands, one piano, will receive its world premiere tonight when Milton and Peggy Salkind play the work they commissioned five years ago at their appearance with the Oakland Symphony Orchestra under direction of Gerhard Samuel.

Mill Valley's duo concert pianists and teachers commissioned "The Little Concerto for Piano" from composer Andrew Imbrie, professor at University of California school of music, paying for with money obtained from a series of private "Evenings of Music."

"By the time we raised the money," they said, "about 500 people could have claimed stock in the concerto."

The Salkinds have just returned from a tour of Alaska, where they gave 15 adult concerts and 25 for children, including one for 750 Eskimo students at Sitka. They were the first artists in the history of the "Alaska Music Trail" series to take their children with them. Karen, 10, and Mark, 8, made the trip.

The partition of the Indian subcontinent in 1947 into India and Pakistan set off the largest voluntary migration in history. About 15 million persons moved, the Hindus to India, and Moslems to Pakistan.

LIBERTY IMPAIRED

Doctor Says Drunk Laws Not Right

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Drunkenness and narcotics addiction are not crimes and should not subject a person to arrest, a New York judge said here yesterday.

Chief Justice John M. Murtagh of the New York City Court of Special Sessions, said arrests of such persons was probably unconstitutional and a "very serious impairment of their civil liberties."

He made his statements at a three-day international symposium on "alcohol and civilization" at the University of California Medical Center.

Last year the U. S. Supreme Court reversed a decision in a Kentucky case, he said, ruling that being drunk is not a violation of the law.

New York police, he said, no longer arrest drunks unless they are guilty of such "aggressive" behavior as assault or driving while intoxicated.

He said California's laws on drug addiction were "bad laws" and should be repealed, allowing doctors to treat addicts the same as patients suffering other ailments, instead of only in institutions.

Continuance Is Given Rogers

Robert Burdett Rogers, San Gabriel contractor who has pleaded innocent Oct. 23 to a new charge of wife murder has been granted a continuance in Marin Superior Court to Monday for setting of trial date.

Rogers was convicted of slaying his estranged wife Bertie in San Rafael two years ago and sentenced to five years to life in prison. The State Supreme Court set aside the conviction and ordered a new trial last July.

Enlists In Navy

William Blythe Martin, 18, son of Mrs. Phyllis D. Altmann of 2279 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, enlisted in the Navy Wednesday at the Marin County Navy Recruiting Station in San Rafael. He has been sent to the Naval Training Center in San Diego for recruit training.

Probation Given Check Passer

Nasrollah Maghsoddi, 23, alias Nassrollah Magooei and other names, who pleaded guilty Oct. 16 to two worthless check charges, has been given a six-month suspended county jail sentence and put on two years probation in Marin Superior Court.

Assistant Public Defender Jerome C. Durham told Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. that the defendant, a former Redwood High School student from Iran, who lives in San Francisco, had made full restitution on the checks.

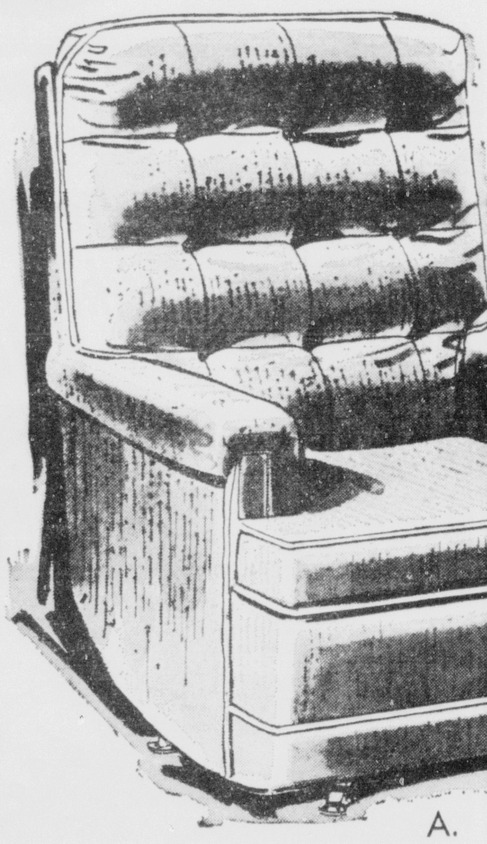

The judge said he must make restitution for "any other checks that may turn up later." He exonerated the youth's $1,050 bail and released him on his own recognizance.
